

Gems of Truth

(Second Series)

Foreword

The present volume comprises the second series tricles by Syr, Jayadayal Goyanda, published from time to time in the columns of the Kalyana-Kalpataru. As mestioned to my introduction to the first series, the stricles were originally written in Hindi for the Kalyan's and were subsequently translated loto English for the benefit of the English-knowing public. The warm reception accorded by the public to the first series has encouraged us to publish this second sates, which I hope will be similarly welcomed. It goes without saying that him its precurror; is will prove to be a handy and valuable manual for those who have an sarcest desire to fread the path of God-Realization and stand in need of a permanent quide to help them along the systic.

Although no pain has been spared to bring out the sense of the original as faithfull not correctly as possible, the translation is ampthing but purfect and on behalf of the translations I carve the indiagence of the many shortcomings which will be noticed therein. On behalf of the publishers as well I would old a word of apology for any misperious that may have indiversally erept in.

With these few words of letreduction I would recommend the volume for a careful study by all those who are interested in spiritual culture and sect to be becomed by the considered visua and ripe superiors of an illumined soul who has not only realised what he says but who extendly lives up to those ideals.

Hanumanprasad Poddar, Editor, Estran'. First Edition, 3,250 Copies, 1945 Second Edition, 5,000 Copies, 1954

Price Re. 0-12-0

Contents

3.	Necessity of Dharma	***
4.	The Happiness and the Means of Its Realis	etion .
5.	Lessons in Devotion and Divine Love	'
6.	The Path of Devotion in the Gita	:
	Devotion coosists in Exclusive Love for G	od 10
	What is God?	10

1. The Duty of Man Our Duty

8. What is God ? Means of Attaining Kalyana (Blessedness) ... 1-

The Philosophy of Blessedness

... 1

10. . 11. God-Realization through Practice of

... 10 Renuncistion The Unmanifest and Manifest Divinity ... 17

The Philosophy of Worship ... 19. ... 20

13. Resity of Davine Knowledge 14. 15. The Incliable Mood of a Juant ... 20

The Duty of Man

A careful study of the modern mind will make it evident that in the present age people, in general, are in a way opposed to spiritual development. Such men are really few and far between who are in earnest about Self-Realization. Even of those few people who strive for it, a large majority know not how to proceed on, Want of faith and devotion has made even real ruides rare. Thanks to the times and environment in which we are living and the peculiarity of our nature, some of us are not able to translate our ideas into action in spite of our desire to practise self-discipline. The main cause responsible for this is ignorance combined with absence of faith in God, the Scriptures and the great sages of yore. But nobody can make a gift of this faith or Staddha Association with those possessing this Sraddha, and austerity, sacrifice, charity and worship of God, practised in a disinterested apirit, are some of the means of parifying the heart, and it is only the pure in heart that are blessed with faith in scriptures and life after death and love for God and Godinspired men. A man is what bis Graddba is. In this life as well as the next Sraddha is his only support. The Git saresages of old, you should certainly believe at least in the teachings of Srimad Bhagaradgila. For the teachings of the Gild are in harmony with the teachings of almost all the different religious of the world.

If you do not believe even in the GUA, you have conceived of Rim and, surrendering yourself to Rim, apply yourself in right extrest to the work of Self-realization. Supposing you doubt even the existence of God, you should select the best man of the age and arm yourself with sufficient course to follow in his flootteps.

If you cannot repose faith in any saint or great man of the present age, you should nause to consider whether there is no one superior to you in the whole world so far as the knowledge of the path of blessedness is concerned. If you allege that such men do exist but you have no yet come across any such person, it is your duty to find them ont: or, if you think that then are many people superior to you but people who can ably instruct you in the Law of Highe Life are few and far between and those few who exist are not easily accessible to melacking in faith and cannot be recognize even if we happen to meet such persons, havin not the eves wherewith to recognize them, it i essential for you to consider whether the sort of life you are leading is conducive to cour tra सरसञ्जूष्या सर्वतः अदा मति आतः। अदामपीऽर्वे पुरुषी मी यण्ड्रदः स युव सः॥ (2)

"Arjuna, the faith of each is shaped own mental constitution. Faith confibered by being of man; therefore, which manual this nature of his faith, that verily he is."

Therefore one shared to be a provided to the manual transfer of the faith of the confidence of th

Therefore one should try to acquire faith.

In whatever name or form of God repose your faith, you will undoubtedly considered to have faith in Him; for all na and forms are His. You may repose faith in follow any religion which appeals to you, Rsi. Mahatma or God-inspired man who is wor of credence to you. All that is needed is Stade or faith. God, religion and life after death, e or things which can only be believed for t main part. It is after repeated efforts and ha processing struggle that one obtains a dire perception of these truths. For the realization of these higher truths one cannot do withou reposing faith in some one, at least, in the begin ning. If one does not do so, he is sure to turn an atheist and deviate from the path of hiessedness. Nay, he will never enter the path of Godrealization and will go down in the scale of spiritual evolution.

If you do not believe in any particular religion, scripture or the utterances of saints and are doing, you should at least exert yourself and more for your advancement day by day. should cultivate virtues like serenity, sell-co fortitude, forgiveness, composure of mind, com ment, turthfulness and compassion, should pra Japa, austerity, meditation and service, and give vices like sloth, mendacity, sensuality, duplicity, th ing and adultery. Before undertaking any work should carefully consider whether what he is go to do is really conducive of good to him and cort at once whatever defect appears to him there Human birth is rare gift. Even lacs of rop well-being. If you are satisfied with wha cannot prolong one's life even he a minu Such a valuable life should never he wasted sleep, lethargy, idle pussuits and indolence, An one who passes his time listlessly is hound come to grief. A Hindi poet has heautifully said-"One who takes up any work without du consideration of its pros and cons surely come: to gricl. Not only does be spoil the work and become an object of laughter in the eyes of the world, but he loses his peace of mind, and the pleasures of the world lose all charm for him. Giradhar, the poet, says that the laws of Karma are inexorable. A work done without due consideration pricks the heart like a spike." • दिना दिचारे भी करे हो पाछे पंछिताय । क्षाम वियारे मापनी जगरें होत हैंसाव स अगरे हीत हैंसाय दिएमें चैन म बारे । साज पान सरमान राण हैंव मन नहि मारे ॥ is extremely difficult to get over; those, however, who takerstage in Me alone cross it."

To visualize the Lord at all places and in all things, constant unfailing remembrance of God and acting according to His commandments constitute self-aurender to God. This is also called one-pointed and exclusive devotion (APA MS*) to the Lord.

Therefore to take refuge in God is the foremost duty of those who believe in God. On Intertore to take tenue in Good is transforment duty of those who believe in God. On who completely surrenders himsell to Illim car mover pergitarie anything which is opposed the will of the Lord. He attains a state which is helped and left and l lile and, exercising self-control, should devote simself whole-heartedly to practices which insure is permanent good here us well as bereafter. dle pursuits, lethargy, enjoyment of sense-objects and immoral practices ought to he given up as

Therefore, the only wise thing for him is that he should be vigilant every moment of his

he greatest stumbling-blocks on this path. Smit xhorts as follows:-उत्तिष्ठत जामत प्राप्य वराधिबीधत।

धुरस्य घारा निश्चिता दुरस्या पमस्तरक वयो बद्दन्ति ॥ (Kajhojanijad, Lill 16)

"Arise, awake and, approaching greet souls receive instruction from them. The wise say that the road to difficult to treed; it ie like treeding on the charp edge of a rezor."

But, because the road is very difficult, one ould not lose heart. By fixing one's mind on d, one can easily susmount all diffeulties rough His grace-ध्यश्चितः सर्वेडुगौणि सध्यसादात्तरिष्यति ।° The Lord Jurther says:--

हैश्चे होवा गुणमयी सम सावा दुरत्यमा । माहेर से प्रशासनी सावासेता तरन्ति ते ब

- (Ous, VIL 14)

"For this wonderful illust consist.

ing of the three Guna to carry out the same, and what are the obstacles on account of which he cannot make the best of effort, inspite of his desire to do the same.

Man's first and foremost duty is to elevate his Sell. The Lord says, "Man should elevate himself by the Self, he should not cause the self to go down." It should be, therefore, considered what is the self's elevation, and wherein lies its degradation.

Gradual increase, in the present and in the luture, within oneself of [spiritual] Knowledge. (supreme) Happiness, (unbroken) Peace and the spirit of impartial justice is elevation of the self: and contrary to this, turning of the mind towneds ignorance, error, unrest and injustice, is degradation of the self.' Forming constantly the habit of selfexamination, man should devote himself to the effort at self-clevation and restrain himself from acts that lead to degradation. In this world, association is the primary cause of the soul's elevation or degradation. Association with him who has already elevated himself or is established in the path of apiritual elevation, is belviul to the soul's elevation; and association with him who is already fallen, or is gradually advancing towards a spiritual fall, fosters the soul's degradation. Therefore, it is proper to associate constantly with high and elevated souls. through the pointed and subtle intellect, by men of subtle sight."

The Lord Himself says:-

सुन्यमान्यन्तिकं यत्तर् बुद्धिशद्यमनीन्द्रयम् । वेशि यत्र न चैवायं नियतश्रक्षति तत्त्वतः ॥

(Gud, VI.21)
"Nay, in which the sont experiences the eternal and supersersnoss joy which can be apprehended only through subtle said acute reason, and wherein established the said

Togt moves not from Truth."

Every human being should endeavour to tain this state: it is the paramount duty of all.

Our Duty

If we turn our attention to our duty, in ost cases it will be found that we are lacking diligence in the performance of it. A rutiny will reveal defects at every atep. Inten crave for progress, and consider it men crave for production of the camination will reveal many predisposition stand in the way of their fort. Not only show, but heing had to sto what to do, they fall from.

o progress.

Therefore at the outset it s out what is man's duty, how h Smrtis. An importial consideration of the duty of man as a whole produces the conviction that the Lord and raler of this universe is one and the same God. Almost all religious sects of the world, and schools of thought, cultivate faith in Him alone, in one form or another, and seek to draw their followers towards Him. Whatever books those sects and schools of thought regard as their holy scriptures, for them those very books are the scriptures, oe authoritative books of their religion. For a person following a particular religion, adherence to all practices followed and advocated by the best ancients famous for their right conduct according to that religion, would be equivalent to following the scriptures. Such injunctions alone of the scriptures should be actually practised as appear good and heneficial to the intellect, when put to the crucible of reason. A man may be a good man, but we should imitate only such of his conduct as appear to our reasoning as best and highest Such of his conduct as appear to us to be injurious. unworthy and of doubtful value should not be accepted as the standard of right conduct.

In case the association of a person, who has either already attained blessedness or base advanced towards blessedness, is not gained, or in case the heart recoils from the belief that anyone has attained to that state, one should pray to God for gaining the association of such a saintly soul, in the following strain,—"O Lord.

He who is free from s hypocrisy and anger, who do prestike or personal worshi exceptionally pure, whose sight to the advancement of love for bring peace to the heart, an belief in God, the other wo pure scriptures incline one t should be regarded a birch should be regarded a bigo Holding as a model the flawl high, saintly souls, whether a should imitate them, and carry and regulate one's life t what appears to ope's intell conductive to bilas and peac Manu says:— Res replat repeat the a grangled mgs suprode and section white heart-these fo of Dharma."

Here the qu for those who do Smṛtis? Is it nee the Srutis and S the Srutis and and I am parti if I sasert that conduct besides

"The Vedae, Smrtt

O Surreme Soul, O my Master, graciously rie in contact with such great souls a merzed in Your Love with a sincere and heart. Il God is approached repeatedly such prayer, through His grace the pro-such prayer, through His grace the pract will surely gain contact with a saint lavou to his sentiments.

Here, again, the question arises that his he alone who he faith in God can offer per to God. It is possible for helievers in God have faith in saints and in the scriptures what is the duty of one who believes neither God, nor in life after death, nor in the scriptur nor in the saints?

The answer to this is that though it condition of such people is most deplorab nevertheless they also can follow the means their souls' elevation according to their ligh Such people should seek contact with person who appear to their reason as superior to them In this world, both among confirmed idiots and the wisest of men, it is almost generally helieved that there are people who are superior to them as well as inferior. Therefore, holding him as ideal, who appears to one's reason as noble, high, discriminative, pure-hearted, possessed of right conduct as well as learning, one should disinterestedly imitate his good actions. If due to foolishness, conceit or any other reason, he fails altogether to regard anyone as superior to him, he should carefully put everything to the test of reason.

to redeem his soul. Subduing the impulses of evil associated with the ego, consisting of pairs of opposites like attraction and repulsion, when the conscience or Discrimination is awakened, everything is likely to be set right. This is performance of duty.

Now, it should be considered that although almost all men attempt to elevate themselves according to their light, their attempt does not meet with success. What are the principal obstacles which always hinder them from advancing along the path of progress? The answer to this is that due to evil association and evil habits they have raised so many obstacles, hence they cannot keep along the path of true progress The following are the principal among them.—

(1) Attachment—The tendency of the mind which draws one to enjoyment of worldly things like lood and dress and other objects of luxury, as sweet to the senses, is called Attachment. Man understands through reasoning that adultery is an evil, a sin. It is injurious to both the body and intellect to use a particular article of consumption. But Desire in the form of sense of enjoyment, clouding bis Discrimination, drays him to the commission of those evils. Being overcome by this Attachment, the senses fortibly dray the mind and drown it in the ocean of world!

्काम एप क्रीध एप रजोगुणसमुद्र महादानो महापाप्मा विद्युचेनमिह वैरिण

"It is desire, it is wrath, begot element of Rajas, insatiable a wicked; know this to be the this case."

Proceeding further the Lord pot that it is enemies like Desire, etc., statechment in the form of attraction, extended their sovereignty over man's the mind. Therefore, first, releasing the and the mind from their bandage, evil like Desire should be eradicated. It is the power of the practicant to do this. why the Lord said—

इन्द्रियाणि पराण्याद्विनिवयेणा परं मतः । मतसस्तु पतं चुविणे चुवे परतस्तु सः ॥ एवं चुवेः परं चुर्ष्या संस्थयासातमाग्यतः ॥ चवि सर्जु भशावशे कामरूपं दुस्तगरम् ॥ (१०१८) ॥

"The searce are seld to be greater the body; but greater than the seawes or mind. Greater then the mind it is in lais and what is greater than the intellect is he self!. Thus Arpens, knowled that while higher than the intellect and aphanog mind by reason. All! this accomy in grow of Desire, that is hard to overcon

According to these words of the Lord, a should attempt with greater and greater vig cheat others, to commit the most reprehensible acts for the sake of money become almost like a habit with the man of Greed. It is most difficult for a man of Greed, who regards accumulation of wealth as the object of life, to earn virtue. Therefore, depending on God and the law of Perandhia (action which has begun to bear fruit 1). Greed should be renounted. Liust, Anger and Greed these three have been described in the Gid as doors leading to hell, destructive of the soul (XVI. 21).

- (4) Fear-When this appears man gives un fortitude and presently takes to sin. He who fearlessly proceeds along the path of enquity and does not give un fortitude in the face of even the preatest of difficulties, does never suffer a fall. whether here or elsewhere. If God is visualized everywhere, then, fear can never exist, but through the practice of reasoning, bolding fast to fortifule at heart, or even through recourse to heroism and courage, man can be Realizing this one should fearless. always try to remain fearless. Unnerveby fear, one should never yield to wrong
 - (5) Hypocrisy-Concealing the evils in oneself, to show, out of greed, fear of enjoyment (Gu2, 11.60). This impa of Desire should certainty be endicant. To whatever ubjects the mind may attracted, analysing their point of virit as well as evil, one should oppose of tenounce with all his strength, of through Discrimination, what appear to be evil, or tending to bring suffering in the erd, and welcome what appear free from evil and suffering.

- (2) Hatred-Transforming itself into Auget it destroys the power of reasoning a between right and wrong and forces man to commit whatever evil it dikes Just as when lust is roused, man can commit any form of erime, even so be will not hesitate to commit the greatest of crimes under the impulse of anger. Therefore, hatred should never be allowed to find a place in the heart. Whenever Anger is roused against anyhody, that very instant one should be forewarned and take recourse to Discrimination. Action taken under the impulse of Anger brings terrible suffering in future
- (3) Greed-Men of discrimination bave described Greed as the begetter of sin-When Greed 'is roused, thoughts of propriety and impropriety, truth and untruth cannot stand. To deceive and up, because they appear pleasant in the ning due to our insensibility. For instance-(a) Depending on another's support, leading the life of a parasite:-He who is not self-dependent, who lives upon the earnings of another, or lives under another's protection, can never elevate his thoughts. He has to surrender his ideas to the ideas of his protector. There may be occasions when he will commit even the murder of his best be self-dependent. (b) Ordering others for one's physical comfort and enjoyment, or accepting service from others - This habit has made us both worthless and arrogant. It has almost destroyed the spirit of equality. Therefore, one should, as far as possible, never accept service from thoughts. Through constant suppression of his ideas, the process of germination of new good thoughts stops and like the body, his reason as well as conscience become dependent on another. Therefore, one should try as far as possible, to ignorance, in the interest of wellhomogene genetics, yould points which and not gille these not poscess, or make special and impressive exhibition and consil media, is called beyond

This wal is a great characle in the path of blessedness. Of all the principal expers which test to a pricticant's shanntall, this is pirticularly harmful. fivils fike untruth, deceit, mjustice, etc. remain naturally hid fon within the womb of Hypocrisy. A hypocrite feels that he is cheating others, but as a matter of fact, he is himself cheated. Even meritorious deeds like performance ol sacrifice, charities, etc., done in 4 hypocritical spirit, get exhausted; not only so, in particular cases, the does earns sin instead of virtue. Therefore, a discerning man should carefully save himself from this evil. The present-day world is widely inlected with this evil.

It has become difficult to find a single person even among thousands, who may be totally free from the evil of Hypocrisy.

The five evils mentioned above are the imary defects. But besides them we have med many habits as compel us to fall from path of good. Though perceived by reason path of path armfut, we do not want to give directly harmfut, we do not want to give

- d) Indolence, lack of diligence or wil neglect of duty-Postponing the da work for the morrow, and doing work a half-hearted manner only, these extremely bad habits. For one whe subject to these babit, if is extrem difficult to tisse, whether in this we or the next. Time is short, the p is long. Before death comes, and body becomes a prey to aliments, abould extractly devote oneself to performance of one's duty. The mon an opportunity presents itself to virtuous deed, one should be prey immediately to perform it withenthus!
 - (e) Disobedience to parents and c eldern-This habit is on the inco nowadays, specially among the educ Continuation of disobedience to loving behests of experience elder a great obstacle in starting one's m in the path of blessedness. The the blessings of elders, longe learning, fame and strength are incre From their words of advice laden the wisdom of experience, we con discern the way of providing for means of life Therefore, as fapossible one should be diligent earrying out the wishes of the e to earn money by questionable me man suffers an all-round degrada What wrong does not one, who slave to wealth, commit? Imita the ways of men who are wealtheir t us, we have so much raised our d expenses, expenses of food, cloth and social practices like marriage, that our life has become full of greatest sorrow and unrest on acco of the same. That is why we b come to regard no means of earn money as illegitimate. Irrespective whether Dharma is lost, justice murdered, or sufferings of the coun community or neighbours are aggrava we must have our pockets filled. this abnormal growth of the greed this abnormal growth of the greed wealth, in which considerations of just or injustice have no place, the babli indulgiog to unnecessary expenditure primary cause. He who suffers from growth cooncessary devote himself spiritual discipline or the work of selevation. Therefore, man show elevation. Therefore, man show attempt, as far as possible, to cut do his needs. He should bring down the superfection of the state of for honour, fame and prestige is better than the indolent, worldly-minded person, nevertheless in the case of seekers of spiritual good, bonour and fame do the greatest injury. Practices which may bring them attainment of the Paramatma (God), the Gem of incalculable value, they lose in exchange for name and fame. Desire for name and fame is a terrible deep-seated, contagious disease which remains hidden within the inmost recesses of the heart. lŧ found even in those who renounce wife, ehildren and riebes. Man cannot easily free himself wholly from this disease although he may realize reason that it is an earl. The cerm of this disease is spread over the whole world. Hardly even one amone crores of people may be found to be free from this contagion. The total destruction of this craving takes place only when the truth about God is realized: but even before that through persistent effort it can be sufficientle brought under control. Therefore, one should ever persevere in the attempt to bring about its destruction. In this effort also care must be taken that there mer no: grow, in return, improver obstinger as well as hypocrisv.

) Indulgence in backbiting, praise and unnecessary tittle-tattle-Indulgence in reproach and praise of others, or unnecessary gossip, appears quite sweet to man, Among these scandal and gossip are the dearest. In reproach, praise and gossip loopboles are found for untruth, hatred and hypocrisy. Therefore, backbiting and unnecessary gossip should never be indulged in. Praise of another out of a selfish motive is also extremely had. Attribution of excessive merits not present in a person, for serving some self-interest, is to deceive him. The praise of a man, in appropriate words, when it is desirable, doe lead to any harm to th offerer of praise.

(g) Seeking honour or social prestige, an welcoming the same when receiveds Like the tickle of the ringworm, it is a extremely agreeable disease, which thous extremely appearing in the beginning appearing pleasant in the beginning est of o very excl in dispos n perforn hon arrenderli and fin deeds ev

other ideas superior to them. According to s light everyone should find out what is neficial to bim, and act in conformity with e same. Whatever appears undisputedly good the intellect should never be renounced under ie influence of any attachment whatsoever. leyond this, what else can man do? ries to elevate the self with the help of discriminaion and reason, generally attains success, and one who surrendering bimself to God takes o the practice of a discipline in search of God, secording to his own lights, regarding that to be an aspiration coming from God, is assured of success. Jut of twenty-four hours of the day and night, man should generally spend six hours in the practice of Yoga, or performance of spiritual duty, six hours in earning livelihood by legitimate and righteous means, six hours in taking care of the body and six hours in sleep.

-

Necessity of Dharma

The unanimous verdict of the Vedas, Sastras and the Purapas is that the universe rests on Dharma (the Divine Law), that Dharma alone fulids human life, that Dharma alone guards man argainst sins and usbers him into a higher life; nay, it is Dharma alone which enables the soul to cross the great occan of pain in this as well to cross the great occan of pain in this as well.

that very term or ldes of God. I routh of belief, however, should traviorable belief however, should traviorable belief however, should traviorable belief however, should traviorable belief the standard of every belief is thought of every belief in the belief that the standard however belief the standard traves, all known primeval, eternal and the suprema Law streams and the suprema reached categories and the suprema reached Greater than He in respect of the virtues, or even His equal, there here, or is, none in the world, not the standard or the supreme reached.

ever can be.

) Through the mind, speech and body such efforts as appear to reason to be highly heneficial for spiritual good should be constantly made distincterestedly. Strictness should be observed in carrying out what has been comprehended at duty. There should be no lapse in the performance of duty out of greed, fear, selfishness, ignorance or any other reason whatsoever.

Less six are worthy of being understood in the special sense of the term. All ave written, in short, according to my anderstanding. It is possible, they may the worthy of consideration, or there may the worthy of consideration, or there may have denied the existence of Godi but they too never denounced Dharma. The greatest unbelievers have espoused the cause of righteousness and observed the laws of morality even with a view to making the world happy. The conception of Dharma might have differed with the different people at different times, but the causes of Dharma have been followed in every country and by the people of every nationality.

This anti-religious movement is not progressing in Russia alone but the seeds of it bave been sown even in other parts of Europe, as well as in America, Asia and Africa and among Christians. Buddhists and Mohammedans alike. What is to be regretted all the more is the fact that even in our own country, which has always regarded religion as its very life, some people, who are ignorant about the true nature of God and Religion, have begun to allege that "Dharma alone has brought about our ruin, that it is Dharma which has robbed the country of its independence and made us a subject nation, and that Dharma and Dharma alone is the main obstacle in the path of our all-round progress." Those who profess and believe like that look upon all believers in God and Religion as deluded fools. They are not able to realize their own mistake and it is rather difficult for them to do so: for when a man begins to look upon himself as the wisest and most learned of all, he does not appreciate even the best advice offered to him by anyone

s. This is also corroborated by the utterances aints and godly men as well as by the conduct great men. The authors of Hindu Sastras and idu saints bave proclaimed this truth with at emphasis, while other nationalities too re always accorded a bizh place to relizionof them have recognized their strength in arma alone. So far it bas been beld in all arters that without Dharma a man's life is juced to the life of a beast. But of late a new rrent of thought bas set in in the world. hereas in the past Dharma was regarded as one the principal means of edifying our life, some ople have now begun to look upon it as a use of our degeneration.

Some years ago it was published in certain ewspapers that, pressed by the Anti-God Society Russia, the Soviet Union issued a proclamation rbidding its members to join any felizious anction. Prior to this we had never heard of od being thus tabooed by ordinance. Of course, n Purapas we come across instances of such pen defiance of God by Demon Kings like Hiranyakasipu who persecuted his own child, problada, for the latter's devotion to Srt Harl-Even in the Lingdom of Rayana whose rule has become synonymous with a rule of terror, perhaps there was no such crdinance against percapi belief in God Otherwise low could a God-loving ocitics with the ling of the ling of the ling of the soul like Vibbiston live in that Lingdom | True, from time immemorial there have been people who and summapurage has enumerated the following fundamental principles of Dharms, viz., continence, truthininess, performance of the five daily sacrifices (98 whose), a charity, practice of self-restraint, forgiveness, harmlessness, tranquillity and none-thieving t Now, is it possible for any nation or individual to be happy or progressive, who is a slave to mind and senses, lacking in intellect and wisdom, devoid of truth and forgiveness, impure in mind, speech, and bady, given to bloody acts, lacking in reace of mind, not practising charity, and given to usuroung other's property ? Is it not absolutely necessary for every nation or individual seeking advancement to possers these essential characteristics of Dharma ? Can a nation lacking in these fundamentals of Dharma prosper in the world? Let those who seek to destroy all trace of religion consider this anation galacte as in the us movement, although sc s well as inference and reasonin; lude that this will land the t woe. A man who does not ret becomes licentious and as the nur creases the fire of hatred and ani and the result is universal sufferi a alone makes a man self-cont

h is conflicting with his own t say what will be the result forbearing, heroic, dutiful, and a s ses. Dharma alone teaches us ompassion, harmlessness, forgive n, service, truthfulness and contin lanu has recognized ten esse of Dharma, viz., fortitude, forgive bstaining from theft, purity of s tery of the senses, a pure intel fulness and absence of wrath. ahābhārata it is said: of enmity with all creatures, word and deed, compassion on rity-these constitute the eter f the virtuous."f धमा दमोऽस्तेयं शीचमिन्द्रियनिमदः श (VL S

सरवमकोषी दशकं धर्मकणणम् ॥

सर्वभूतेत्र कर्मणा सनसा गिरा ।

visit the blissful heaven without taking his faithful dog with him. That is why their names are still remembered with reverence, although they cast off their mortal frames hundreds and thousands of years ago. If Dharma is lost, everything is lost, if Dharma leaves us with all its accessories, it will become easier for evil-minded people to loot others' property and kidnan others' wives, to persecute the poor and to do whatever they like. The very idea of a world without Dharma is shocking to a thoughtful mind. Hence those who have some regard for Dharma should gird up their loins to do all they can for the preservation of Dharma. They should apply themselves to the task of propagating religious literature, broadcasting pure ideas of Dharma and investigating and preaching the subtle truths of Dharma. At the same time ther should gather such motal strength by practising Dharma that they may be able successfully to stem the tide of this anti-religious movement. Our Sanatans Dharma has no quarrel with other religions. The Makabharata save-worldly enjoyment as true happiness. They have become oblivious of the supreme truth that material enjoyment, derived from contact between the senses and their objects, is perishable, momentary and in its ultimate effect, pain in discuise.

Many of our modern western-educated friends who regard themselves as thoughtful wise and experts in argument, through their association with Englishmen, and at the sight of the latter's love, luxury and sensuality, are getting fascinated with the mirage of Western civilization, neglecting our ancient, ideal civilization. through lack of understanding of the subtle truths of Dharma enunciated in the Vedas. The faith that the judgment, reasoning and wisdom of our ancient sages who possessed knowledge of the past present and future were infinitely superior to that of ours, and that whatever means they have laid down for our growth and development were the best means for realizing true happiness, has almost disappeared from their bearts. There is need to convert such friends through argument, and attract them towards the succept ideal. The welfare of ma all ties in this.

Such friends, if they probe into the matter, will realize that in reality Western tivilization is ruinous to our country, religion, wealth, happiness, nation and our span of life on earth; and that it is due to its contact with this civilization that We wonder how does the question stice abandoning such a universal Dharma. In this connection we should remember the following memorable words of Lord Manus-

"Notible one's parents nor one's son, will or other relations at and him in good stead it the life beyond death. Dharms alone state by him there. One's relatives leave his dead body like a leg of wood or a olod of earth on the ground and come away to their homes; Dharms alone accompanies him site death. One should, therefore, gradelly accomplate merit day by day to serve him in the next world. With Dharms his side one creese over even the insurmountable barrier of derivanes,"

True Happiness and the Means of

Its Realization

The Evil of Materialism

Nowadays the majority of people, whether doested or medicated, are engaged only in trempts for their material advancement, recording

बारूप हि सरागर्वित समा च विष्ताः। ब दुष्तप्ताः स वर्षन्त्रेरिप्यति केस्या स वर्ष कार्यन्त्रप्ताः सार्वपेषयं तिति।
 हर्ण कार्यन्त्रप्ताः स्ति प्रतिन्तुत्रप्ताति स
 कार्यार्वे स्त्रप्ताः स्ति प्रतिन्तुत्रप्ताति ।
 कार्यार्वे स्त्रप्ताः स्ति स्ति व्यवत्रप्तान्ति । वर्षेण वि सार्वेन स्त्रप्ताति हुण्यत् ॥

2000

our country, being led away from honoured religious path, has taken to downward course. That is why to nation appears to advancing tow.

nation appears to be advanceus where the continuous terms and inverty, ideals unworth, it is nothing but a tragedy to it is nothing but a tragedy to happiness from a civilization which it even our worldly felicity.

A nation gets destroyed when it dress, language, customary food or its dress, language, customary for standard of right conduct. It is retained of right conduct.

while protecting these four, does n while protecting these four, does n its ideal. Therefore, we should make its ideal. Therefore, we should make to imitate the habits, dress and mann to imitate the habits, dress and po

"One's own duty, though devot is preferable to the duty of performed. Even death in the performed and the priors blessed don's fraught with tear."
The Hindu nation and the fil

The Hiddu nation and the it to deteriorate, when the fit began to deteriorate imitate the Muslim rule began to Within a feel with the feel rulers. Within a cow, Brahmana and temples now became their enemies. This was nothing but the evil effect of the imitation of Muslim culture and Muslim habits and ideas.

eight crore Muslims, 1

At the present time, the English are the rulers of the land, English education is being propagated in every corner of the country. Contact with the English is duily increasing. That is why today English dress, language, food and manners are being rapidly adopted by the people of our nation. Simultaneously, Hindu religion and the Hindu nation are on the decline and the influence of Christianity is growing. This calamity is taking place before our eyes; it does not require any proof. Renunciation of national culture and sentiments in imitation of others leads to this inevitable result.

Therefore, all our people should strongly realize the fact that Western culture and its ministation are in no way beneficial to us. They lead to the destruction of our religious sentiments, and making ur run after material advancement, compel us to remain deprived of our true welfare.

True Happiness

Every intelligent person can, if he considers the problem, realize that through the attainment of bitth as a human being, some exceptional gain must occure to us. Food, drink, sleep, if joy of procreation and other forms of world enjoyment can be gained even in lower form of life like that of beasts and insects. If the life of a human being is wasted only in the attainment of this joy, what do we achieve through the haman birth? The supreme going the haman birth? The supreme going true happiness, the like of which there is nothing in the world. That happiness is 'God-Reslitztion' in the world. That happiness is 'God-Reslitztion'.

Why Religious Practices are Ignored?

But Although this is so, regarding the possession of wealth, woman, children and oth forms of seose-enjoyment only as suprem happings the majority of people remain inlatnated wit them. Dutiful men who strive for real happings are met with few and far between.

The Lord said -

सनुत्पाणां सहसेतु कहिचयति सिद्धे। कतरामपि सिद्धानों कहिचनमां वेति तस्वतः॥

(Gul, VIL)

"Of thouseuds of men some rare soul strives to realize Me; of those ctriving Yogts, egeln, some rare one (devoting himself exclusively to Me) knows Me in racitir."

According to this stetement of the Lord, nowadays also among the few, who strive for the attsinment of true beppiness, scarce and climbs up to the finel storey of achievement. a little practice. They themselves to a superi understanding, the following may be the cause

The majority of practi

- understanding, the following may be the cause of their lack of success—

 1) Ounlified propagators of this teaching
 - are very lew in the world. For men of renunciation, learning, and right conduct, capable of hard labour, and true saints alone, can be the propagators of
 - capable of hard labour, and true saints alone, can be the propagators of this teaching.

 (2) Being satisfied with slight improvements practicants do not feel any need
 - practicants do not feel any need for great spiritual efforts.

 (3) Some practicants get tired after pursuing a little amount of practice. They
 - 3) Some practicants get tired after pursuing a little amount of practice. They find themselves at their wit's end considering their discipline to be of no particular benefit to them.
 - particular benefit to them.

 (4) People generally lack faith in the attainment of true happiness, for as in sense-enjoyments, pleasure is not experienced in the initial stages of the spititual practice. This contributes to lack of diligence in the practice.

(3) Some people regard the attainment of this happiness as beyond their power, and therefore remain sunk in despair.

Besides these, some other causes also may be mentioned; but among them all, ignorance.

or lack of difference alone is the primary cause. Man should, therefore, devote himself to the performance of his duty with care and diligence.

Means of Realization of True Happiness The Stuti save-

जापन प्राप्य वरान निवीधन। द्युरस्य भारा निशाता द्वरत्यया हुर्गं वयस्तकायो बहन्ति ह (Kajha. Us I. 111 1'

"Arise (strive for religious practice), awai (from the sleep of ignorance), and approach ing the saints understand the path which the learned describe as difficult and han to tread as the sharp edge of a razor." Therefore, not the least delay should be made in taking to the practice which leads to the attainment of supreme hiessedness and supreme happiness in the form of God-Realization-This is the highest duty of a human being; this is happiness in the greatest and truest form. Describing the glory of this happiness, the Lord says:-

स्समारयन्तिकं यसद्बुद्धिप्राद्धमतीन्द्रयस् । वेक्ति यत्र न चैवार्थ स्थितर्चलित तत्त्वतः ॥

(Gu3. VL 21) "Nav. in which the soul experiences the sternal and super-sensuous joy which can be apprehended only through subtle and scute resect, and wherein established the said

यं छरवा चापरं छाजं अन्यते नाधिकं ततः । यसिन रियतो न दःश्वेन ग्रहणादि विचाव्यते॥

[Guā. vI. 22)

"And having obtained which he does not recken any other gain as greater then that, and established in which he is not moved even by great sofrow."

Again—

तं विचाद् दुःलसंयोगवियोगं योगसंदितम्।

स निरुवयेन योशस्यो योगोऽनिर्विण्यचेतसा ॥

(Qua, VL 23)

"That state called Yors, which is free from the contact of pair (to the form of tracumigration), should be known. Nay, this Togs should be resolutely practiced with an unwarded mind."

Though the means for the attainment of this true happiness is somewhat difficult, it is not altogether impossible of being accomplished. Even if difficult, it becomes wholly simple, smooth and exceptionally easy, when one takes tetage in Ged. The Lord makes the definite promise in the Guk—

मां द्वि वार्षे व्यवस्थित्व देश्व स्त्रुः पायपोत्रयः । स्त्रियो चैरपालया स्त्रुपत्तेश्वे वाश्यि वर्षे गतिस् ॥ (१८) | (६) पुत्रश्रीद्वाराः पुष्याः सन्तरः सावपंत्रस्याः। स्त्रित्यसमुखं कोक्सिसं साव्यः सन्तरः सत्तरः॥

(IX. 22-31)

"Arjuna, womaniolk, Valifyaa (members of the trading class), Stdras (those belonging to the labouring class), and even the are born of taking the womb of sin (free parish), taking refuge in Me. they the supreme goal. What wonder, it he holy Brahmans (members of tellectual or priestly class) and devages should attain it. Therefore obtained this joyless and transien life, devote yourrelf to Me."

Therefore, with firm faith in Comments of the control of surrendering himself to God, let the r strive to remove the obstacles in the his spiritual progress, by adopting the means—

(1) Approaching a Mahatma (saint he considers to be the hest f point of view of conduct, ren and knowledge, the practicant submit himself to the former a with energy the practice of a according to the saint's int He should entertain firm faith words of the saint; approachi he should not remai doubtink he should n to his own into Isils to underst the saint he s removed by P humble spirit; ar of the discipline time to obtain experience, he should never turn back from carrying out the instruction of the saint, believing in the surreme good which he will attain in the end.

The Lord said-

तदिश्वि प्रणियातेन परिप्रकृतेन सेक्या । वपरेश्यन्ति से जानं जानिनसायप्रशिनः ।

(Cua. IV. 34) "Attain this knowledge by all meens. If you prostrate yourself at the feet of the wise. render them all forms of service, and question

tham with a spitaless heart assis and assis

the labouring class), and even those this are born of the womb of sin (such as parish), taking refine in Me, they too sink the supreme goal. What wonder, then the holy Brahamas (members of the bit tellectual or prisatly class) and devouting eages should attain it. Therefore, having chained this joyless and transient hemse life, devote yourself to Me."

Therefore, with form faith in God, and surrendering himself to God, let the precicult atrive to remove the obstacles in the path of his apiritual progress by adopting the following experience, he should never turn back from carrying out the instruction of the saint, believing in the supreme good which he will attain in the end.

The Lord said:-

शद्भित्र प्रणिपातेन वरिष्ठश्चेन सेवया । उपनेश्वपित से आर्न आनिनकाश्वद्शितः ॥

(Cua, IV. 34)

"Attain this knowledge by all means. If you prostrate yourself at the feat of the wise, render them all forms of service, and question them with a guilgless heart, sysin and agein, those wite sears of truth will unfold that knowledge to you."

(2) The practicant should never think that a day will come when he will give up his spiritual practice. On the contrary, he should segard it as his best wealth, supreme duty, sweetest nectar, greatest happiness and the best support of life. Those who think that alter attainment of the knowledge of God they do not require to submit themselves to any discipline commit un error. How can they renounce the practice which brings appreme peace to their heart. The condition of the saint after realization of God makes even men of evil conduct feel drawn towards spiritual discipline; his sight compels men without discipline to start the practice of a discipline. How en the saint himself be indifferent to this discipline? When this is so, peop's who on the realization of very slight spiritual progress begin to consider themselves accomplished are, indeed, in great error. This error create obstacles in the spiritual path, it brings about their fill. One should therefore, always safeguard oneself from this error.

(3) The practicint should entertile the firm fifth in his mind that nothing is difficult for one who is dutiful and his taken refuge in God. He can enter accomplish the most difficult this fivery in livibility is, as a matter all list, endowed with this expects. To be lick of expects means degrating over soils. To an energetic man, even which and difficult take because every decomplishment.

accompositions.

All forces practical about the one excellence of the final first and excellent and excellent entering the first one is made perfectly estable. The process at about how whether the practical about how whether the best treated with a control, whether it has been used a precious for final free the whether it has been used a precious of the first first force in which we control for final free the winterface control.

of worldly objects. God-Realization is a far cry till complete control over the mind and senses has been attained. The Lord says:-

असंवतात्मना योगी दुष्प्राप इति मे अतिः। वस्यारभना त यतता दावयोऽवाष्ट्रामायतः॥

(Gita, V1, 36) "Yoga is difficult of achievement for one whose mind is not subdued; by him. however, who has the mind under control, and it commisses striving, it can be essily attained through practice; such is My nonviolen "

Therefore, the practicant should, in the first instance, bring his mind under control and make it pure and one-pointed. The scriptures primarily iny down two means for attaining this end. They are:--

(1) Practice, and (2) Dispassion.

The Lord said-धर्मशर्थ महाबाही अनी दुनिमहं चलम्।

भागासेन त की नेव हैं साबेश च ग्रहते ह

1 CHA VI. 35) "The mind is without doubt unsteady and difficult to curb. Arjans, but it can be controlled through practice (of meditation) and discounter Come -- Warner

भम्यासबैराम्यान्यां तक्षिरोधः।

"Through Practice and Dispassion that mind) is brought under control."

For a detailed explanation of the tr "Practice" and "Dispassion", the reader sho refer himself to the Voga-Sulras and other bos but the Lord Himself has mainly described "Practice" as follows—

> यतो यतो निश्चाति मनश्रश्रक्तस्थरम् । सतस्थतो नियम्भैतद्दारमन्येव वर्गा नयेत्।

(OHA, YES

(Yogs

"Restraining the restless and fidgety min from all those objects after which it rust he should repeatedly concentrate it on God" With regard to "Dispassion", the Lord safe

चे हि संश्वर्तेश भोगा कुल्पनेत्रय एव है। बाह्यलक्ष्यतः बॉलीय न तेषु इसते क्ष्या ॥

(OIL, V. 21)

"The pleasures which are born of eanes-contects are varily conrect of pell (though expearing as enjoyable to worldly minded people). They have a beginning and an end (they come end 52). Arjane, if is for this reason that a wise men does not indely in them."

Thus, through "Practice" and "Disparsion" baving made the mind pure, subordinate to self, one-pointed and full of Dispassion, one should rake to meditation, with a view to keep it constantly fixed and steady in the form of Gou-

संकरवप्रभवान् कार्यास्यक्वा सर्वानरोवतः। मनसैवेन्द्रियमार्गः विनिषम्य समन्ततः॥ वानैः वानैकररमेन्द्रुव्या क्षतिगृष्टीलया। भारमसंस्थं मनः कृरवा न किश्चिन्। विन्तयेन्॥

(Gita, VI, 24.25)

"Completely giving up all desires arising from thoughts of the world, and diffresh thoughts of the world, and difmind, he should shroof, prades practice sitian tranquillity, and having asiabilished the mind in God through reason control by stead(satures, he should not think of anything site."

When through "Practice" and "Dispassion" the mind has been made pure, free, one-pointed and full of Dispassion, it becomes certainly easy to keep it engaged in the meditation of God; but even without failty bringing the above two methods into service, if man, surrendering himself to God, tales seriously to the practice of Japa of the Divine Name and meditation of God, he can gain everything even by this form of meditation. Soon the practicant's mind becomes pure, one-pointed and subordinate to him there is not the leavt doubt above this there are differences in the methods of practice. Establishing identity with God, the embodiment of Esistence, Knowledge and Bliss, some people meditate on His Formless or Ummanifest State; while others meditate on an all-pervading God in the spirit of servant to a Master. Some meditate on the Lord's Universal Form, while others on the Form of Srl Wissun, possessed of our arms; some meditate on Srl Krson, the holder of the flute and enclanter of the heart, while others on the Form of Srl Rama, the Best Person, who laid down the standard of propfety, while some others on the Form of Srl Siva, the embodiment of Blessedness.

Maharsi Patañjali also, while describing the quickest method of attaining Samadhi, asid-

मानवर्षेत चाय्यन्ये बजन्तो शामुपासते। १- पुरुर्वेन प्रवन्तेन बहुधा विवतोगुसम्॥

(Cua, IX. 15)

Mis through their offering of Enowholge, worshipping Me (in My Absolute and formless aspect), as their very self; while still others workship Me in My Universal Form in many ways, taking Me to be diverse in diverse elsestal forms.

Therefore, a practicant should constantly m of God which may be more jart, which he may have same for all; there t about the goal.

divided into an undivided way, i. c., establishing identity with Him; and (2) those who worship Him late spirit of Master and servant. Among them maintenance of constant identity with only one God, the Supreme Brahma, stainless, embediner; of Existence, Knowledge and Bliss, is the best form of meditation for those who worship in an undivided way. But for the second class, via devotees who worship God in the spirit of Master.

and servant, the scriptures have laid down various forms of meditation.

One does not succeed in meditation owing to ignorance about the process of meditation. The practicant desires, indeed, to meditate on tisely hat, as a matter of fact, he meditates on the world. This defect is every commonly observed and heard. Therefore, it is extremely measure to know the extreet processes of establishing anison of mind with God. Our scriptural authoration to the street of the server of the server of the server of establishing the processes, some of which are being shortly described in the following lines.

sense, and start the practice of meditation scated in solitude and in a pure place. The GUS says:-

शुन्ने देते प्रतिष्ठाप्य स्थितमासनमाध्यमः। मार्युप्पूर्ण स्तितीर्थं चैकाविनक्राोधस्य॥ शबैकाप्रं मनः कृष्य धनविनेन्द्रियविदः। इतवित्रसासने सम्बद्धानिमास्मविद्यक्षयः।

(VL 11-12)

"In a clean spot baving firmly placed his east with Knis grace, decation and a cloth spread thereon one below another (Knis below, desrikin in the middle and cloth uppermost), neither very high for very low, and eiting on that seed, concentrating the mind and controlling the functions of the mind and the senses, he should practise Very for evilopathcasion?

-,alegA

समें कायदिरोज़ीयां धारयसमालं स्थिरः। संपेटय नासिकार्थं स्वं दिशाधानवको स्थन ॥

(Gria, VL 13)

"Keeping the trunk, head and neck etraight and steady, remaining firm and looking at the tip of his nose, without looking in other directions."

The practicant intending to devote himself to meditation should specially know this fact that so long as consciousness of the body and [•] The verse advises fixing of the eight at the point of the none, but these who are used to close their eyes during meditation may as well earry on the practice with eyes closed. There is no karm in this.

the world remains, he should without for any large of the Divine Name along we practice of meditation. Without the belief of the Divine Name, the mind cannot be provided in the standard on the Form of the Object of the Bength of time. Sleep, indofor any length of time. Sleep, indofor any length of time. Sleep, indofor any length of the mind various worldly latencies of the mind various worldly latencies of the mind of the standard overwhelm the mind. It is the standard of the Name (God) in mind other thanks of the Name (God) in mind of the Name (God) in mind

Rales of Meditation according to the

The practicant who intends to following the path of Identity should following the path of Identity should following the manner mentioned his seat in the manner mentioned renouncing all other thoughts, revol nothing, which exists; the knowledge of that Brahma alone. He is Himself the same as knowledge, He is never non-existent. That is why He is described as Truth, constant and eternal; He is boundless, immense, infinite. The mind, intellect, the exo, subject (seer), object (of sight) and the act of seeing, and whatever else is—all are but superimpositions on Brahma, and are the same as Brahma. As a matter of fact, besides God, the Supreme Brahma, nothing exists. The whole of creation like a dream is imagined in God.

'सरवं ज्ञानसननते मद्य'

(Taittirtys, II. 21)

"Brahma is of the batere of Troth and Conscionenses, and Infinite."

According to this Srati, God, the embodiment of Bliss, Truth and Knowledge, exists, "Knowledge" in not a vittue, attibute, or a form of energy (Sakti) of Blis spart from Him. In the same way, Sat (Existence laiso is not a virtue, as distinguished from Him. He exists from eternity, and will elernally exist; that is why in common usage and in Vedic idom, He is called Sat (Existence), but in reality He is beyond hoth Existence and Non-existence, Sat and Asat—

'न सत्तवासन्चते ।'

(Guā, XIII- 12)

"Brahma is said to be neither Sat (being) nor Atat (pondeing)."

Thus strongly fixing the thought on the incomprehensible Form of Bruhma, let the practicant, in the place of Japa, revolve, again and again, in his mind, in the following way, the attributes of God, and go on uttering the same. In reality, Brahma is beyond both name and form; but these attributes are conceived in order to bring out His Bliss aspect in the mind-Therefore, merging all his thoughts in Brahma who is Illiss itself, and meditating on such attributes of Brahma as Perfect Bliss, Unbounded Bliss, 'Undisturbed Bliss,' 'Compact Bliss,' 'Bliss which is Consciousness, 'Bliss which is Knowledge, 'Supreme Bliss,' 'Eternal Bliss,' 'Bliss which is Real, 'Bliss which is Life,' Bliss Absolute, 'ont, all-pervading Bliss,'-let him make the thought stronger and stronger that nothing exists but Bliss. Simultaneously, with exceptional speed, entering and submerging the mind in Beabma, the embodiment of Bliss, let him realize these attributes as undifferentiated from God. Through this process repeated many a time, when all his thoughts get merged in God, when hesides one God, the embodiment of Knowledge and Illis, his mind becomes free of the thought of existence of any other thing, he becomes unshakeably established in God who is Bliss Itself and incomprehensible. When the practice having hecome ripe, through repeated meditation practised regularly everyday the practicant no longer feels his self and the world at large as separate from God, when Knower, Knowledge and the Object of Knowledge, all become the same as Brahma, the embodiment of Knowledge and Bilas, the practicant becomes thoroughly accomplished. In that state, the practicant, practice and the object of practice, all become one, all become one all some as Bilas, and that state of the practicant remains as Bilas, and that state of the practicant remains absolutely the same for all time. Whether moving about or seated, or engaged in the proper and

सर्वभूतस्थितं यो मां भजायेकावमास्थितः । सर्वधाः वर्तमानोऽधि स बोगी स्विध वर्तते ॥

(Gus, VL 31)

(V. 17)

"He who, established in unity, worships Me as residing in all beings (as their very Belf), that Yogi, though engaged in all forms of activities, dwelfs in Me."

In reality, at no time he sees either the world or his self as separate from Brahma. This is why he is never reborn after death, and becomes freed for all time to come. In the Gill, it is said:

तद्वुद्वस्तद्वारमानस्विष्टाकृत्वराषणाः ।

गच्छन्त्यपुनरावृत्ति शाननिर्वृतकत्मपाः॥

""Dore whose usind and intellect are wholly merged in him, who are constantly established in identity with Him, and are exclusively devoted to Him, their sins being wiped out by wisdom, go to whence there is no return." This is the ultimate result of the 2 of meditation.

Second Form of Meditation in t Path of Identity

यरचे द्रार्मनमी प्राज्ञन्तवस्त्रे प्रज्ञान आधानि द्यानमाग्यनि महति नियर हेण् तयरहेरज्ञान्त सामनि

f Katha

"A person endowed with understanding restrain his speech and all other emu about them in the mind; he should the mind in the intellect, and the in in Mahat-Taitra (record Principle. cosmic intellect; thereetse he should a the cosmic intellect in God who trangulity itself."

Retiring to a secluded spot, to restrain ten senses from running after their respect objects, in other words, controlling the landiff of all the senses to engage the mind repeate in remembrance of the Form of God, mes absorbing speech and the other senses in the min Thereafter, renouncing all doubts with regar to the Divine Form meditated upon, and reaching a settled conviction, to bring the mind to estate of calmers, that is, awakening of Knowledge to the total exclusion of all unsteadiness of the mind, means absorbing of the mind in the intellect.' In this state of meditation, there remains consciousness of distinction between the meditator and his object of meditation, God; but after this stage when the individuality of the intellect, through which is reached a settled couvicion about the Form of all-pervading God, the enhodiment of Existence, Knowledge and Bliss, the Supreme Brahma, gets absorbed in the aggregate intellect; when aiter cessation of all distinctions between the meditator, meditation and the object of meditation, there remains consciousness of the Form of only one God, the Supreme Brahma, who is Knowledge itself, the state is known as the 'absorption of the intellect in cosmic intellect.'

After the shove, there arrives another indescribable state when there remains not the least residue of any separate impression of the meditator, meditation and the object of meditation, and one God alone who is Consciousness' itself, the embodiment of Existence, Knowledge and Bliss, remains, and beyond Him there remains no separate existence in any way—that state is called 'shoothing of the cosmic intellect in God who is tranquillity itself.'

This is what they call seedless Samadbi, attainment of Brahma, the absolute, and attainment of benjipude. This is the last state of realization. Speech fails to describe this state, the mind cunnot conceive of it. For it it a state beyond the mind, speech and intellect. This is faul cuancipation.

Reaching this state, man accomplishes the object of existence; no other duty is, then, left, which he has to attend to. It is said in यसवारमरितरेव स्वादारमनुप्तश्च मानवः। भारमन्येव च संतुष्टलस्य कार्यं न विग्रते॥

"He, however, who takes delight in the S alone and is gratified with the Self, and alone and is gratified with the Self, so contented in the Self, has no duty."

According to the path of Identity, the self, when the methods of medication of Go

According to the path of Identity, ise are many other methods of meditation on G which cannot be described here because it article has already grown in length. The parpor of all is almost the same. For practicants wh worship God in the spirit of Identity, it is extremely profitable to constantly remember the following verse of the GM2:-

बहिरलाश भूतातामवर वालेव व ! स्वतावास्तियेषे हरस्यं वालिके व तर् ॥ (११॥.॥) 'I's is withous and within all beings at constitutes both animate and institute orasiton. By reason of its sublish, it is

"It is without and within all beings, acconsisting both animate and insulmit organism. By reason of its subtlety, it is incomprehensible", it is both at hand; and far awarf."

Therefore, the practicant whose heart is inclined towards following the path of Identity, should devote himself to the practice as laid down above without delay.

Meditation on the Universal Form of God

If, after he has sat for meditation with closed eyes in a solitary place, the thought of the illusory world does not leave the mind of the practicant, he should adopt the following line of thought:

Whetever things in the three worlds, via the earth, the intermediate region between earth and beaven, and the beaven are observed, heard or conceived by the mind, all of them directly constitute the bedris form of God Himsell. With the belty of His surery called Maya, it is God Himself, the embodiment of Existence, Knowledge and Bliss, who is manifested to this Universal Form. For instance, the GRI Saysx-

सर्वतःपाणियादं सन्मर्वतीःक्षितिरोमुसम् । सर्वतःमुतिमहोके सर्वमाष्ट्रय तिहति ॥

(III.15)
"It has bands and feet everywhere, eyes,

head and face everywhere, ears everywhere.
It stands pervading all "a

[&]quot; Just as eiber, being the came of air, are, water and earth, eales peruding them all, even so God, being the came of everything, estins peruding the whole of creation, hoth animate and invalinate.

भथवा बहुनैदेन कि ज्ञातेन तवार्डुन। विष्टभ्याहमिर्ड् कृत्स्यमेकारीन स्थितो जगर् ॥

"Or, what will you gain by knowing all il in detail. Arjuna P Strikes it to say that I the holding this entire universe by a spark of A Yogue nower."

Again,—

यद्यापि सर्वभूताशां बीर्ज तद्दृहमर्जुन । न तदस्ति विना यरस्यानमया भृतं बराव्यम् ॥

(X.34)
"Arjuna, I am even that which is the see of all heinge. For there is no creature, allmaid or insulmate, which exists without Me."

Reflecting thus, again and again, and argaing the whole of creation as in ultimitian analysis a Form of God, the mind should be fixed on the ascertained Divine Form. This practice quickly removes the unstewdiners of the mind. Thereafter, wherever the mind goes it ces only God. Nothing appears before It except tool, Just as one who understands the many arietes of dills made of ice, as in casence whing but water, does not fell into error regarding eit constituent water, and definitely seen all e dulls as water, even as the gracificant who rises on the above form of meditation or world; his doubt. This the mind on God.

Meditation on the Four-armed Form of Sri Visnu

Retiring to a solitary place, and seated in the power mentioned above, let the practicant close his eyes and intoxicated with joy start the practice of meditation with a strong desire in his heart to meet the Supreme Reloved.

The meditation should be extried on eithe fixing the mind on an Imace of God see in a temple or a picture of God, or a Forn conceived by the mind of the practicant afti Rearing from saints, or seeing the Lord in dream, if he is fortunate enough to go through that experience; in other words, Sking the mit on whatever the practicant may have understoor whatever notion be may have formed, also God's Form. Meditation on a Form of God m be ordinarily earned on as follows—

if i) The Lord is present before us in it by about one and a quester cable above that he most beautiful lotus-feet abining likes or its supplies look as bright as an infinite beautiful lotus-feet abining likes or its supplies. He was the supplies as a supplies of the supplies and the supplies are adorsed with gold ornaments studied the supplies. Like His lotus-feet, the Lord's kind thigh are shining like heaps of blue ge through His yellow robe. Oh! how gracef His four Long arms I He holds the conch His citetiler weapon (Chakra) with the two w hands, and the club and lotus with the lower hands All the four arms are adorned s attulete and other most beautiful ornameots 0. how broad and supremely beautiful is the chest the Lord, with micks of Srl Laksmi and Birra foot in the middle of it! The Lord's neck possessed of the be-utilal colour of a blue lotus is most handsome to look at, and is adorned with a neellace studded with gems, the Kantubi diamond and many varieties of heautiful garlant made of gold and sweet-smelling flowers as well ! with the Vaijiyanti garland. His chin is graceful the lips ore red, the beautiful aquiline nore k adorned with a pearl hanging from it. Both eyes of the Lord are as large as lotus lea and are similar to the blue lotus in bloom. I ears are edorned with ear-drops shaped like t crocodile, the forehead contains the Tilak mat with a red streak (mask of Set) in the middle and the head is adorned with a lovely crown studded with pearls and precious stones. Oh l the incomparable enchanting face of the Lord, putting the full moon into shame, is lascinating the mind! Like the rays of the sun, there is an ura round the Lord's face whose light has made he gems in His erown and other ornaments a ousand times more brilliant. Oh I I am blessed day, perfectly blessed, that I have the privilege of meditating on the gently smiling, cheerful Form of Sel Hari.

When through continuous meditation on this itine, the Lord's form becomes firmed established in the mind, the practicant, overwhelmed with Love, should fix his mind on that enchanting Form. He will attain absorption in the Form of the Lord, when through repeated practice of meditation he will lose consciousness of the self, of the world outside and even of his meditation, and retain the consciousness of God, the enchanter of the heart, alone. When this happens, the practicant immediately comes to know the real truth about God, and God becomes compelled through the power of the practicant's Love to manifest Himself in a definite Form, and grace the practicant with Divine vision.

The Lord says in the Gita .-

भक्त्या स्वतन्त्रया शक्य अहसेवंवियोग्लीत । शार्द्ध दण्डं च तरवेन प्रवेण्डं च परंतप ॥

(XI. 54)

"Through single-minded devotion, however, I can be seen in this Form I with four sime), and known in assence and even entered into, O valuant Arjuna."

Thus naming the direct vision of God, the practicant realizes the object of human existence. All his vices get destroyed and he is transformed into a full-fledged saint. Thereafter he is not reborn on earth.

नाप्तुवन्ति महारमानः संसिद्धि परमा गताः ॥ र पार. १५)

, to)

"Great souls, who have attrined highest perfection, having come to Me, are no more subj-cted to rebirth, which is the abods of Sorrow, and transitory by nature."

Visualizing Sri Vispu, lying on the great to Sesa, in the sky within one's own heart, evolving in his mind the following thoughts the Lord's Ferm and virtues, obeisaces i be offered to Him, again and again. With boos head, Iose obeisaces to Bhagarla Vigno, the Lord of Lakemi. Oddans of i be offered to Him, again and again.

Whith bootherd, I offer obetanones to Dhegaria Visto, the Lord of Laham, Goddar ob wealth, and possessed of loundisk syswhose constrance is exceptionally only whose constrance is exceptionally only who is lying on the back of Sri disy mails be latter His bad, who has a loune sprenfrom Him nevel, who is the Lord of all iselectials, sod is the sepport of the whole inverse, who is all-perceding like the sky, ho possesses the beautifus her of the bles ond, whose limbs ere exceptionally ndown, who is realised by the Yogis rough medicalitos, who is the Lord of all

ही) विष्णु विश्वापार ! इंडर्जिट अरचीन, देखारीत द्वालन कान्याचन ह rids and who removes the fear of birth

death."e

He whose brilliance vies with the brilliance of innumerante suns, whose coolness is equal to that of countless moons, who possesses the lustre of crores of Fire-gods, and the prowess of numberless Wind-pods, whose affinence is equal to that of cuntless Indras, who possesses the heauty of crores of Cupids, whose forhearance is equal to that of innumerable Easths, whose gravity is equal to that of countless oceans, whom none can explain by any smile, whose real nature has only been assumed even by the Vedus and scriptures, and could not he fathomed by anyone, to that matchless Sil Hari-I offer obeisances, again and again, To Bayeavan Sri Visnu, the embodiment of Existence, Knowledge and Bliss, who is gently smiling, and the drops of sweat on whose Budy reflecting light appear most beautiful, to that redeemer of the fallen, I offer obeisances, again and again. When, through practice repeated on this live, the mind becomes tranquil, pure and cheerfal, it should be firmly established in the meditation of Sri Naravani, lying on Sesa as His hed, Thete are many other processes of mediation on God in both His aspects, viz, with Form and without Form. In the present article, only some short indications of them have been given. Special knowledge on the subject call anne without Form. In the present article, on some short indications of them have been given. Special knowledge on the subject can he gained when a practicant seriously starts his practice, surrendering himself to God and the grace of saints. With regard to meditation on God's aspect with Form, only two processed of meditation on Srt Visua have been described in this article, Following these processes practicant can meditate on the Forms of Srt Rama, Srt Krsm. St. Siva and other Forms of God, according to their respective faith and liking. The Iruit of all such practices is the same.

On rising from meditation in solitude, when the practicant enters the field of activity, he should during all his works, and white movide about and resting, try to carry on, in the same manner, the Japa of the Name of his chosen delty and meditation on His Form. Not a moment of this invaluable life should be allowed to pass without remembrance of God. One remembers during his last moment whatever is constantly practised by him throughout the life; and his future is determined by the thoughts of the last moment. That is why the Lard says in the Guyan.

तमात् सर्वेषु कालेषु मामनुषारं पुण्य भ । मध्यपितमनोषुदिमाँभेवैरथलक्षंत्रवम् ॥ (VIII. 7) "Therefore, Arjuna, think of Ms at all times and fight. With mind and reason thus come to Me."

sprendered to Me, you will doubtless Thus, through continued meditation on God, the embodiment of Existence, Knowledge and Bliss, the Supreme Brahma, the heart of the practicant grows parer and spotless. All his worries are gone and the heart overflows with peace that passeth understanding. mind gets one-pointed, and comes under control. True happines goes on gradually growing within him, as through intensification of practice, the purety and concentration of his mind increase. When the practicant gaios even the slightest experience of this type happiness he begins to look upon the joy of even sovereignty over the three worlds as quite worthless and insignificant compared to it. In this state, the joy derived from ordinary enjoyments of the world offers not the slightest temptation. On the contrary, all enjoyments begin to appear as perishable, momentary and full of woe. Through this practice, all the impulses of the practicant's mind gets speedily withdrawn from the world and becomes fixed and established in God. Realizing for all time the true and infinite happiness, the practicant gets satisfied and contented. All his sorrows totally cease. The attainment of this state is the ultimate goal of human existence.

There are many other processes of medication on God in both His aspects, viz, with For and without Form. In the present article on some short indications of them have been given. Special Innwledge on the subject car he gained when a practicant seriously starts his practice, sarrendering himself to God and the grace of saints. With regard to meditation on God's aspect with Form, only two processes of meditation on Sri Visnu have been described in this article. Following these processes practicants can meditate on the Forms of Sri Rama, Sri Krspa, Sri Siva and other Forms of God, according to the respective faith and liking. The fruit of all such practices is the same.

On rising from meditation in solitude, when the practicant enters the field of activity, be should during all his works, and while moving about and resting, try to carry on, in the same

Lessons in Devotion and

The mind of one who has taken reluge

The mind of one who has taken refuge in God prays to the Lord—

O Lord 1 O Sustainer of the Universe 1

O Kind-hearted Protector of the distressed I O Ocean of Mercy I O Knower of the heart I O Saviour of the fallen I O Alminhty Lord I

O'Friend of the poor! O Narayana! O Hari! Have rity on me, base pity on me! O Lord! O Reader of man's thoughts! You are fumous throughout the world as 'Ocean of Mercy' and

'Almichty', therefore it is Your business to show compassion.

O Lord, if Your Name is 'Purifier of the fallen', please come, and grant me Your vision. Dowing, again and again, to Your feet, I beseeth You bumbly, O Lord, bless me with Your sight.

O Lord, except You I have none in the world whom I can call as my own. Please grant me once the privilege of You sight, do not tantalize me any more. You are called Sustainer of the Universe, then why do You not satisfy my heartfelt desire ? O Embodiment ol mercy ! O conviction that the supreme duty of a natlife is only to realize God, the embodines of Existence, Knowledge and Blits, the Supress Brahma, the Almighty Lord, the Bestout of Happiness. In this world and the next the greatest, the eternal, the truest happiness lied

Dear reader, we should cultivate the for this. Apart fr m it, whatever other form of heppiness appear in the world, are in called happiness at all. They are all, fully scaled misery and nothing but misery. The Netherland says:—

Quartana says:—

quart

परणामतावसंस्करदुःस्त्रेज्यूणिक्षितेशेषण दुःसमेव सर्व विशेषाः
[[13]

"Ail forms of sense.enjoyments of he worlded to be supported to obange, and missed up will pain, the latent impressions of the missed and worldly servow, and involving a mixed conflict of to the Stivio Rajasice of Tamasa proposities of the miss, are servow to men of discrimination.

Does He not know that your prayers are not disinterested, that you possess neither reverence, nor faith, nor love, in the slightest degree ? If you have faith that God is the Knower of munisheart, why do you offer these verthal prayers? False prayers, without love, obtain no hearing from God; and if you possess love, where is the need for words of prayer? For the Lord Humelf has said in the Golfar—

ये यथा मां प्रपचन्ते तोखधैव भवाग्यहम् ।

(IV. 11)

(Gtel. IX. 29)

"Arjuna, however men approach Me, even so do I seek them."

Again,--

वे भवन्ति नु मां भक्ता मवि ते तेषु काणाम् ॥

"They, however, who devously witchip Me abide in Mo, and I also stand revealed in them."

O mind, though being the Ocean of compassion, if Sri Hari (God) does not show compassion, there is nothing to worry; you should go on performing your duty. God is a Lover, He recognizes love; the subject matter of love is known only to the Lover Can God, the known of heatt, great you this vision, drawn by your pretended Love? When [&]quot; you as makin, all-perrading Fire becomes manicet, only when a fire in made through the lighting up of combounties matter; even so God, who perrades everywhere, is revealed in the heart of one who practices Changua with a devoted heart.

Ocean of grace I Show me Your compassion Being an Ocean of compassion, a little shore of compression will bring no diminution of the quality in You. Through only a slight expression of Your prace, the whole of this universe may he saved. Then, what does it cost You to save this insignificant soul ? O Lord if You look to my doings, there is absolutely no ho, for me. Therefore, paying attention to Yo Name as 'Siviour of the fallen', grant to th insignificant soul the privilege of Your sigh I know neither Devotion, nor Yoga, nor 24 other practices, that I may claim the privilege by virtue of my performances. Being the knower of man's thoughts, if You had not been at Ocean of mercy, none would have called You by the latter name in this world; and being an Ocean of mercy, if You could not read the anguish of the heart, none would have called You as the 'Knower of the heart'. Though possessed of the above two virtues if You had lacked in power, none would have called You Almighty, and possessed of all powers. If You had been only a Lover of devotees, none would have called You as 'Saviour of the fallen'.

O Lord | O Ocean of mercy ! Have pity on me. and grint me once Your sight. The individual soul, addressing the min-

Does He not know that your prayers are not disinterested, that you possess neither reverence, nor farth, nor love, in the slichtest degree? It you have faith that God is the Knower of mn's heart, why do you offer these verbal prayers? Palse prayers, without love, obtain no hearing from God; and if you possess love, where is the need lor words of prayer? For the Lord Himself has said in the God?:—

वे यथा मां प्रत्यम्ते तांसधैव भजान्यहम् ।

(IV. 11)

"Arjune, howeverer men approach Ms. even

Again .--

वे मजनित मुजां सकता सथि ते तेषु वात्यहम् ॥ (Girl. IX. 29)

"They, however, who devoutly witchip Me shide in Me, and I slee stand revealed in them."

O mind, though being the Oceau of composion, if Sri Hari (God) does not show compassion, there is nothing to worry; you should go on performing your duty. God is a Lover, He recognizes love; the subject matter of love is known only to the Lover. Can God, the knower of heart, grant you liss vision, drawn by your pertended Love? When "heart a high childrenging fire become manufact, and when a fee in under through the latting spot composition."

matter; even so God, who percades everywhere, is revealed in the heart of use who practions Bhapan with a devoted heart.

the strings of Pare Love, Reverence and Faith are ready, bound by them, God will Himself come to you. O stopid mind, can false prayers produce any effect? Is not God the reader of hearts? O mind, good-bye to you; your habit is to wander about the world, please go whereve you like. Being associated with you, I have unsubstantial roamed these years in this world. Now, baving taken refuge at the feet of God, your entire fraud stands revealed to me. For my sake, you deceitfully offer prayers to God in humble and beseeching words, but you do not know that God is a reader of the heart. The Yogara infha truly says that God cannot be realized till the mind is transcended, in other words, till it is destroyed. Exhaustion of desires, destruction of the mind and God-Realization-these three processes take place simultaneously. Therefore, I entreat you to retire from here gracefully; this bird will no longer be caught in the net of your phantasms, for it has taken reluge at the feet of Sri Hati (God). What? Do you mean to leave after swallowing the bitter pill ? Oh! Where is that phantasy? Where are the enemies-anger, lust and others? Your entire army is now going to be destroyed. Therefore, giving up the hope of exerting your influence, go wherever you please.

The mind, again, prays to God-

O tord, have pity on me; O Master, I surrende refugee, save the honour of one who has taken refuse in You. O Lord, help me, belp come, and grace me with Your sight, I no support in this world except Yon; therefore, I bow to You again and again; I make obeisances to You. Please make no delay, quickly come and give me the privilege of Your sight, O Lord, O Ocean of mercy, come once and take care of this bond-slave. In Your absence, I find no support to my life. O Lord, have pity on this slave; I have surrendered myself to You, please cast but once Your kind look on me. O Lord. O Friend and Protector of the helpless, do not balk me any more, have pity on me. Without looking at my wickedness, reveal Yourself as the saviour of the latten. (3)

The individual soul, addressing the mind,

O mind, take heed I he careful I Why do you indulse in these idle talks. God does not want your false humility. Your decit will not be successful here, why do you offer to God these hyporfulful prayers for my sake ? I do not want you to make such prayers; you may Zo wherever you like.

If God is the knower of the heart, where is the need to offer any prayer? If He is a Lover, what is the need to call Him? If He is the sustainer of the Universe, what is the need to beg from Him? Good-bye to you. hence: 20. The individual soul, addressing the intellect and senses, says-

O senses I Good-bye to you. You please, leave me. Where there are desires, the you have the ground to stand upon. I have to refuge at the lotus-feet of God; therely your stratagem will make no impression on t

O intellect ! Good-bye also to your Where ! you leave your wisdom, when you used to prom me to dive into the ocean of the world ? Is the teaching of any use now?

11

if I attain even bell, it will be surerior to beaven. Why should I, then, worry? If I gain love for You, will You not develop the same for me? When absence of Your sight will become unbearable to me, will You, then be able to tarry? You have Yourself said in the Giffs...

ये यमा मां प्रश्चान्ते तांक्रपैद अज्ञान्यहम् । (17.11)

"Arjana, howsoever men approach hee, even so do I seek them."

Therefore, I do not say that You should come and grant me Your vision; and why should You care to do so? But, no worry, please do whatever You consider best; I should feel delicht in whatever You do. (6)

Meditating on God through its eye of wisdom, and intoxicated with joy, the individual soul says-

Oho! Oho! Bliss! Bliss! Lord! Lord.
Have You come? Thanks to my fortune!
Thanks! Fallen though I am, I have become blessed through the grace of Your lottes-leet Why should it not be so? You have Yourself said in the Gatter—

वित चेन्नुदुराचारी अवते आजनस्वासक् । सप्तांत स सम्मान्यः सम्बारमाधिनी दि सः व क्षिप्रं सर्वति चर्माम्या सहत्वप्राणिन निराप्यति । चैन्नोत्र सर्वि जानीहि व से भगः स्पार्थति । to beg from Him ? Good-bye to you, ! hence; go.

The individual soul, addressing the intellecand senses, says-

O senses I Good-hye to you. You six please, leave me, Where there are desires, then you have the ground to stand upon. I have tiles reluge at the lotus-feet of God; therefore your stratagem will make no impression on me O intellect I Good bye also to your Where di you leave your wisdom, when you used to prost me to dive into the ocean of the world ? Is this (1) teaching of any use now? The Individual soul says to God-

O Lord, You are the knower of the best. therefore I do not say that You should grast me Your vision. If I have possessed full lore, could You tarry! Could even Laksmt detain You at Vaikunfha ? If I had possessed full faith is You, could You walt ? Could my love and faith leave You ? Oho ! Palsely have I assumed in the world the roles of disinterestedness and desirelessness, and in vain do I regard mysell as a refusee at Your feet. But I need not worry; whitever I obtain, I should feel delighted in the same. For, that Is Your Instruction in the Giere. Therefore, while merzed in Your I at.

adorned with garlands of pearl and gold, the Vaijayanti garland and other garlands of many varieties of flowers. His lips are beautiful and red, His nose containing a pearl bancing below is exceptionally charming. The Lord's two eyes are as large as leaves of the lotus, and bloom like the blue lotus. His ears are adorned with beautiful croedite-shaped ear-drops studded with gems, the forebead contains the Tilok mark with a red streak in the middle, and the head is adorned with a crown studded with gems. Oho! How charming is the round face of the Lord looking like the full moon containing an urg.

emiting rays like that of the sun, which sparkle through the gems in Itis crown and all other ornaments. Obo I I am blessed today, indeed, truly blessed that I see before me God, the embodiment of Bliss, glutly smilling through

Thus intoxicated with joy, seeing the Lord before him in meditation, at a distance of a couly and a quarter length, in a Form fooking only twelve years of age, standing at a height of one and a quarter cubit from earth, the soul

181

His line.

"Even if the vilest_singer worships its wind exclinate devotion, he should be consisted a saint; for he has rightly received. (He is positive in his belief that there is notifilike devoted worship.)

"Speedily he becomes virtuous and sectors lasting peace. Know it for certain. Arrest that My devotee neverfalls."

Gaining the vision in meditation of the wonderful Saguna Form of the Lord (Forz with attributes), the individual soul mentally describes the heanty of that Form—

Oho I How beautiful are the lotus-feet d the Lord, which, sparkling like a heap of bla gem, shine like an infinite number of suns The soft toes containing glittering nails are adurated with gold anklets studded with gema Like His lotus-feet, the Lord's keees and thigh are emiting their instre through His yellow robe, like heaps of blue gems. Oh! How beauti'ul are the Lord's four arms. In the upper two hands, there are the couch and His circular weapon Chakra, and in the two lower, the class and the lotus. All the four srms are with armlets and other beautif Oho I How beautiful is the box. the middle of which comains th Labort (Godders of Wealth) How charming, seals, is the colored like a blue latur, con

(Om, Loffar flowers, obsisance to Narayana.)

Uttering this Mantra, flowers should be placed on the Lord's head and in the sky near the Lord's nose. (6)

> 🗗 मार्थे समर्थेगामि नारायणाय नमः 🗓 a 🗓 (Om, I offer a garland of flowers; obeisance to Naravana.) With this Mantra, a garland of flowers should be thrown round the neck of the Lord. (7) 🗱 भूपमाप्राययामि नारायणाय नमः॥८॥

(Om. I offer incense; obelvance to Narayana.)

Incense should be burnt before the Lord (8) after utterance of this Mantra.

🗗 शीर्च दर्शयामि नारायणाय नमः॥ ९॥

(0)

(11)

(Om, I offer light; obelsance to Marayana.) A light of clarified butter should be placed before the Lord after utterance of the above

Mantra. 🗗 वैते लं समर्थेकचि वास्त्रप्रकार समः 🗈 🗺 म

(Om, I offer antablas, obeirapen to Narayana.) Crystals of sugar should be offered to the Lord after atterance of this Mautra. (10)

🕰 भारत्यतीर्थं समर्थेयाचि नारायणाय समा १११ n

(Om. I offer water for ringing the mouth; obeleance to Narayana.)

With this Mantra, water should be offered for rinsing the Lord's mouth.

Uttering this Mantra, and washing the Lord's lotus-feet with pure water, the water should be sprinkled by the practicant over in 🗈 इसयोरार्यं समर्पंगमि नारायगाय नतः॥२॥ own head.

(Om. I offer water to the Lord's half obeleance to Narlyana.)

Uttering the above, the Lord's back should be washed with pure water. 🗗 श्राचमनीयं समर्थेयामि नारायणाय नमः॥ ३॥ (Om. I offer water for sipping; obeigance

With this Mantra, water should be offerd Narayana 1 to Sti Narayana for rinsing the mouth.

ॐ शर्म्य समर्गवामि शासक्याय वमः ॥ ७ ॥ (Om. I offer scented substance; phelitance p

Naravana. Uttering this Man being a mixture with acid) shots forehead. क मुचाराउं Om. I offer

With this to the Lord's fore

ठ इसं

Filling the cavities of both the palms with varieties of beautiful flowers, the same should be showered on the Lord's head, after utterance of the above Mautra. (16)

Thereafter, going round the Lord four times, keeping Him to the right, obeisance should be offered to Sri Narayana, touching the earth with eight limbs of the body.

(9)

Thus, offering mental worship to God, and laying Him down in a bed in the sky within the heart, the individual soul bows its bead before the Lord, again and again, mentally describing the Lord's Form and virtues—

> धान्ताकारं भूतगायायं वारतामं मुद्देशं विद्याधारं गानशादात्रं सेपायं शुभाप्तम् १ व्यक्तीकारतं कमञ्ज्यवनं योगितिषयीतामयं यादे विद्यां सदमयद्वारं सप्तानीकेतायम् ॥

"Obersmore to fart Wissan, of lotus-like ayes, the Lord of Lakegut (Goddess of wealth). Who is extremely midd in Form. Who like on fit fiees, making the latter His bad, from Whote navel has approep the lotts, Who is the Lord of all calestiats and is the support of the sauther universe, Who is all-pervading like the eky. Whose colour resembles the bive cloud, all of Whose limbs are most beautiful. Who is attacked by the Yout invoking medication, Who is the Lord of all the Control medication, who is the Lord of all the Control medication, who is the Lord of all the Control medication, who is the Lord of all the Control medication is the dattroper of few of Particle and is the dattroper of few of Particle and is the dattroper of few of

🧈 ऋतुफर्लं समर्पेपामि नारायणाय नमः 🛚 १२ 🗈

(Om, I offer fruits; obetrance to Nirayana) With the utterance of this Mantra, variety sonal fruits (hananas, etc.) should be offered the Lord.

🗫 पुनराचमनीयं समर्थेयामि नारायणाय नमः 🛙 🕦 🤱

(Om, I offer, again, water for rinsing the mouth; obeleance to Narayana.)

Water for rinsing the month should be n, offered to the Lord after utterance of this tra.

🖒 चूरीफर्ल सताम्यूलं समर्पेयामि बारायणाय वमः 🗷 १४ 🕏 (Om, I offer betel not with betel; obeisand to Narayana.) With this Mantra, betel leaf with betel ast

d he offered to the Lord. «> पुत्रराचनतीर्थं समर्थवामि नाराचनाय नगः ॥ ३५ ॥

(Om, I offer, again, water for rissing that mouth; obeisance to Mirayena, }

Water for rinsing the mouth should be after utterance of this Mantes. Thereafter, light made of campbor la a plata

I should be wived before the Lord. O दुष्याल्पि समर्थेवामि मारावणाच समा ॥ ३ ६ ॥

Om, I offer handful of figwers, obelsance to M1:27452 3 .

Filling the cavities or both the same should be showered on the Lord's head, after utterance of the above Mantra. (15)

Thereafter, going round the Lord four times, keeping Him to the right, obeisance should be offered to fit Narayapa, touching the earth with eight limbs of the hody.

(9)

Thus, offering mental worship to God, and laying Him down in a bed in the sky within the heart, the individual soul bows its head before the Lord, sgain and again, mentally describing the Lord's Four and vertices.

> श्चान्ताकारं भुत्रयज्ञायनं प्रधानार्थं सुरेशं विश्वाभारं सद्यतद्वादं सेयवर्णं शुभाहम् । सद्भीकार्यः कम्बनवयं योगिभिष्योत्तास्यं वर्षे विश्वां भवसवद्वरं सर्वत्रोकेन्तायम् ॥

"Obelsance to fit. Vipn., of lotucities eyes, the Lord of Luksput (Goddes of wealth). Who is extremely midd in Form. Who lise on fit fies making the latter lits bad, from Whoen nevel has apprung the lotus, Who is the Lord of an electatis and is the support of the saufre, universe, Who is all-pervading like the sky. Whose colour resembles the blue cloud, all of Wnoss limbs are most beautiful. Who is satisfied by the Yogis through medication, Who is the Lord of all the colour status of the Wnoss in the Lord of all the status of the Wnoss satisfied by the Yogis through medication, Who is the Lord of all the status of the Wnoss satisfied the

He Whose beilliance is similar to that of innumerable suns. Whose coolness resembles the coolness of an infinite number of moons, Whose glow equals that of crores of Fires, Whose provess equals that of numberless Wind-gods, Whose affluence equals that of an infinite number of Indras (celestial kings). Whose hearty equals that of erores of Cupids (love-gods), Whose forbearance equals that of numberless earths, Whose gravity equals that of crores of oceans, Whom none can explain by any simile, the Vedas and the scriptures have conceived about whose Form only by imagination, and none could get over Whose mystery,-oheisaoce, again and again, to that incomparable Sri Hari (God).

Obeisance, again and again, to Sri Hari (God), the saviour of the fallen, to Bhagavin Sri Visnu (God), the embodiment of Existence Knowledge and Bliss, Who is mildly smiling, and all the limbs of whose Body look most heautiful because of the shining particles of sweat in 1101 them.

Mentally Januing the Lord and serving His feet, the individual soul offers Him praises-

O Lord ! You are Brohma, You are Visnu. You are Siva, You are the sun, You are the moon, You are the stars; the earth, the intermediate region and heaven all these three regions are You; the ven divisions of the terrestrial worlds, etc. all these are world, the). ₂₆

Your Form; You are the Universe; You are Hiraysgartbla (Brabmal, You are the Four-armed Lord, and You alone are pure Brabma beyond Maya, and it is You who have assumed the various forms, therefore the whole created world is Your Form; the seer, the object of sight and act of seeing, and whatever there is, all that is You. Therefore—

ममः समसन्तानामादिभूताय भूषते । अनेडक्रक्रस्य बिष्यवे प्रमविष्णदे॥

"Obelsance to Sri Vienu, of all beings the Prime Being, the bearer of the earth, who assumes induite Forms, manifested throughout the ages."

स्वमेत्र माता च पिता स्वमेत स्वमेत्र अञ्चलका स्वमेत्र।

र्यात भारत च एरता रक्षाव रहमत बन्धून स्वता स्वस्त्र । स्वमेन निया द्रविकं रक्षाेन स्वमेन सर्वं सस्त्र देनदेव॥ "You ere the Mother. You are the Father.

"Lou ere the Mother, You ere the Father, You ere the Rineman, You are the Friend, You ere Learning, You are Weelth; O Lord of the gode! You are my all."

(11)

When the practicant engaged in the practice of Devotion develops supreme Love for God, he forgets even the consciousness of the body, just as saint Sandardas, in the course of his description of Divine Love. save-

"When Love is fired on God. One forgets the house and all its counections. Like a lunatio, he goes shout hither and

Not the lasst conscionspess of the body

He sighs through every pore of his being Tears begin to flow like an unsuding stream; gaya Sundara, who will observe the rules of nine forms of Devotion post "When one gets intoxicated through a hearty drink of the sweet Juice (of Love)

When the devotee has no cause of shame in the three worlds, nor does he follow the commandments of the Veds Ha feare not ghosts and goblins, nor de gods and Takeas put him to fright His ears do not hear another's talk, and other desires do not appear His lips do not nttar other words:-This is Bhakti marked by Divine Love" "Under the influence of Love, ha welks, as if, intoxicated. And indulges in incoherent talk; Just as the Copi lost the body-consciousness.

 प्रेम लखी परमेश्वरसी, तब मृति भवी सिगते परशशा । क्यों उन्मत्त फिरैंजिन बीतिन, नैक रही न शरीर सैमारा ॥ मास उसास बडे सब होन, चलै इव नोर अव^{विदन} भारा :

शन्दर कीन करें नवथा विभिन्छाकि परची उस वी मनवार।।। ÷ न कात्र तीन कोइन्डी, स वेरको पद्मो करें।

न शंक मृत प्रेरकी न देव वर्त संबर्ध A as a S as afternoon a

Evan so one should long for the Beloved.". "Jest as fish is restless without water, and the child without milk,

Just as one who is siling fluds it difficult to remain without medicine. Jost as the Chataks bird craves for the drop of the Swatt Ster, and the moon is dear to the Chakora.

Just as the snake in Avenuet out of its graving for sandal-wood.

Just as the poor craves for monoy, and man orayes for woman. He who thirsts for God like these, dose not like anything alse. When Divine Love flows through a heart, all thiss are thrown away. Says Sandara, this is Divine Love."+ "Now he laughs and herios to dance, now

he weens

Now his voice is choked with emotion. words do not come out of his line. Now the heart being transported with love he sings at the top of his voice Mamba sometus still and stiant like should

The heart and all earthly possessions being given to Hari, how can he remain heedfal? Says Sundara, O disciple, hear, this is Divine Love."

When the Saguna Form of the Lord (the Form with attributes) disappears, being merred in the Form of God as pure Sachchidanards (Existence, Knowledge and Bliss), the all-perviing Supreme Brahma, the Jivatma says-Bliss ! Bliss !! Supreme Bliss !!! One Vasuders alone pervades everywhere.† Bliss alone pervades everywhere.

Where is lust ? Where is anger? Where is greed? Where are delusion, pride, covetousness haughtiness, excitement and the enchantment of Maya? Where are the mind, intellect and the senses? Everywhere Sachebidananda and Saebehidinands alone (Existence, Knowledge and Bliss) pervadet Oho! Everywhere there is one, all-perviding Illis, o प्रवृद्धि वृत्ति वृत्ति मृत्य व्यक्ति होवन विश् कार्य ।

बर्गुंड गराबार, राग निस्ते वर्ष बले । बर्ग्स द्वाप बनम्, ब्रूप क्रीरे स्ट स.रे. बर्बुंड हे हुन भीत, मान शो रहि महित दिलारिय हरियों अब्दे, बारमून की हो। which is the same as Truth, Con Bliss, solid, whole, conscious, absolute, imperishable, ummanifest, incomprehensible, eternal, the hishest reality, the supremely indestructible, complete on all sides, undefanble, evertastins, all-pervating, immovable, constant, imperceptible by the senses, heyond Maya, unperceivable, Supreme Ilias, Hishest Bliss, Bliss-and-Blass, there is nothing apart from Bliss II (1)

The Path of Devotion in the Gita

The Symad Bhagaradgin is an incomparable book of apiritual lost, a store-bouse of the principles of Action, Devotion and Knowledge. It cannot be said that the Gin deals primarily with this or that pasticular path of discipline. Although it is a small book in which the various topics have been touched upon only brieby, the treatment of some of these is incomplete. It has, therefore, been truly said—

The intention of the above ver discourage the study of the other ser only to bring out the real worth of One who has realized the truths or the Gits has nothing more to know. The disciplines of Action, Worship and have been dealt with in their respec thoroughly and clearly. It cannot, the said that one is the main, and o subsidiary themes of the Gila. Whater of view is dear to one, whatever doc may believe in finds its support in t That is the reason why different comm have offered different interpretations of th None of them can, however, be pronou be incorrect. Just as the Vedas represen breath of the Paramatma even so the representing as it does the words utter God, is nothing but God Himself manifest that form, That is why like God Himsel teachings of the Gita, too, appear in diff lights to different devotees according to devotee Arjuna an occasion, the Lord delive His incomparable message of the Gas for good of entire humanity. To discourse or we on any point mentioned in that book is noth but a purile attempt on the part of a pers like me. I am fully conscious of my incompetent to deal with the present subject. It is, therefore to dear bumble prayer that learned and devoted soul respective mental constitution. Making spiritual need of Itis dear friend about Karmayoga (Action) or about Bhaktiyoga (Devotion). Verses like enteteftenter (thy right is only to action & squeet gre safet (perform action while established in Yoga) refer only to Karma be detected though not expressly stated.

(action); and verses like 'man wa' (fix thy mind in Me 1 refer only to Bhakti (devotion). But in these statements also the dependence of Karma on Bhakti, and of Rhakti on Karma may who engages in action while established in Yoga through internal equilibrium and knowing result of action to lie in God's hands, indirectly practises devotion through remembrance of God. and a devotee engaged in devotional practices like worship, obeisance, etc., may be similarly said to be doing some action through those practices. The difference between him and an ordinary person who performs action through attachment lies in this that while the latter engages in action for the fulfilment of his own worldly desires, the former does so only for the pleasure of God. The Gita has denounced renunciation of action for its own sake, and bas characterized such renunciation as Tamasic in character (Guz, XVIII. 7). And stating in verse 4 of Chaptes III, that perfection cannot be attained by renunciation of action, it has been pointed out in the next Sloka that complete and absolute rennuciation of action is impossible. Therefore, according to the Gits, Devotion lies in pursuing through body and mind all kinds of action appropriate to to ass in which a person trught by the Gill there is no room far at-How can it he possible for a device who hat made God his sole refuge in life, who sets atfeels the presence of God on all sides and in every object, to commit any act of sin ere in secret? How can a devotee who having surrendered himself entirely at the feet of the in secret? How can a devotee who hruit surrendered himself entirely at the feet of the Lord desires to make himself completely substitute to His will be capable of any sinful at? How can a devotee who, realising the crubic to be a manifestation of the Lord, consider his duty to render service to all, be indolent fethargie? How can he who possesses the light of true knowledge of the Paramaima find himse in the region of Darkness or Ignorance? It was, therefore, that the Lord gave its following express command to Arjuna—iowing express command to Anuna — तस्मारसर्वेषु कालेषु मामनुस्मर पुरद व । सरपरितमतोषुदिमोसेषैपयससंगयम् ॥ (GUL YIII 1) and fight. With mind and reason his surrendered to Me. you will doubles come to Me..

This represents what they call Devotion accompanied by disinterested action which is a sure way to realize God. Similar injunctions were uttered by the Lord in IX, 23, XVIII.33, and some other verses of the GUS.

This does not me

This does not me

is predominance of Tamoguna Liguorance and darkness) in the present-day world. It is on account of this Tamoruna that people who retire into seclusion are deburred from attaining divine knowledge and though outwardly engaged in prayer and meditation, they full a prey to sleep, sloth and inaction. It is found in many cases that people who give up work saving they would henceforward live in seclusion spend their time in devotional practices and meditation alone soon get disgusted with their life of seclusion. Some of them begin to spend their time in sleep, while others are found to complain that they do not find any rest in meditation. Thus some of them turn out to be idlers, while others begin to indulge themselves through enjoyment of the senses. Persons who truly and sineerely devote themselves to prayer and meditation are very rare. To engage oneself wholly in devotional practices and meditation, while living in seclusion, is not undesirable, but it is not so easy as we imagine it to he. Long and sustained practice is necessary to reach this stage and the practice may be developed and made more intense by a gradual process even while performing the ordinary duties of one's life, It is, therefore, that the Lord has enjoined us to perform action in a spirit of detachment, constantly meditating on Him, taking such action as a behest from Rim and solely for cultivating His pleasure, Engagement in or withdrawal is born, for the sake of God, taking the prefirmance of such action as being enjoyid by God fixing the mind completely and whole-braids in God. Salvation in the form of surgest perfection is attainable by this devotion. The Lord says:—

बतः प्रवृत्तिन्तारो येन सांतिष् तत्त्। स्वहर्मणा समायप्ये सिद्धि विन्ति प्रावशः ह (OLL XVIII) "He from whom to the amenation of all be logs, by whom all this is perradictly worshipping Him through the partors of his own duty, man entains parfacilion.

This form of action instead of being salvation there is no danger of a full through its purishers in the partors of the partors of the partors to the partors of the partors o

source and cause or bounger of the three is no danger of a fall through its partitional field has enfolded all apicitual appirants to up and pursue the path of action for God Reduction and crime His own example his attrict even the threated and to engate action for the good of the people, for guided them along the right path, eithough, permuthing the first path of the permuthing the permuthing sequestered places. They do not give up work, it is work that takes leave of them. Such men when they retire to secluded places never yield to lariness nor do they indulge in worldly thoughts or desires. On the contrary, seclusion steadily swells the stream of their devotion which unites them in no time with the great ocean to laziness nor do they indulge in worldly thoughts or desires, On the contrary, seclusion steadily swells the stream of their devotion which unites them in no time with the great ocean of Divinity and enables them to merge their individual existence into the infinite, illimitable expanse of that ocean Hur those who are troubled by worldly impulses and distractions while living in seclusion are not qualified to suspend their activity for any length of time and lead a life of devotion in seclusion. The vast majority of people in this north belong to this last category. The practice followed by

The vast mijority of people in this world belong to this last category. The practice followed by wise men is to suggest those methods alone which are suitable for the majority. Special efforts abould therefore be under to turn the course of one's activities approved of by the Sastras, towards God, and not to renounce rhem.

Sastras, towards God, and not to renounce them. It has been stated above that Arjuna was a family man, a Kṣṣtriya (one belonqing to the warrior class) and a man of action, therefore he was enjoined to stick to the path of Action. This, however, does not mean that the Gild is intended for family men, Kṣṣtriyas and men of action only. There is no doubt that this nectar-like milk in the form of the Gild has been available to the world only through the medium from action is neither a hindrance nor a in reaching a state of deep meditation of Lord. Genuine faith, reverence or Love main factor helpful to meditation. Where is faith, where there is love, action canno a hindrance; on the contrary, every single s of such a person being performed for pleasure is converted into devotion in its P form. This, too, does not prove the nece of renunciation of action. Nor is it my inter to discourage the constant practice of devo in seclusion. For those who are qualified, living in seclus (विविश्वदेशमेवित्वव्) and 'absence of enjoyment in company of men' (अरविकेनलंगरि) are no doubt ! proper course, but in the world as it is constitut the majority is found to consist of those w are qualified to follow only the discipline Action. He alone is really qualified to live i seclusion who is completely obsorbed in the devotion of God, whose heart overflows with andivided love for God, who begins to feel uneast when he forgets the Lord even for a moment, who cannot properly perform bis worldly duties having lost all consciousness of the outside world through ecstasy of divine love and to whom the very sight or mention of enjoyments of the world is tormenting. For persons possessing these qualifications it is certainly more beneficial to remain aloof from society and keep themselves to remain emissed in apiritual practices in sequestered places. They do not give up work, it is work that takes leave of them. Such men when they retire to secluded places never yield to laziness nor do they indulge in worldly thoughts or desires. On the contrary, seclusion steadily swells the stream of their devotion which unites them in no time with the great ocean of Divinity and enables them to merce their individual existence into the infinite, illimitable expanse of that ocean. But those who are troubled by worldly impulses and distractions while living in seclusion are not qualified to suspend their activity for any length of time and lead a life of devotion in seclusion. The vast majority of people in this world belong to this last category. The practice followed by wise men is to suggest those methods alone which are suitable for the majority. Special efforts should therefore he made to turn the course of one's activities approved of hy the Sastras, towards God, and not to renounce them.

It has been stated above that Arjuna was a family man, a Kṣatriya (one belonging to the warrior class) and a man of action, therefore he was enjoined to stick to the path of Action. This, however, does not mean that the Gifā is intended for family men, Kṣatriyas and men of action only. There is no doubt that this nectarilike milk in the form of the Gifā has been available to the world only through the medium of Arjuna who acted as a call to cause the milk to flow. It is so sweet, so universally used people of all countries, all communities, all and all Asramas (orders) can drink it w let or hindrance, and attain immortality. It and all Ağramas (orders) can drink it v let or hindrance, and attain immortalit. Je God is within the reach of all, even v teachings of the Gifa are open to all. Ote it is necessary that he who seek to de benefit from the Gifa should have an unimpeat

It is necessity that he who seeks to a benefit from the Giss should have an unimprest conduct and should be endowed with I devotion and love. For the Lord has wared not to proputate its messace among irrest and unwilling persons and among these have fallen from the path of virtue or who I the aprirt of devotion (Gisl, XVIII, 61) I one who has taken refuge in (10d, to white race or class he may belong, is qualified drink this nectar (62th, IN. 32).

There are, it may be urged, only to paths of spiritual discipline in the GO3, the pull of Knowledge and the path of Action, there bead no mention of a third discipline. When Develon How can it, therefore, be asid that devolton I must be main theme of the GO3? The answer to this is that though Devotton has not been munitaned as a distinct path at discuttine, we should first try to understand what is actually means by a discipline, and whether the path of action of action of a first of Knowledge can be followed without extension of the spirit of worthip or depending action with at the agrees of worthip degenerates into a Linkers action, hence it connect lead rates into a Linkers action, hence it connect lead to emancipation, nor is Knowledge without Devotion commendable. According to the Gith, Devotion should form an integral part of both the disciplines of Action and Knowledge. The word Nistha indicating a discipline, etymologically means being established in the Paramatma, One gets established in God in two ways-as distinct from God and as identical with Him. In the former state he recognizes God as the whole (ললা) and himself as a part (अंश), God as the object of worship, and himself the worshipper. Work which is done with the above recognition and with the motive of pleasing God, in accordance with the injunctions of God, without attachment to the result of such work constitutes what is known as Karmayoga or disinterested action. And the latter state or the state of identity with Brahma, which is consolidated knowledge and bliss is that in which all action taking place in Prakrts (Nature) is recognized only as a play of Praketi, as nothing but illusion. and all existence is resolved into a unity, the unity of Brahma beyond which there is nothing. This state of unity or identity is called Sankhyayoga Your of knowledge), Devotion permeates both these forms of spiritual discipline. Thus it is seen that there was no necessity to mention Devotion as a separate discipline. It may be urged here that if such is the case, realization of God will not be rossible through Devotion alone without recourse to Karmayoga or Janayoga, This however, is not correct. For the Lord has to flow. It is so sweet, so universally useful that people of all countries, all communities, all classes and all Asramas (orders) can drink it wittert let or hindrance, and attain immortality. Just 15 God is within the reach of all, even so the teachings of the Gua are open to all. Of contact it is necessary that he who seeks to derive benefit from the Gita should have an unimpeaching conduct and should be endowed with link devotion and love. For the Lord has warred not to propagate its message among irrevent and unwilling persons and among these ab have fallen from the path of virtue of who led the spirit of devotion (Gua, XVIII, 67). As one who has taken refuge in God, to whatest race or class he may belong, is qualified to drink this nectar (Gus, IX. 32).

There are, it may be urged, only two paths of spiritual discipline in the Graz, the path of Knowledge and the path of Action, there being mention of a third discipline like Devotica. How can it, therefore, be said that devotion forms the main theme of the Graz? The answer to this is that though Devotion has not here mentioned as a distinct path or discipline, as should first to understand what is actually meant by a discipline, and whether the path of action of discipline, and whether the path of action of discipline, and whether the path of action of whether without the spirit of worship or devotion without the spirit of worship or devotion without the spirit of worship or devotion.

talk of as it is difficult to practise. It does not consist in mere outward abow, it is not something to be displayed; it is, on the contrary, something which should be treasured in the beart and guarded most screpulously against publicity. The more secret it is kept, the more precious it is held to be. It is very difficult understand the philosophy of Devotion. Of course, those biessed beings who have dedicated themselves to the All-mertoui Lord do not find it so difficult. The Lord Husself unfolds the secret of Blakkit to those who are exclusively devoted to Him. He rids them of all fevry, who betake themselves to the Lord with a guileless heart. Such is His vow.

सङ्देव प्रयक्षाय स्वतास्मीति च याचने। चन्नमं सर्वभूतेग्यो युदानकेनद् झर्नमनः॥ (Vəlmin-Rəməyana, VI. रुगां। 33)

Dedication to the Lord is a valuable discipling, indeed, but it should be exclusive. Total and exclusive dependence numed tell, effects the desired response from the Lord. Vibbjust sought the shelter of Sri Rama with a vire heart, depending exclusively on its protection, and depending exclusively on the protection to the lim. No assertation of the content of the Kauravas, remember Lord Sri Kapas, the flow of the kauravas, remember Lord Sri Kapas, the refuse of the heplers, hwing destained to relief from all other quarters, than the cloth which she was wrapped in was extended in length of infinitum. These are instances of exclusive surrender. The surrender in both these excepts, he were that relief from surrender in both these excepts, he were the relief from stated at several places in the Girl that realization of God is possible through Devotion alone As regards direct vision of God He his gone so far as to say that there is no other means to it besides exclusive devotion to God. (Gul, XI. 51) The point has been further elucidated in verse 24 of Chapter XIII, wherein Devotion in the form of Meditation has been expressly stated as a means of Self-Realization-अध्यतेनात्पनि पश्यन्ति । practice of this form of Devotion, viz., Meditation can be carried on along with the two forms of discipline stated above or as a separate discipline. The discipline of Devotion or worship ! the easiest and best of all disciplines. The aspirant on this path is backed by God Who is a source of ever-increasing strength to him. Let us, therefore, all of us adopt the discipline of pure and exclusive devotion to God without any ulterior or worldly motive and perform out ordinary duties of life with the only motive of pleasing God.

Devotion consists in Exclusive Love for God

There is no easier path to the attainment of the ineffable bliss arising from absorption into Brahma than Devotion to God. This is true of all ages and specially of the Kali Age. It should, however, he ascertained at the very outset what Devotion is Devotion is as easy to talk of as it is difficult to practise. It does not consist in mere outward abow, it is not something to be displayed; it is, ou the contrary, something which should be treasured in the heart and guarded most screpulously against publicity. The more secret it is kept, the more precious it is held to be. It is very difficult to maderstand the philosophy of Devotion. Of course, those blessed beings who have dedicated themselves to the All-mertiful Lord do not find it so difficult. The Lord Himself unfolds the secret of Bhakit to those who are exclusively devoted to Him. He rids them or all fears, who betake themselves to the Lord with a guileless heart. Such is His vow.

सङ्देव प्रपक्षय सवास्मीति च पावते । अभर्ष सर्वसूरीभ्यो ददास्पेतद् मतं सम ॥ (Välmin-Rämäyana, VL xviii 31)

Dedication to the Lord is a valuable discipline, indeed, but it should be exclusive Total and exclusive dependence immediately elicits the desired response from the Lord. Vibbiasan sought the shelter of Srt Runa with a sore heart, depending exclusively on His protection, and the Lord unbesitatingly extended His protection to Him. No sooner did Princess Draupedl, in the Court of the Kauravas, remember Lord Sri Kryan, the refuse of the helpless, hiving desparied of relief from all other quarters, than the cloth which she was wrapped in was excluded in length at infinitum. These are instances of exclusive surrender. The surrender host the research of the surrender in the third state of the surrender in the third state of the surrender in the third state.

worldly afflictions as its motive A deroter should betake himself to the Lord in the same spirit of total dependence for the sake of the Lord Himself. Attainment of true knowledge will then be within easy reach.

Although the supreme idea of Devoling can be understood only by this surredictive oneself to the Lord, I take the liberty of withing a few lines on this subject on the bisis of the scriptures and the atterances of saints merely who a view to amusing myself, even though I do not defampself competent to wield my pen on this subject. I would crave the indulgence of the blessed devotees of the Lord for this audictive

Supreme, evelusive and motiveless lotter God constitutes what is known as fibrid or Devotion. Srimad Ehagavafila speaks of this at several places. For instancer-

स्रवि चानन्यद्रोतेल सणिरस्पनिचारिणी। १ क्षारः १३)

मां च बोडम्प्यिकारेण मनियोगित शेशने ह # XIV. 20 1, ato., ato.

"Undinching devotion to Me through excistive attachment of mind."

wand he who soutently worships his through the Yoga of exclusive devoting. ... The same kier is found echood in the Arbeitims of Ninds and Supplys. Reclaired love is cenerally christiated by permanent love of enterthement to anything also than assect of estimated to everything also then Ood God, intentional of the Cod.

in the cestasy of sove and a vision of the Lord in everything that the mind perceives. In this way, as time goes on and the habit of perceiving God everywhere developes, the devotee forcets his own sell and the Lord alone remains. This is what constitutes motivelest, exclusive love. The love for God should have God alone or His love as its motive. He should be loved for the sake of love, and not with any ulterior motive. The appirant should not retain in his mind even the ghost of a desire for honour applause, high status, or for any other object of this or the next world. Nay

His love as its motive. He should be loved for the sake of love, and not with any ulterior motive. The aspirant should not retain in his mind even the apont of a desire for honour, applause, high status, or for any other object of this or the next world. Nay, he should not be tempted even by the kingdom of the three worlds. Even if God Himself be pleased to offer him objects of worldly enlorment with importunity, he should not accept them; and if his rebusal displeases the Lord (although He is never displeased with anyone), he should not mind it. The very talk of personal gain should fill him with extreme discust and abhorizenes. Should the Lord make temting offers of worldly enjoyments to him, he should be filled with remores and feel that surely there is something wrong with his love; had it hear geneine and enablet retted, and had such talk of personal gain really pricked han, the Lord would not have thought fit to tempt bim with such offer. In no circumstances should be accept anything else than love of God, not even under pressure of solicitations, importunities and intimidations; he should remain firm and unmoved in his insistence on love. He should continue to believe that so long as the Lord thinks fit to tempt him with offers of various worldly enjoyments and thus nut his devotion to test, attachment to worldly pleasures surely exists in his mind. Had he possessed gennine love, he should not have heard anything else than the talk of his beloved Lord. The very fact that he is still able to see hear of, and put up with the presence of objects of enjoyment shows that he is not yet eligible for true love. That is why the Lord still persists in tempting bins. The ideal thing for him would have been that he should have fainted at the very mention of worldly enjoyments. Since this does not happen, a craving for worldly enjoyments surely lurks somewhere in his heart Such is the form of the higher mental discipline for attaining pure and unadulterated love of God The joy which results from the attainment of such faultless love can better be imagined than described. The real value of such love can be appraised only by one who is exclusively devoted to the Lord. Love is pedinarily classified under three heads; secondary, primary and exclusive. For instance, a cow goes into the -to far graring, leaving the young call behind, and abandon even the latter for the sake of her own life. Similarly, aspirants of the highest class have their mind exclusively fixed on God even while engaged in their worldly duties. The ordinary type of lovers of God endexour to concentrate their mind on God; but due to habit and attachment their mind do worldly objects, even while they are sitting in meditation or saying their prayers. Those who have God as the main object of their love perform all their worldly duties with their mind constantly fixed on Him, while those who have God as the main object of their love perform all their worldly duties with their mind constantly fixed on Him, while those who have

God as the exclusive object of their love find their Beloved pervading the whole creation, animate as well as inanimate. Such exalted souls are, however, rarely to be seen, I vide

Gua. 7, 19) .

Some of these blessed devotees, the exclusive object of whose love is God, are so deeply immersed in divine love that they appear like madmen in the eyes of the world, while others behave like children. They are no longer able to perform their worldly duties. There are still others who, though equally immersed in divine love, are yet always ready to carry out the behatts of their Lord likethe erred devote tharata and Hanuman, the Prince among devotees. All moved in his insistence on love. He should stinue to believe that so long as the Lon nks fit to tempt him with offers of various ridly enjoyments and thus put his devotion test, attachment to worldly pleasures surely ste in his mind. Had he possessed genniat e, he should not have heard anything else n the talk of his beloved Lord. The very that he is still able to see, hear of, and up with the presence of objects of enjoyit shows that he is not yet eligible for true . That is why the Lord still persists is pting him. The ideal thing for him would been that he should have fainted at the mention of worldly enjoyments. Since this not happen, a craving for worldly enjoyts surely luths somewhere in his heart is the form of the higher mental discipline training pure and unadulterated love of God The joy which results from the attainment such faultless love can better be imagined described. The real value of such love can innealised only by one who is exclusively red to the Lord. Love is ordinarily classified three heads; secondary, primary and sive. For instance, a cow goes into the o for grazing, leaving the young call hehlad, etates there. The cow's love for grass is secondary, that for the culf is of first stance and that for her own life is exclusive. ein give up grass for the sake of her call and abando of her own highest cla fixed on God even while engaged in their worldly duties. The ordinary type of lovers of God endeavour to concentrate their mind on God: but due to babit and attachment their mind wanders away in spite of themselves to worldly objects, even while they are sitting in meditation or saving their prayers. Those who have God as the main object of their love perform all their worldly duties with their mind constantly fixed on Him, while those who have God as the exclusive object of their love find their Beloved pervading the whole treation, animate as well as inanimate. Such exalted souls are, however, rarely to be seen, (vide

G1/4. 7. 193 .

Some of these blessed devotees, the exclusive object of whose love is God, are so deeply immersed in divine love that they appear like madmen in the eyes of the world, while others behave like children. They are no longer able to perform their worldly duties. There are still others who, though equally immersed in divine love, are yet always ready to carry out the behests of their Lord like the great devotee libraria and Hausuman, the Prince among devotees. All and sit on it upon diameters are directed traitly that good of humanity. Such blossed and discussed the former and directed for the former and such that former are former than the has prelimed. The first tenth on the following memorable confidence.

मी मी बार्गाट सर्वतः सर्वे थ स्रोत दार्गात । सम्माने स बन्धानीय स ७ के ४ प्रमानीय स

उराधि मा च के व दशहरीत हैं ह cas. प्र. में है

the who sees Me f the Universal Self! general to all beings, and sees all beings extented in Me. I am house not of sight of him, and to be ever out of sight of Me."

What is God?

What is God? All that I propose to M? on this subject is my own conviction; it is not unlikely that this may be wrong. I do not assert that the conclusion arrived at by others on the subject is wrone. But I have no doubt in my mind about the conviction I have formed: I am not a doubting soul on the subject, though I have no right to pronounce the opinion of others at fallacious

What is God ? Of this question, the proper answer is that God alone knows what He is a flesides this, the God-Realized soul who has flesides this reality about Him may give some the reality about Him may give some

As a matter of fact, the reality about God is known only by God Himself; realizers of the truth may give some description of Him in the form of hints or suggestions, but whatever is known and described about Him. He is actually far different from that. The Vedas, the scriptures. the saints and sages have gone on describing Him from time immemorial, but their descriptions have not yet come to an end. If anyone attempts to describe that reality either by synthesizing those statements, or analysing them, a complete description will not be possible even by him. It will remain incomplete and unfinished. From these observations it is clear that God certainly exists: there is not the slightest doubt about His existence: this conclusion is quite unshakable. Therefore, when a person has taken to the practice of a discipline by forming a certain conviction about God in his mind, there need to alter the same, but some improvement in the conviction should, of course, be made, Truly speaking, none of those, who are engaged in the practice of a discipline, is in error; and from another point of view, all are in error. He who starts the practice of a discipline for the realization of God follows a path which leads to God, therefore he is not in error, and yet he is in error, because whatever conception be has formed in the mind about the object of attainment, or goal of the practice, the reality is far, far different from it. That which is known, conceived of, and for which a practice is undertaken, is nothing but a hint or gesture to point at the object, God. Therefore, so long as thu object is not gained, all are said to be merred in error; but this should not lead one to the conclusion that, first of all, the error should be removed, and then a discipline undertaken. Nege ean ever remove the error first; after trat realization it gets automatically removed. Whi transpires before this is a subject of mere inferente and whatever is practised according to inferent is the proper way of realization of the guil Por instance, one has seen the moon on the second day of the lunar fortnight, he now roint to It through gesture to another person wh has not seen it, by saying, "May you look through my eyes, there is the moon above this tree, at a height of four finger's breadth from the tree." This statement leads the observer's gut through the tree to the moon, and he succeeds in seeing the moon. As a matter of fact, the observer neither sees entering the eyes of the instructor, nor is the muon actually at a height of four finger's breadth from the tree, nor is the disc of the moon as small as it appears to him But the eye being directed to the object, he succeeds in seeing it. In order to point out tie moon of the second day of the tuner brimght, the moon of the accommon of our controllinght, some furnish an idea there of with the help of a rech and some to make it clearer draw lines with a recount make a pencil sketch of h, hat, in ne, of these has any actual affinity ness of the moon, nor are they as large is, nor possess its other virtues. Even so, ... may be seen or realized when observed with the help of symbols. But the difference between the symbol and the reality of God is as great as the difference between the moon and the symbols used to indicate it. It may, indeed, be possible for a YogI to acquaint us with the actual nature of the moon, but none can describe the reality shout God, for it is not a thing which can be made subject to speech. It is known only when satually realized. He also who realizes it is not able to explain it. This is so far as the Reality is concerned.

Now, it is proposed to explain what should be the chiefe of meditation of the practicant, and how it can be comprehended. What I heard on this subject from saints, or gathered from a study and hearing of the scriptures, and what conviction has got family rooted in me through actual experience, will be placed before the reader. Whoever desires may put them into matter.

Meditation on the real Form of God is not actually possible. So long as the eyes, mind and the intellect have no direct experience of God, whatever meditation is practised is based only on inference. But when this is done according to the instruction of saints or the scriptures, or taking a picture or image as model. It is possible for a practicant to realize God. It has taken, is nothing but a bint or gesture to print at the object, God. Therefore, so long as the object is not gained, all are said to be sea in error, but this should not lead one to conclusion that, first of all, the error should be removed, and then a discipline undertaken X= can ever remove the error first; after un realization it gets automatically removed. Wat transpires before this is a subject of mere inferent and whatever is practised according to inferent is the proper way of realization of the following Por instance, one has seen the moon on the second day of the lunar fortnight, he now point to it through gesture to another person all has not seen it, by saying, "May you look through my eyes, there is the moon above the tree, at a beight of four finger's breadth from the tree." This statement leads the observer's gue through the tree to the moon, and he succeeds it seeing the moon. As a matter of fact, the observer neither sees entering the eyes of the instructor, nor is the moon actually at a height of four finger's breadth from the tree, nor is the disc of the moon as small as it appears w him. But the eye being directed to the be succeeds in seeing it. In order to the moon of the second day of the f some furnish an idea there of wi a reed, and some to make it clear lime, or make a pencil a reality, none of these with the moon. They ness of the moon, nor are they as large in, nor tonsess its other suffices. Exemply, in more tonsess, its other suffices. Exemply, may be seen or realized about absenced with the help of symbols. But the difference between the symbol and the realize of God on as great as the difference between the moon model to sufficient to the moon model to sufficient to the moon model to sufficient the for a Yorf to acquaint on which the attack nature of the moon, but once can describe the realization of God, for it is not a thing which can be made subject to speech it as known only when actually realized. He also who restores it is not able to capitain it. This is no far as the Peality is concerned.

Now, it is proposed to explain what should be the oblect of meditation of the Frattienia, and how it can be comprehended. What I leaved on this subject from saints, or eathered from a study and sering of the scriptures, and what conviction has got firmly rooted an me through actual experience, will be placed before the reader. Whoever desires may put them into practice.

Meditation on the real Postm of God is not actually possible. So long as the eyes, mind and the intellect have no direct experience of God, whitever meditation is preclized in based only on inference. But when this is done according to the instruction of asints or the scriptures, or taking a picture or image as model, it is: possible for a practicant to realise God. It has already been pointed out that there is no rend to introduce any change in the form of medittion one may have chosen for himself Bal there is certainly some scope for improvement

How Meditation Should be Practiced

Some practicants meditate on the Unmark fest Pure Brahma, some on His manifested to armed Form and some others on the Fouraged Form of Bhagavan Vispa. As a matter of het just as Bhagavan Viscon, Rama and Krana an one and the same, even so the Goddess of the Female Form of the Supreme Deity, Sira Ganesa and Surya (the Sun-god) are not differel from Him. It appears that Sri Vedavija composed eighteen Puritus in order to pottil one God, according to the various conceptions d the people. The Parana bearing the name of 1 particular Deity gives precedence to that Pe'd by declaring him to be the Supreme God, the Creator, possessed of all virtues. In reality, how ever, one and the same God has been described through all those different names and ferr's The practicant may select the name and fors according to his liking. If a person meditales on a pillar regarding it as God, it will be a meditation on God, provided bis beart is fally fixed on the thought of God.

As between meditation on the Munifest and Unmanifest aspects of God, the latter is somewhat difficult than the former. The result of If worshippers of the Unmanifest aspect of of mediate on the Unmanifest without earrying in their mind the idea of the Manifest, there can be no objection; but if they carry on meditation on the Unmanifest, thoroughly realizing the truth about the Manifest, regarding Him as all-pervading and all-formed, their efforts will more quickly bear fruit. Success will be somewhat delayed if there is want of realization of the truth about the Manifest aspect of God.

similarly, there is need for the worshipper of the Manifest aspect to know the truth about the Unmanifest, all-pervading Brahma. This will make his success casier and quicker. In the GLZ, the Lord has extolled the practice of meditation done with a knowledge of His Glory.

मरवावेश्य मत्रो ये माँ निष्युका उशासते : सद्देश परवोवेतास्त्रे से मुक्तमा सत्ताः ह (Oue XII. 2)

"I consider them to be the best Yogs who, sadowed with supreme faith, and ever united through meditation with Ms. worship Ms with the mind centred on Mc."

तस्य धाचकः प्रेमवः । तजपसादयैभावनम् ।

"Om is synonymous with Him. Japa of this should be performed, and its meaning (God) should be meditated upon."

These two apportures are based on the photism threedwart (* Fege-Darland I. 25) which inculcates surrender to God. The first aphorism quoted above declares the Name of God, and the second advises practice of Japa of the Name and meditation on the Divine Form.

I do not propose here to enter on a discussion on the other views of Maharsi Patafiali on God. My intention is only to point out that, according to Patafiali, meditation on the Form should be carried on together with Japa of the Divine Name, in order to fix the mind on the object of meditation. If any practicant utters 'Anandamaya' (Embodiment of Bluss, or 'Vijūannanadaghana' (Solid Form of Knowledge and Bliss) in the place of Om, there is nothing to object. Differences lie only in the Names, there is no difference in the result.

The best type of Japa is that which is reformed by the mind, and which does not require the tongue to move, or the lips to utter any word. Duriog the performance of this year of Japa, the processes of meditation and Japa may proceed together. Of the four aspects of the Authickness, internal organ of preception and cognition), the mind and intellect are the chief Determining, first, through the intellect, the Form of God less the intellect he steaded on Determining, first, through the intellect, the Form of God, let the intellect he steaded on it, and then let the mind repeat, again and again, the name of 'Anandamsya' the all-pervalus embodiment of Bliss. This is Japa and medition, both combined. As a matter of lact, there is no special difference between the Japa of 'Anandamsya' and the Barbard of Blissenders.

tion, both combined. As a matter of lact, then is no special difference between the Jaya of Anandamaya' and meditation on the same. Both Japa and meditation may be carried a simultaneously. The second process is practice.

simultaneously. The second process is practice of Japa with the breath. In this process, Japa of the Name is performed through the throat in thythm with the ingoing and outgoing breat! In other words, the Name is repeated with the breath, stopping the tongue and lips altogether This is Japa through the Prapa, or vital aid it is also called worship through the vital air. This form of Japa also is of a superior tyre-If this practice does not become possible, let the mind be devoted to meditation, and the tongue to litterance of the Name: but la my opinion practice of Japa through the breath will be both easier and more profitable to the practicant. This is so far as Japa is concerned; strictly speaking. Japa should be practised during both the types of meditation, viz. meditation on the Unmanilest as well as on the Manifest. Now we shall deal with meditation on the Unmanifest aspect of God.

Retiries to a solitary place, and steadying as follows with a concentrated mind. Regarding all things appearing to his senses and mind as illusory, let him go on renouncing the same. Whatever appears to him, let him regard the same as non-existent. Let bim feel that the gross physical body, the senses of perception, mind and intellect, all are non-existent; thus negating everything, finally the faculty of negation of the negativing subject, that is, the faculty which negatives objects will also become silent and still (That faculty of negation is also callled Knowledge, discrimination and cognition or Pratyaya; these are all functions of the pure Intellect. The Intellect which meditates God, and negatives all other objects, by saving, 'Not this, Not this,' is its substratum and this is what is meant by the how in the Vedas. That faculty does not require to be renounced. it becomes quiet automatically. For in the act of renunciation, the three dimensional experience between the subject, object and act of renunciation is bound to appear. That is why active renunciation is not possible in that state, and it takes place automatically. Just as want of fuel will make the fire still, even so in the absence of objects, the faculties of cognition will get wholly still. Then, whatever remains as tesidue is God in His reality. This is called seedless Samadhi.

not broken. The breaking of the pot is synonwith the destruction of Ignorance; but this example also does not wholly cover the point. For when the pot is broken to pieces, its broken parts cover some portion of the sky. But when Ignorance is destroyed, nothing is left to screen even the least part of Knowledge. With the removal of error, the world wholly ceases to be. Then, what is left as remainder is Brabma. The sky within the pot, in this example, is the Iiva, or individual soul, and the wide, external sky is God. When the limitation in the form of the pot is broken, the two become one. They were one even before, but appeared as different owing to the barriers created by the limitations.

Really speaking, the example of the sky is an ot entirely applicable in the case of God. The sky is insert; God is not intert. The sky is an object of sight; God is no such object. The sky is subject to change; God is changeless. The sky is subject to change; God is changeless. The sky is not everlasting; it is destroyed during final Disvolution (Mahapralaya), God is everlasting, etc., and the sky is vold, it contains 'every other thing; God is compact and solld, other things can have no place in Him. Thus, God is wholly different from the sky. In a part of Brahma lies Maya, which is called unmanifest Praktit, in a part of Maya Kies Mahat-Tattva (Universal Intellect) from which is derived the intellect of others. In a part of that Intellect is the Eco.

in a part of the Ego is the sky (ether), is a part of the sky (ether) is air, in air is fire, is fire water and in water the earth. From this process of creation it is proved that the whole universe lies in a part of Maya, and Maya lies in a part of God. According to this resental. in comparison with God, the sky is extremely small; but this Knowledge of its insignificance is gained only after the realisation of God. For instance, a person is going through the experience of a dream. In that state of dream, be sees the quarters, time, sky, air, fire, sun, moon, day, nicht and all other things; they appear very extensive. but immediately his eyes are open, the whole of that creation vanishes. Therrafter, be rether that that creation of his thought was within him. What was within him was certifuly smaller this him, and he is greater than that creation of thought. As a matter of fict, it hid no red existence, it was nothing, but a thought but if it had existence, it was extremely small and lay in a part of him. And because it was his shought, it was not separate from Lim. This Knowledge" comes when the eyes are agencil, that is after awakening. Even so, when the soul gets surkened in the reality of find, the exciton ceases to exist.

If it is regarded to raise enywhere, then according by the attenments of value, it exists in a mete fractional past of that only is the thought.

That is why the example of the sky cannot be fully applied in the case of God. It is true only to this extent, that just as the sky appears formless to the eye of man, even so Brahma is really formless or Unmanifest, Just as the sky, appears infinite to the eye of man, even so Brahma is True and Infinite. The example of the sky is cited in order to make these ideas conform to the human intellect. When all those things are negatived, what is left as the remainder; none can describe its character; it is an exceptional, extraordinary thing. Saints possessed of subtle vision, who have realized the subtle nature of things, call it as 'सार्व कानवतनं मध'-'Brahma, who is Truth, Consciousness and Infinity.' He is boundless, unlimited, Self-conscious, the Knower, compact embodiment of Rliss, Happiness itself, true and eternal. These are the attributes to indicate that extraordinary thing. When he is realized, man gets over the risk of any fall. Misery, pain, evil, grief, limitation, distraction, ignorance and sinall these impurities cease entirely for all time-There is full dawning of one Brahma who is Truth, Knowledge, Consciousness and Bliss. The word 'diwning' is used only to convey a faint impression. What actually happens cannot he, as a matter of fact, expressed in words.

मनादिश्लरं बद्धा न संपन्नासदुष्यते । (Ott. XIII. 12). "That beginningless supreme Brahma is said to be notified that (being 1 nor Asst (non poing)." If we describe Him as the Enjoyr of Knowledge, then there is no object of enjoyment H we call Him Knowledge and Happiness itself them there is no Enjoyer. Enjoyer, enjoyment and the object of enjoyment all are reduced to one. In Him, all triangular experiences (Tripsi) cease. This is one method of meditation on the Unmanifest.

The Second Process

Seated in a solitary place, and closing his eyes, let the practicant reflect that a flood has .come in the ocean of Sat, Chit and Ananda (Truth, Knowledge and Bliss), and that he is sinking deep in that flood; that he is merced in the ocean of infinite Knowledge and Bliss The whole universe existed in the thought of . God, He has renounced the thought, therefore the world encluding me being annihilated, everywhere one God, the embodiment of Truth. Knowled te and Bliss, remains. Being engaged in the meditation of God, he (the practicant) is in the thought of . God, except him every other object has been negatived. When God will give up the thought of the practicant, he also will cease to exist, and God alone will remain. If instead of giving up his thought, God keeps him in mind, even then it is a matter of gratification and delight. Let the practicant thus worship the Unmanifest. maintaining his separate individuality. In this process, separateness remains during realization identity with God is established God gives up His thought, therefore He alone remains. This is one process. Besides this, there are other processes of meditation on the Unmanifest two of which have been described in the chanter on "Means of Realization of True Happiness" to which the reader is referred. In short, there are two methods of meditation on the Unmanifest, viz. through the concentions of separateness and identity. The fruit of both the methods is God-Realization in identity. Those who recarding the Ilva (individual soul) as finite do not conceive it as ever identical with God, attain liberation of a limited type. They do not attain eternal liberation. After Universal Dissolution, they have to return. According to this theory of Liberation. they remain separate even after the attainment of Beahma.

In this process, separateness remains during the period of practice, and at the stage of

Now, the subject of meditation on the Manifest will be dealt with The froit of worthip of the Manifest may be of both the types. If the practicant seeks immediate Liberation, or complete union with Pure Brahma, he may attain such union, or immediate Liberation. But if he mants that becoming a servant, associate or friend, he should enjoy Divine Love by living near God, or maintaining his separate individuality evere God by preaching in the world the message of Divine Love, in that ease he may attain, according to his desire, any of the types of liberation known as Stdokya (residence with God), Sarupya [attainment of God's Form] Samipya (nearness to God), Sayujya (Identity with God), etc., and after death pass on to the eternal, supreme abode of God. Living in that eternal region till final Dissolution, he ultimately gets united with God, or may also take birth as a Karaka Purusa for the redemption of the world, but birth does not cause him any entanglement Maya can infliet no misery or suffering on bin, and he remains eternally liberated. The Eternal Abode, where such a practicant goes, is above all regions, and is the best of regions. Beyood it, there is nothing else but Unmanifest Pare Brahma, the embodiment of Existence, Knowledge and Bliss. It eternally exists; in other words, when other regions are destroyed it remains What is the character of that region ? This is known to him alone who reaches that region. when all the different imaginary conceptions about it are transformed into the real truth-Mahatmas say that devotees who reach that region attain almost all the powers and Siddhis possessed by God, but they never make use of them as against the process of God's creation. He who becoming the servant, friend or associate of the glorious Lord, constantly lives near Him in Ilis Supreme abode, always acts following His behests. Verse 24 of chapter VIII of the Gud speaks referring to practicants who go to this Surreme Abode. The Brhaddrayyaka and Chhandogya Monisods contain detailed descriptions of this Upanisous path; it is this eternal Abode which is perhaps called as Goloka by the worshippers of libagavan Srt Kraps, and as Säketaloka by the worshippers of Ebagavan Srt Rama. The Vedas describe it as Satyaloka or Brahmaloka in Vitica Hishma resides, and which has been described in the first line of verse 16 of chapter VIII of the Graf, In His Manifest Form, God resides in this External Abode, Late of Isish in the External Abode, while having faith in the Manifest aspect of God, is, indeed, a createrror.

How God assumes the Manifest Form for the Sake of Devotees

God, the embodiment of Existence, Knowledge and Bliss, in His eternal, boundless aspect pervades everywhere. Fire may be mentioned as an analogous example. In its unmanifest state, Fire is present everywhere, and becomes manifest when effort is made towards it, with the belp of materials which can bring it into manifestation. When manifested the form of the Fire appears equal in length and breadth to the wood through which it is manufested. Even so, according to the wish of the devotee, all-pervading, invisible, subtle, and Formless God reveals Himself by assuming a Form. In reality, the example of the pervasiveness of Fire also is imperiect; for where there is only ether and air, Fire does not exist, but God is present everywhere completely. Therefore, the pervasiveness of God is superior to all, and mo extraordinary. There is no place where God' not. And in the whole of creation there is a such spot where God's Maya is not present Where there are time and space, Maya's bear God can, therefore, reveal Himself anywhere lie likes, through this material in the form

God can, therefore, reveal Himsell anywher wilkes, through this material in the form of Maya. Where there is water as well as cellice may be formed. Where there is earth and the potter, a pot may be formed. Water as earth may, perhaps, he unohtainable at places but God and His Maya are present everywher throughout creation. Under the circumstances.

where lies the difficulty in His manifestial Himsell? What is wanted is only the devote's Lore "Hart (Ood) pervades everywhere equally Through Love, He is manifested; this I have known."

All people can reason about the pervasiver mess of the Unmanifest, but in His Manifest Form, God can be seen only by the devoter God is all-powerful, and can do whatever He plasses. To one, to many, or to all people at outre. He can vouchsafe His vision; this depends on His will. True, like the play of a child, that will of His is not tainted with defect. His will is ever perfect. The wish of the devote elso follows the will of God. The Lord said that He resides in the heart of the devotee. This is true. Just as Fire in its unmanifest state is present in our bodies, even so God in His Unmanifest form of Sat. Chit and Ananda is present in every heart, but the heart of the devotee being pure. He can be directly seen there. This is the speciality of the devotee's beart. The reflection of the sun falls equally on wood, stone and n mirror, but it is seen in the transparent mirror, and not in the wood of stone. Even so, God though present in every beart cannot be seen in the wood-like, impure beart of the man without devotion, and ean be directly observed in the transparent mirror-like spotless heart of the devotee. What may be the devotee's conception during meditation, in that Form does He lodge Himself in the devotee's heart.

The Mahatunis say that where Kittana is performed, God Himself remains present there in Itis manifest form. The devotee also engaged in Kittana sees Him in that manifest form. This should not be regarded as a mere projection of the mind of the devotee. He sees the Lord ruly, and as a matter of fact. What is seen only as an appearance is an act of Maya. God is, bowever, the Lord of Maya. The belief of the saints is true that?—

It is possible that though present in Kittani His Manifest Form, God is not actually seen by person; nevertheless it is conducive to spiritual rov to cultivate the faith that He is Himself present them.

God can manifest Himself when He liter wherever He likes, and in whatever Form He likes according to the wish of the devotee; therefore whitever Foim the devotee meditates upon, the result is the same. He may meditate either on Bhagivis Srt Krana, the embodiment of blue-coloured flesatt, adorned with a crown containing the peaceck's feather, or on Bhagavan Sel Rama armed with the how and arrow, the Best Person who established propriety of conduct. He may meditate either of Bhagavan Sel Vispu, holding the conch, the circular weapon Chakes, the club and the latus, or on the Universal Form of God. It is all the same. Whitever Porm one meditates upon should be regarded as the fullest monifestation of God. Similarly, Jupa also may be performed, according to one's tyste and liking, of Om, Rams, Krong, Hari, Narayang, Siva, or ant other Divine Name; the result ut all to the sime. Some processes of meditation on Got's Point with attributes have been described in the chapter on "Lessons in Devotum and Divine Love" and True Happiness-the Masse of its Padiantion de

Now, it is proposed to say something about the Universal form of God. The Form which the Lord revealed before Arjuna was no doubt His Universal Form, and this Universe itself described in the Vedas as Bhuh, Bhuvah, Swah I the earth, the intermediate region and betven) is also the f.ord's Universal Form, Both are the same. The Universe itself is God's Form. In everything movable and immovable. God is present. To respect and serve the Universe regarding it as God's Form, means offering of sespect and service to God Himself in ffis Universal Form. The imperfections and impurities 10 Universe are not present in God. These are mere sports like the play of the magician. The name and form-all are sports. God ever exists in His own state of being. Like water in the ice. He in His unmanifest state fills everywhere. The water itself is seen as the solid mass of ice; in reality it is nothing. Even so, the Universe is seen in pure Brahma; us a matter of fact, it does not exist.

In Ilis Ssgupa aspect, like the Fire, eventhough unanilest. He is all-pervading. He can manifest Himself whenever He likes. This is what has been stated above. This all-pervading God is called Visya. The word Visya itself means all-pervading.

God is above the Guuas, is endowed with all Gunas, good and had, and is possessed of only virtuous Gunas

No Guna exists in God, He is above the Gunas, all Gunas, good and bad, exist in Hiragain, He is possessed only of virtues, there is no trace of vice in Him-all these three statements may be made with reference to God. This subject should be properly understood.

The reality about pure Brahma, UnmilletCouscious, embodiment of Knowledge and Elisand all-pervading God, is wholly beyond all tie Gunaa. All virtues and viers in the wedi uriginate from Sattva, Rajas and Tamas. Sattva, Rajia und Tamas—these three Gunas are included is Maya, that is why the latter is called Mayaconsisting of the three Gunas. Among thes Sattva is best, Rajas is intermediate, and Tama is lowest. God is exceptionally different incothis Maya, wholly beyond and free from the Gunas; that is why He is called Pure. Therefore.
He is above the Gunas.

Maya does not exist la reality; when her existence is conceived of, it is only an imagination. She is fancied to exist in a past of God. Virtues and vices all take place in Maya According to this reasoning, the entire would consist of visitues like truth, compassion, rennuclation, discrimination, etc., and vices like lust, anger, greed, infastuation, etc., is superimposed on anger, greed, infastuation, etc., is superimposed on

God. That is why all virtues and vices may be regarded as established in Him. Under the circumstance, He may be described as endowed with all Gunas, good and bad.

God, the Creator, or Brahma qualified by Maya, in whom this Universe is included, is not different from Pure Brahma: He manifests Himself subordinating Maya, and incarnates Himself on earth from time to time. That is why He is called 'qualified by Maya'. In the Gua it is stated :-

अजोऽपि सबस्यवासा भूतानामोश्वरोऽपि सन्। प्रकृति स्वामधिष्ठाय सम्मवास्यासमायया ॥

(IV. 6)

"Though unborn end immortal, and elso the Lord of all beings. I manifest Myself through My own Yogamaya (divine potency). keeping My Nature (Prakțti) under

Just as God incarnates Himself on carth, even so He manifests Himself in the heginning of creation, subordinating Maya to Himself. That manifestation is called Visnu. That Primersl Being, Vispu, is possessed of all the Sattvic qualities. He is the very embodiment of Sattra, He is adorned with Sattric energy, glory, power, majesty, etc. The divine qualities are the asme as Sattvagupa. Pure Sattva is His Form, Vices exist in Rajus and Tamas. Love takes place between those who resemble one another in nature and are That is why devotees who possess the virtues, are said to be the proper per gain the vision of God. The Sagupa av God, qualified by Maya, comes down on from time to time, together with Mayapossessed of all virtues; He is pure, free. and all-powerful. There is nothing which cannot perform. That is why, though in t Rajas and Tamas do not exist in embodiment of pure Sattva, the Sigups, Mr

Form of God, nevertheless He ein perform which are expressions of Rajis and Ta Bhagavan Vispu is observed to perform set violence in the course of chastisement of wicked. From the human stand point, this may app as violence or a manifestation of Tames but a matter of fact violence has no place in Ilini. He the dispenser of fastice, He has to act according the circumstance. Klug Jingha was a liberal soul, and was exceptionly Sittile in nital hat being a culer, administration of lastice at his function. He had even to inflict populatmen on thieren There is nothing objection this in 25:1. The mother in order to train up her ded chid threatens it, and nem and thun, when the fails it necessity, gives a slap of two, with a boart fall of thoughts of the child's welfite. bet the see is an antiquement bet entilbetenm for the thing Rose De the chief ment at took sanctioned by Dharma is also God. The Lord

धर्माविरुद्धो भूतेषु कामोऽस्ति भरतर्षभ ।

The desire sanctioned by Dharma is He, not the sinful desire, God is Sat (good); He is Sattvic; He is Pure Sattva. He is endowed with the pure, Sattvic Vidya (Knowledge) of Maya. The Jiva is endowed with Avidya, or Ignorance, In Vidya, there is Knowledge and Light. How can vice and darkness find any place there? Vice, lies with Avidya or Ignorance, According to this reasoning, God is endowed with pure, unadulterated virtue.

The above discussion proves that God may be described as beyond the Gupas, as endowed with both virtue and vice, and also as endowed with pure, unadulterated Sattvagupa.

The Reality shout God or Union of the Unmanifest and Manifest Forms

There are three states of the body-the gross, subtle and eausal. The body which is seen through the eyes is the gross body, that which goes to the other world after death is the subtle body, and that which gets absorbed in Maya is the eausal hody. These three divisions of the body can he seen even every day. In the waking state, the gross body functions. In the dream state, the subtle body, and in deep sleep, the causal hody remain. Similarly, God 133 also may be described to possess three states That which remains during Final Dissolution is the causal body of God; the whole universe gets dissolved into it and remains there. At that time God and His Praktti alone remain; all Jivas get absorbed into Prakṛti. In Jivas also, there are parts of both Praketi and Purusa. Consciousness is the part of God, and Ignorance is the part of Praktti. Owing to identification with Maya, Jivas do not get liberated even during Final Dissolution. After that, in the beginning of a new creation, they wake up according to their respective Karmas, like men waking up from sleep. In this way, the form of God during Final Dissolution may be described as His causal form. The subtle form of God is present everywhere;

The subtle form of God is present everywhere.

He is called the First or Primal Person. He is the original cause of Creation. His name is pruyottama, the Best Person, and God, the creator.

In his gross form, God eternally exists in His Supreme Abode as Bhagavan Visyu, the holder of the coneh, the circular weapon Chakra, the club and the lotus.

According to the very conception of the devotee God assumes His Porm. The whole of this Universe is God's Body, and our bodles are included in that Body. According to this argument we all exist in Illm.

There is another truth which abould be properly understood. When the sky is clear and the sun is up nothing is observed in the sky between the sun and us, nevertheless there is existence of water there. It will have to be agreed that between the sun and us, the region is full of water, but that water cannot be seen because it exists in the subtle or atomic state. When it becomes thicker, it begins to manifest itself. Vapour is produced by the heat of the sun, when that vapour becomes thicker it is transformed into cloud and the cloud is transformed into water. When the cloud passes a high bill, the visitor to the bill will get his clothes wet even though there may be no rain. When water particles become thicker in the cloud, drops are formed, and when thicker still, bails are formed and rained down on earth. That very bail or ice when touched by heat gets dissolved into water. and greater heat reduces it to vapour, which cising to the sky gets out of sight. Thus, finally, water is reduced to its atomic, unmanifest state. These very subtle atoms of water cannot be seen even with the help of a powerful lens that magnifies objects a thousand times. But water certainly exists in that state: if it did not,

The reality about God should be understood with the help of this example. It is said in the Gift:-

wherefrom does it come?

अधिमूर्त हारी मावः पुरुषशाधिरैव अधिपक्षां-इमेवात्र हेहे देहमूर्ता

Of the seven questions of sixth was this: What is Brahma Adhyatma? What is Karma? What is Awhidaiva? And what is In the above verse, the Lord has is reply to the questions. He said the Indestructible is Brabma, one's own . Jivatma is Adhyatma, the discharge of (Visarga) which brings forth the existence is Karma, all perishable objects are Ad Hiranyagashha, or the Second Purusa (Brai Universal Life is the Adhidaiva, and Adin the form of the unmanifest, all-pervading am Myself.

This may be understood as follows the help of the above example.

> (1) In the place of the atomic state of wa God as Pure Existence, Knowledge

Bliss, beyond the Gnuas, in Whom this universe neither ever created, nor exists; who absolute, transcendent, supreme, indestructible.

(2) Water in the form of vapour-

That very pure Bruhms in the form Adhiyajia2, unmanifest, all-perveding God, possesse

This is Adhidaiva, the life of every being, irrayagarbha or Brahma. The collection of seventeen Tattwas is called subtle; among these Tattwas Frahpa, or vital air, is the chief. The Prapas of all beings combined make the Universal Prapa; this Universal Prapa remains during Pralaya, or partial destruction, but not during frail and the prapas of any agreement of the prapase of the

(4) The drops of water in lakbs and crores-

The Jivas of the world.

(51 Rain-

The action of the Jivas.

The grossest form of the five elements.

The state of this creation is so very gross and trustient that the slightest heat will finumediately dissolve it, like half dissolved into water. Heat, in this example, is that luminous fame of wisdom which when produced dissolves the gross creation in the form of half.

Ignomoce is the same as cold. Whatever the amount of Ignorance, such is grossness; whatever the amount of Knowledge, such is subtley. The greater the weight of a thing, the lower it falls; the lighter it is, the higher it rises. Ignorance is weight; when water is extremely gross and becomes ice it has to down; even so the Jiva becoming gross threat the weight of Ignorance has to go down.

As soon as the heat of Knowledge is obtained, the weight of the world goes dist through inertia and ignorance, it sufers a fill Ignorance is the cause of descent, and Knowledge is the cause of ascent. When it once tier to the list limit of ascent, the Jivitmi does not again, suffer a fill. In its conception, everything, becomes God Himself, and, in reality, all is hat one. Atom, vapour, cloud, drop of rife and hall-all this is nothing but water.

one's bick. Just as when greated heat is applied to water, it becomes varour and goes up ever so the liva goes up. The Jivatma (individual soul) is identici with God Himself, but when it becomes grott

'This is union between the Unmanifest and the Manifest.

Egroim grows through ignorance; the more there is of Egolsm, the more will one take to objects of the world. The more there is the weight of worldly possessions, the more will one go down. There are three Gupas, among them groups is the heaviest; that is why the person possessed of Tamoguna falls low. Rajogupa is of medium weight, that is why the being possessed of Rajogupa remains among men, in the middle. Satroagupa is light, and the person possessed of Satroagupa is light, and the person possessed of Satroagupa so it is wards God.

'कर्ष गण्डन्ति स्थारवाः' 'मप्पे तिष्टन्ति राजसाः' 'भपो गण्डन्ति रामसाः'

Light things float on the surface, heavy things get submerged. The demonise qualities are the marks of Tamoguna, that is why they take one down. Sattwaguna being light takes one up. The divine qualities are the marks one up. The divine qualities are the marks of Sattwaguna, they are the possessions of God. The more these possessions increase, the more the practicant goes up nearer to God.

. In this way, one and the same God should be regarded as pervading all gross and subtle objects. extremely gross and hecomes ice it has to a down; even so the Jiva hecoming gross threat the weight of Ignorance has to go down.

As soon as the heat of Knowledge is as soon as the heat of Knowledge as obtained, the weight of the world goes dawn one's hiek. Just as when greatef heat is applied to water, it hecomes vapour and goes up erea so the Jiva goes up.

so the Jiva goes up.

The Jivatma (individual soul) is identical with God Himself, but when it becomes grost through inertia and Ignorance, it suffers a fill Ignorance is the cause of descent, and Knowledge is the cause of ascent. When it once there is the Jist limit of ascent, the Jivatma does not constructed for the life of the construction.

the list limit of ascent, the Jivatim does not again, suffer a fall. In its conception, everything becomes God Himself, and, in reality, all is but one. Atom, vapour, cloud, itrop of rain and hail—all this is nothing but water.

According to this argument, all objects are all the fact that it is not the argument, all objects are the fact that is a plant of the amplifett.

in reality God; that is why God manifests Himself in whatever manner Ile likes, whenever Ile likes, whenever Ile likes, whenever Ile likes, when this Knowledge is galard, the practicant sees God alone everywhere. What is seen everywhere, when the truth about witee is seen everywhere, and the truth about witee is seen in the analysis of the action is so water, in the half it is all in the arbitest seste for it water, as well as in the first-section. Even my one God alone exists in all.

'This is union between the Unmanifest and the Manifest.

Egoism grows through ignorance; the more there is of Egoism, the more will one take to objects of the world. The more there is the weight of worldly possessions, the more will one to down. There are three Gupas, among them Tamogupa is the heaviest; that is why the Person possessed of Tamogupa falls low. Rajogupa is of medium weight, that is why the being possessed of Rajogupa remains among mee, in the middle. Sattvagupa is light, and the person possessed of Sattvagupa goes up towards God.

'करवें गण्डन्ति सखस्याः' 'मध्ये तिष्टन्ति शजसाः' 'अधी मण्डन्ति नामसाः'

Light things float on the surface, heavy things get submerged. The demoniac qualities are the marks of Tamogupa, that is why they take one down. Sattvagupa being light takes one up. The divine qualities are the marks of Sattvagupa, they are the possessions of God.
The more these possessions increase, the more the practicant goes up neare to God.

. In this way, one and the same God should be regarded as pervading all gross and subtle objects. In His all-pervading aspect, God sees all and knows all.

सर्वतःवाणियार् सत्सर्वनोऽक्षिक्रियोमुनम् । सर्वतःभुविषक्षोके सर्वभादृत्य विद्वति ॥ (Out. xttl. 1)

What is the character of that object of Knowledge? He is possessed of hands and feet on all sides, eyes on all sides, bead, face sad ears on all sides. There is no place where He is not, no sound which He does not beaf, no sight which He does not see, no object which He does not take, and no region where He has no necess.

We offer Him catables and He immediately eats them. We offer Him praises, and He hears them. He sees everyone of our acts, but we cannot see Him. With reference to this the question arises, how do all the senses of the same Person remain everywhere? How does the nose remain where the ears are. In reply, it may be said that the objection is no doubt relevant, but the case of God is dilerent from this His is a transcendent power, and everything is possible in His case. Imagine a beap of gold in which rings, bracelete, necklaces and other other than the present the same than the same th onec, words uttered at all places by everyone and who ein see everyone, all at once.

In the state of dream, though there are no eyes, ears, nose, etc., the mind itself does every act, and itself aces and hears. It itself acts as the seer, seeing and the object of sight. Even so, the poeer of God is most entraordinary. It is expable in every way of doing everything at every place. This constitutes His Divinity and Universality.

This Universe constitutes the Body of God in His Manifest aspect. Just as ice is the solid foirm in water, but not essentially different from it, is the Universe also just like that? Is the physical body also God?

The reply to this may be given by saying both 'yes' and 'no'. If anyone serves this body and gives comfort to it, I regard it as my service and my comfort, but as a matter of fact I am not the body. I am the sool. But so long as I call this body of three and a balf cubits as 'I'. I am the body. Under the circumstance, the whole of animate and inanimate contains in the circumstance, the whole of animate and inanimate contains in the circumstance, the whole of animate and inanimate contains in the circumstance, the whole of animate and inanimate contains in the circumstance, the whole of animate and inanimate contains and in the circumstance, the whole of animate and inanimate and in the circumstance in the circumstanc world happy is binneing happiness to God. And when I am not the physical body, the Universe, as the body, also is not God. So long as this body is mine, that Rody is God's. So long as ne are His parts, He is the abole. But, really, in the end, it is proved that we are the sonl, and not the body. But till it is not $4 We should proceed precisely as above. When true Knowledge is gained, one, taintless Brahma slent will remain. From this point of view, the Unmanifest and Manifest aspects of God are one and the same. The world is a superimposition on God. The Mehatmas say that it is like the conception el the snake in the rope; in reality it does not exist. The world in the dream state appears within us; the water in the mirage is only as appearance. Even so, the world is an appearance in God. The Mahatmas alone know the truth about it. Alter awakening, it is the awakened sonk which truly realizes the luleity of the dreamworld. So long es this is not resilized, means should be adopted. The means is this-Through melitation of either the Dumanifest or Manifest form, whitever one and only one surreme object la realized, aurremleting oneself to that God, from every point of view, service should be rendered to Him through the senses and the biely, Remembrance of Him through the mind, afternoon of the Hime through the breith, beining at II a glory through the tark making the healy act according to bis gentramifican are Itis service, the printics of this is tris Devision, and through this time the Board ordempto on mas he gan als gamed

Means of Attaining Kalyana (Blessedness)

The state of salvation (Mukti) is called Kalyana (blessedness). It signifies attainment of the supreme state or supreme condition. To attain hiessedness, three means are primary-bininterested Action (Karmayoga), Knowledge (Jāina or Sānkþysyoga), and Devotion (Bhakti or Dhysanyoga), Among them, Devotion may be præstised both as a separate discipline as well as with the practices of Disinterested Action (Karmayoga) and Knowledge (Sānkhysyoga).

Karmayoga has been described in detail in the Grid, Chap. II, verses 39 to 53, and the marks of the person who has attained perfection through its practice have been described in verses 54 to 72 of the same chapter.

Ifånavoga has been described at length in chapter II, verses 11 to 30; and, according to it, in ehapter III, verse 28, chapter V, verses 8 and 9, and ehapter XIV, verse 19—the mode of action of the Jäänayogt has been given. Besides this, chapter V, verses 13 to 26 describe Jääna (Knowledge), and chapter XVIII, verses 49 to 35 describe the practice of Jänavoga together with Devetion.

Chapter V verses 27-29, chapter VI verses 11-32, chapter VIII verses 5-22, chapter X verses 30-34, and chapter X verses 8-12, chapter X verses 30-5-53, and chapter XII verses 28 cd with Dhyanayoga or Bhaltiyega. Beth there forms of Yoga are essentially one. In other verses of the Gota also these three discipling have been described in different was. Arrefthem, in the present age, the easiest and but means of attaining blessedness is the practe of disinterested Karanayoga together with Davol disinterested Karanayoga together with Davol tion. This has been very beautifully laid down in the following eleven verses of chapter XVIII of the Gita-

इति वे सानमालयानं शुद्धाद् गुद्धारं मया।
विग्रुवेनदोलेन यथेयाधि तथा वृत्त ॥
वर्गुद्धानम् भूतः मनु से वर्ग्य वया
वर्गुद्धानम् भूतः मनु से वर्ग्य वया
वर्गुद्धानम् भूतः मनु से वर्ग्य वया
सम्बन्धानम् समित्रम् सम्बन्धानम् समित्रम् समित्रम्यमित्रम् समित्रम् समित्रम्यम् समित्रम् समित्रम् समित्रम् सम

(C 12, XVIIL 56-66)

"And the Karmanogi who has taken refuge in Me, though aver performing ell actions, attains through My grace the efernel, imperithable abode

Therefore, mentally correndering all ections to Ma and with Myself as your sole Object, bare your mind correlatily Exed on Me, respring to the Yera of coemitmity.

With your mind thee Eard on Me, you shall got over all difficultive by My grace. And if out of tride you will not listen to Me, you will be utterly destroyed.

If, prompled by exciem, you thirk 'I will bot fight', this determination of yours to take the competence to fight

Arrers, that which from deterion yes do not ware to do. Bonne by your own daily horn of your return, you will helplowly sentorn.

Atjuna, the Lord Ewelle to the branks of all beings, who are mounted to the antiquence of this hody, passing them by his flighter power to revolve (seconding to the actions).

Seek refinge in Him alone with ell jets being. Arjana. Through Hie grace yet shall obtein supreme peece and the sterral abode.

Thus has knowledge, more secret that secreon itself, been imperied to you by Ms. Hawing reflected on it fully, do stron like.

Heer, egein, My suprame word, the most secret of ell You ers very deer to Me therefore, I shall tender you this sainted advice.

Fix your mind on Me, he devoted to Me worship his and how to Me, so shell Me without doubt reach Me Tole I its promise to you, for you are dear to Me darrandering oil delies to Me, seek sela! in Me clone, I shall charte you of all cine: effect not?"

What a divine teaching I licelete, aming books on Dhythrywort and Bukthryet, Net Areleas by Partifiel is the gitached book on Phythryogy, and the Aphanisms of Nitula and Stiglips are the principal books on Bhakthrya there are, no doubt nound differences of official index books hat Bhakthryas is the subject they expound. Through their stury, a god deal of knowledge on Chekthryas may be actained.

Instead of writing at length, I have only given some bints to the reader by quoting some verses of the Gifa, and giving only the numbers of certain other verses. In my opinion if any reader reflecting on the meaning of these verses begins to regulate his like according to them, the supermetly blessed state of salvation may be very easily attained by him.

The Philosophy of Blessedness

Everlasting feeedom from all norts of pains, passions, qualities and actions, and consequent realization of God Who is an embodiment of Supreme Knowledge and Bliss and is Bleasedness personified, consistent the highest blessing. It is variously termed as Mukti (emancipation), attainment of the Highest Pedestal of Glory (wwwnft), attainment of Eternal Peace (Advarca) unliberation (&u). Every human being is eligible for this state of perfection. The Lord has made the following reassuring produmation in the Basgaradities—

मो हि पार्थ स्वपाधित्य बेऽपि स्युः पार्योतयः। स्मियो बैश्यासामा द्वादास्तेऽपि धार्मित वर्रो गतिस् ह

"Arinna, womantoik, Vaifyas (members of the trading class), Stdras (those belonging to the labouring class), and aren those that are born of the womb of, in [such as the Parish), taking refuge in Ma. shey too stain the supryame goal; Hence he alone realizes the goal of human existence who is freed from the round of hird and death by practising devotion to God and meditating on Him and attains the highest abole of God.

A number of misguided statements are made with regard to salvation, of which the following three are more remarkable:—

(1) That it is not possible to attain salvation in the present age and on this globe and that householders and lowborn classes are not eligible for liberation.

(2) That liberated sonly are reborn into this world after enjoying bestitude for a considerable length of time.

(3) That liberation is an offspring of enlightenment (wit), One can be liberated during his lifetime after such wishing has divated on him, even though his mind may continue to be award by passions such as lans, anger and vices like mendacity, the which intent and as lactination to practice abilities. The adversald was tendencies are assential unique to the mind and they must travisibly persust as long as the mind is there, are a result of the face of past times that have became a tendencies.

All these theories are neither ansect nor honefull and ferminable the the contrary, they are very harmful and give rise to misconceptions. Hence we shall discuss these points seriatim.

(1) Mukti (liberation) is brought about by Self-Realization (জ্বজ্বল) and the Vedas and other scriptures have prescribed various methods for attaining it, such as Disinterested Action (ক্রিজ্বল এইটা) Meditation (আক্রীণ) and Knowledge of Self (আক্রীণ), etc., which can be easily practised at all times and in all climes.

Attainment of liberation has not been restricted to a particular age, elime, caste or order. Makti can be attained at all times and in all elimes and isopen to all classes and orders provided one is endowed with certain equipments (eventum). The above-quoted verse of Srimad Bhagaradgia also corroborates this statement. Nowhere in the Srutis or Smitis bas the Kali Age or this land of ours or any particular caste or order been declared as debarred from Mukt. The lives of saints and holy men that have flourished upto the recent times also prove that Mukti can be attained with necessary efforts by aspirants belonging to every land, age, class and order. We read in the Privine Purina-

Once upon a time there was a great controversy among the Rsis or seers of old as to the period when even a little practice of virtue would bring forth immense wholesome results. At last they all approached the sage Vedavysas in a body for obtaining a categorical reply to this question. The sage was at that time having ablution in the sacred river Bhagirathi (Gange and the other sages waited for him under the shade of trees on the bank of the river. Short afterwards the sage came out of water and made the following atterances within the hearing the seers:-"The Kali Age is truly blessed Sudras, you are blessed indeed. Women, you at the most blessed of all, there is no one mor blessed than you". The sages were great astonished to hear this and they out of curiosit enquired of Vyasadeva the meaning of this strang utterance. The sage replied that this was in repli to the question which had been engaging their minds at that moment. Mukti can be attained with very little execution in the Kali Age as well as by Sudras and the womanfolk. In other ages and among other classes and men very little is accomplished through great efforts, wherever लक्षेत्र हि प्रवर्तेत भर्मी सिद्ध्यति वैक्की। शाकितासिकडिस्विये ॥ न रेशस्यगुण्यक्सोलिः द्वित्रशुस्त्रातत्त्वरैर्गुविसत्तमाः ।

स्त्रीमिरनामासास्त्रविशुपुत्रवैत हि । बन्धनमं सनम् । त्त्रस्थितरमध्येतम्मस (Vippopuriga, VL al. 26—26) "O sages, in this Zell Age one is absolved of all sine with a little affort only by resorting to good behaviour and estates the object of Dherma. A Stire can easily state the highest state by merely service the three twiceborn classes (Brahmans, Kaatriyas and Vaifyas), and women by serving their bushands. Hence I look upon all these threess the most blessed."

Thus it is proved that in the present age and for women and Sūdras the path of salvation is easier still.

Even if it be granted for a moment that Mukti cannot be attained in the present age and is not within the reach of every class and order and that those who are zealously striving for Mukti are under a delusion, one cannot persuade himself to believe that the delusion under which they are labouring is in any way barmful to them. Even if they do not succeed in securing liberation their efforts are sure to be rewarded with good results. They will at least have their Sattya element increased and their beart purified and their divine virtues unfolded. If Mukti is impossible of achievement, it will come neither to one who strives for it nor to him who makes no effort to attain it; but the former will have his noble qualities developed through practice whereas the one who makes no effort will remain where he is, If, on the other hand, it were possible for everyone to secure liberation even in the present age, the one who strives for it will get it, whereas, the one who makes no endeavour to attain it will be shut out of it. How will be be able to attain liberation when he does not strive for it. Thus he will be debaceed from this supreme gain through a misconception and will be repeatedly thrown int, the whirlpool of birth and death. Hence according to this argument as well it is but reasonable, profitable and logical to believe that

Mukti can be easily attained at every time and in every clime and is open to every class and order (2) Nowhere in the Statis, Smrtis, Upanisads and other scriptures do we find s statement supporting the theory that even liberated souls return to this world. Only those noble souls who perform meritorious deeds with some object in view and attain heavenly blist by virtue of their meritorious deeds return to this mortal world. The Lord has said:-

ग्रैविधा मां सीमपाः प्रतपापा यक्षीरेष्टा स्वगंति प्रार्थवन्ते। पुण्यमासाच सरेग्राष्ट्रीहरू मधनित दिस्वारिक्षवि देवधीतात ॥ ते सं भारता स्वर्गकोकं विज्ञालं

भीणे पुण्ये सत्येकोकं विश्वस्ति । यथीय मैमनप्रवारा œ सतागतं कामकामा क्रमञ्जे ॥

(Gud. IX. 2021) orthogo who perform eation with some interest. ed motive es leid down in the three Vedse and drink the sap of Some plant, and here thus been purged of ein, worshipping Me through sacrifices, seek access to beaven, attaining Indra's peredise as the result of their good deeds, they eegoy the celestial pleasures ie heaven

"Having enjoyed the extensive heaven-world, they return to this world of mortals on the stock of their merits being exhausted. Thus taking recourse to action with interested motive enjoined by the three Yedas (as the means of attaining heavenly bliss), and seeking worldly enjoyments, they repeatedly come and go, (i. e., ascend heaven by virtue of their meritorious deeds and return to earth when their fruit has been unjoyed)"

There are numerous evidences in the Srutis and Smitis to show that liberated souls do not return to this world. The Lord has said in the Guzz-

सामग्रामुबनाहोकाः पुत्रसङ्खितोऽर्जुन । सामग्रेख स कीन्त्रेय प्रमार्जन्म न विचले ॥

(VIII. 16)

"Arjune, all the worlds from Brahmaloka (the abode of Brahmå) downwards are subject to appearance and dirappearance, But, O see of Kuelt, un attaining Me there is no rabitht, (For I am beyond time, and regions like Brahmaloka, being subject to time, are imperument, "

The following Srutis are also too well-known-

"न स पुनस्तवतेते, व स पुनसवतेते ।" "तेपानिकः व पुनस्तवितः ॥"

The above scriptural texts clearly prove that liberated souls never return to this world. All sorts of actions appear as being duly p formed by liberated souls in the eyes of t world; but in reality they have nothing to with those actions:—

> यस्य सर्वे समारम्भाः कामशंक्ष्यवर्धिनाः । ज्ञानाधिद्रश्यकर्माणं तमाङ्कः पण्डितं वृत्याः ॥ (००४, ११.११ यस्य नार्वहतो भाषो वृद्धिपंत्य म लिप्पते ।

इत्वापि स इम्मॅहोडाब इस्ति न निवप्पते ॥ (GALATIL स्टे "Ele whose undertaking» are all free from

desire and thoughts of the world, ead whose actions are burnt on by the fire of wiedom, himsers the wise call a sage "" of the whose mind is free from the notion of dearbip ead whose reason is not effected by worldly objects and world y coltritist, even though the may kill all these people.

hy worldly objects and worldly activities even though be may kill all these parties be done not kill, nor is he bound (by sle)" Moreover, nothing remains in the eyes of his liberated soul besides one pure Divine Shattance which is a mass of Intelligence and Illiss:—

बहुनी अध्ययमान्त्री ज्ञानवारमा शरपते । बासुदेवा सदीमित संगदाण्या शुदूर्वना ॥ १८०७, ४॥: १९ of realization worships Me, realizing that all this is God, Such a great coal is very rare."

He believes that everything is Vasudava

He Deliver that granty and a Visuate and be is called Mukta (liberated), Buch a son never comes in contact with this illustry world again; for in his eyes the world no longer exists. How can be, under such circumstances, return to this world?

Should anyone arge that if liberated souls do not return to this world a time will come when all the creatures of the world will be liberated, with the result that there will be a complete cessation of the universe once for all In reply to this we say that in the first place this is not possible; for the Bhageradgia says-

सनुष्याणां सङ्खेषु कश्चिषकति सिद्धे । यततामपि तिद्यानां कश्चिम्मां वेशि टायतः ॥ (VILS)

"Of thousands of men some rare soul strivas to resize Me: of those striving Yogis, again, some rare one (devoting himself exclusively to Me) knows Med resilty."

Under such circumstances it is impossible to all living beings to be emancipated; for there are countless in number. Nevertheless, if a day ever comes when all living beings of the entire universe may fet liberated, where lies the harm? A number of exalted sools have striven for this end in ancient times. Saints are still exerting themselves to accomplish this and will continue their efforts in fature as well. Should their endeavours come out successful at any time and the totality of living beings inabability the universe be liberated, there can he nothing like it. There is nothing in doctrines to preclude such a possibility.

Even if we grant for argument's sake ! even liberated souls have to return to ! world and that those who believe otherwise : in the wrong, no harm can come to those w entertain such an erroneous belief; for, accordi to the above doctrine those who believe th iberated souls return to this world as well t hose who do not believe like that, both wi ave to come back to this world. The resul ill be the same for both If, honever, the cory that liberated souls do not return turns t to be correct, be who believes nerwise will be a great loser, since be will shut out from that salvation which is nune from rebirth. The poor fellow will as a ilt of his erroneous belief be debarred from bighest gain while those who hold the rary belief will be emancipated. From this n to this world.

None of the authoritative scriptures such as a such as a suits. Smrtis, Upanisada, etc. establish ibat one tital liberation during one's lifetime even bis mind may continue to be awayed by a such as lust, angre, etc., Shwadadfil has in unequivocalterms declared last, and warfie to be the triple gate of bellederation as well it is reasonable, profitable best to believe that liberated souls do not विविधं नश्करते हूं हारं पाश्चमायनः । कामः क्रोचसाया सोअस्यसादेतस्त्रयं स्पत्रेत् ॥ (XVI, 21)

The dialogue between Lord Sri Kṛṣṇa and Arjuna in the Bhagaruadhis makes it clear that desire" is the seed of all sins and that an appirant can attain liberation only by destroying it by means of spiritual knowledge. Verses 36 to 43 of Chapter III of the Bhagaruahtis treat of this subject in detail. How can one attain liberation so long as he is not freed from passions like lust and anger, joy and sorrow. A liberated soul will have really nothing to do with this world. The Gilz says:—

यस्त्रात्मरतिरेव काद्यसम्बद्धाः भानवः । भारमन्येय च संतुष्टशस्य कार्यं न विघते ॥ नैव तस्य कृतेनायाँ नाकृतेनेह कन्नन । न भास्य सर्वमृतेषु कन्निदर्यन्यराज्ञयः ॥

(IIL 17.18)

"He, however, who takes desight in the Self, alone and is gratified with the Self, and is contented in the Self, has no duty. In this world that great soul has no ne whatforeer for things done, nor for things not done; up has be selfish dependence of any kind on any creature."

The mind of a liberated soul is completely rid of all impurities and unsteadiness and stripped of the veil of ignorance and becomes pure. How can under such circumstances passions like lust and anger, for and sorrow persist in him? The Lord has said;-

क्रमन्ते ब्राप्टिकांमसुरुषः श्लीणकृतमणः । विक्रद्रेषा यतान्मात्रः सर्वमूत्रदिवे रागः व्र कामकोषविषुत्रामां यतीनां यतवेतसास् । व्यक्तिः ब्रह्मनिर्दाणं वर्गते विदितासनास् व

"The esers whose eins here been washed away, whose doubts have been dispelled by Mnowledge, whose mind is firmly established in God end who ere actively engaged in promoting the weitare of oil beings, elisin Brahma, who is all Peace.

To those wise men, who are free from instand enger, who have subdued their mird and have realized God, Brahms, the shode of eternel peace, is present all round."

Stuti texts "right and" (He shell joy and sorrow), "atta Disturder! (One who has realized his Self overcomes grief) and so on are also well-known in this connection. The Sattras are unanimous on this rount. God Realization eradicates attachment ("sista), which is the very root of all passions how can under such circumstances passions which are the outcome of attachment persist? These scriptural texts prove that it is never reasonable to believe that passions linger even in the pure heart of a liberated soul.

If it is believed that traces of passions such as lust and anger linere even after one has attained liberation during his litetime and that those who do not believe like that are erroneously engaged in eradicating them, it should be considered whether such a wrong belief leads to any harm. If we consider this question dispassionately, we would arrive at the conclusion that those who strive to eradicate lust, anger, etc. are wiser than those who do not engage in such efforts; for those who strive for it will succeed in having greater control over them and thus they will be classed as superior in the rank of Jivanmuktas. Suppose a man is very much given to lust and anger while another is altogether free from them and both of them are Ilvanmuktas according to the theory enunciated above. Under such circumstances it is natural that the Jivanmukta who is free from lust, anger, etc. is more adorable than the one who is given to lust and anger. Even from this point of view is in advisable to endiente lust anger, etc. And if it be true that no trace of a passion is left in the mind of a livenmulta. the one who believes otherwise will not only be shut out from liberation but he will be a great loser in other ways; lor (according to Gita XVIII. 22 1 he will wrongly believe himself to be a Jnani (enlightened soul) and Mukta liberated 1, and will be deharred from the sacred work of mending his character, and entangled in the delusive web of lust, anger, etc. will be repeatedly thrown into the whirlpool of birth and death, suffering hellish tortures of various kinds (cide verses from 16 to 20 of Chapter XVI of the Gits). Hence one should recognize it as the supreme doctrine that in the mind of Jivanmukta passions such as lust and anger, is and sorrow do not persist. People raise man more kinds of doubts about Mukti but consider tions of space do not allow us to discuss the question any further.

ł

The above exposition should have enable the reader to understand that a liberated son is altogether free from the three Gnas or qualified (ride Gida Chapter XIV, verses 19, 22-2). Hence no passion or seed of action lingers in sim mind and hence he is not reborn (in this world). It is attachment to the qualities that is responsible for rebirth. The Lord says—gove neglect if gight neglect of the control of th

कारणं गुणमहोऽस्व सहसयोनितन्त्रम् ॥ (Cus, XIII. 12)

The readers must have also understood that Mukti is not sometaing impossible to achieve in the present age. Hence we should wake ay soon and apply ourselves to our daty We have up till now wasted most of our precious time in sloth and inertia and should he wild awake now. One should not waste a single moment of his life. Time lost cannot be retrieved in any way. Hence one should chalk out the path of salvation for himself by mens of association with holy men and tread it in right carnest. This is the philosophy of beatinde!

उत्तिष्टत आग्रत प्राप्य वतक्रियोधतः।

"Awske i Arise i and approaching eminant segss seek instruction from them"

God-Realization through Practice of Renunciation

الير

रवस्था कर्मेण्डासहं विश्वनृती निराधयः। कर्मेण्यभिष्युणोऽपि भैव क्रिजियकरीति सः॥ न दि देशस्ता वावयं स्वकुं कर्मोण्यरीयतः। यस्त कर्मकक्ष्यसम्। सः स्वामीस्यभिपीयते॥

Living even the life of a householder, man can realize God through the practice of renunciation. Indeed, 'renunciation' is the principal means lor attaining God. Therefore, dividing them into seven classes, the marks of renunciation are being briefly enunciated below.

(1) Total Renunciation of Prohibited Acts

. This is non-performance, in any way whatsoever, through mind, speech and the body, low acts probibited by the acriptures, such as, theth, adultery, falsebood, deception, fraud, oppression, violence, taking of interdicted food and wrongdoing, etc.

(2) Renunciation of Acts Performed for the Satisfacton of Worldly Desires

This is refraining from sacrifices, charities, austerities, worship and other desire-born actions, the supreme doctrine that in the mind of a fivanmukta passions such as lost and anger, for and sortow do not persist. People raise may more kinds of doubts about Muktir but considerations of space do not allow us to discuss the question any further.

The above exposition should have enabled the reader to understand that a liberated soal is altogether free from the three Gongs or qualified (ride Gida Chapter XIV, verses 19, 27-25). Hence no passion or seed of action lingers in his mind and hence he is not rehorn (in this world). It is attachment to the qualities that is responsible for rebirth. The Lord says.

world). It is attachment to the qualities that b responsible for rebirth. The Lord saysr-दुरर: महतिको हि सुक्ते महतिकान् गुलाद्। करणं गुलसहोऽस्य सहतिकान् गुलाद्। (८०१८, राग्न. स)

The readers must have also undersided in the present age. Hence we should wake if soon and apply ourselves to our daty. We have up fill now wasted most of our precipitume in sloth and inertia and should be wawake now. One should not waste a someoment of his life. Time lost cannot trieved in any way. Hence one should out the path of salvation for himself h finterest served by another; all these and illar ideas of getting service from another for a satisfaction of self should be renounced. it is the louth type of renunciation.

(5) Total Renunciation of Indolence and devotion to God, worship of the celesticials, vivice of the parents and other elders, performance of sacrifices, charities and austerities, intenance of the bousehold through the earning livelihood by means of works assigned according the Varpastrama system, and taking of food drink, etc. for the maintenance of the bodyrthe performance of these indolence and every run of delite should be reconsect.

Desire for Fruit in the Performance

Whatever duties there are, e.g., cultivation

(A) Repunciation of Indolence in the Practice of Devotion to God

Revarding it as the supreme duty of one's on the subfime stories of the virtue, glory and Love of God, who is extremely compassionale, friend of all, the best of Lovers, the knower of the heart, and renouncing idleness practise constant Japa, together with meditation, of His extremely hallowed Name.

(B) Renunciation of Desire in the Practice of Devotion to God Regarding all enjoyments of this world and the next as transient and perishable and hindracet in the path of Devotion to God, no prayer shoed be offered to God for obtaining any object whith soever, nor should any desire be entertained a the mind for the same. Also, prayer should not be offered to God for the removal of any troube even when one is overtaken by it in other works the thought should be cultivated in the misd that to sacrifice life is preferable to bringist stain on the purity of Phakti for the aske d this false existence. For instance, Prahlida, ever though intensely persecuted by his father, perst offered ony prayer to God for the removal his distress.

Curses with barsh expressions, such as "Le the chastizement of God Laon you," etc. show not be pronounced even egainst the persecutor not us who does eny injury, and no thought o or cue in thought o counter-digity should be entertained against him is reide at attribunent in the path of pronounced in words, such as "May God restore you to bealth," "May God remove your distress," "May God grant you a long life," etc.

In correspondence also, words of worldly interest should not be used. In Marwari society, there is a general custom of writing such words of worldly import in the form of prayer to God for obtaining worldly objects, e. g., "God is our helper here and elsewhere." "God will advance our sales," "God will bring a good monsoon," "God will remove the allment," etc. Instead of this, anspicious, disinterested words, such as "God this, anspicious, disinterested words, such as "God will remove the allment," etc. Instead of this, anspicious, disinterested words, such as "God will remove the allment," "etc. State of bliss exists everywhete," "Performance of Ebajana is the only "stsential duty," etc. should be employed and other than these no word of worldly interest should be written or suttreed.

(C) Renunciation of Indolence and Desire in Connection with the Worship of Celestials

There is God's injunction to offer worship to the celestials, who are worthy of being worshipped, during the time appointed for such worship, according to the scriptures as well as tradition. Regarding the earrying out of God's beheit as one's supreme duty, such worship should be offered to a celestial with enthusiasm, according to the prescribed rules, without expression of any desire for the satisfaction of any worldin interest.

With the object of such worship words implying worldly interest should not be written on the cash book, and other account books. For instance, in Marwari society it is customary on the New Year or Dewall day, subsequent to the worship of Goddess Laksmi, to write many words implying worldly desire, such as Goddess Laksmi will bring profit," "The store will be kept falls" "Prosperity and success will be brought," "Under the protection of Goddess Kall," "Under the protection of Goddess Ganga," etc. These should be substituted by unselfish, auspicious words, such as, "Sri Laksminarayana, in the form of Bliss, is present everywhere," or "Goddess Laksmi has been worshipped with great delight and enthusiasm" Similarly, while making entries on the daily cash book, this procedure should be followed.

(D) Renunciation of Indolence and Desire in the Service of Parcats and other Elders

It is man's supreme duty to render daily services, in all possible ways, to parents, the preceptor and other persons who are one's superiors in Varna, Asrama, are, qualifications, of in whetever other respect it may be, and daily offer them obeisances. Cultivating this thought the mind, and abandoning all idleness, disinterested and enthusiastic services should be regadered

(E) Rennuclation of Indotence and Desire in the Performance of Sacrifices, Charities, Austerities and

nther Auspicious

Sacrifices, e. g., the daily obligatory five great sacrifices, and other occasional sacrifices, should be performed. Through gifts of food, clothing, learning, medicine, and wealth, etc. attempt should he made, necording to one's capacity, to make all creatures happy, through mind, speech and the body. Similarly, all forms of badily suffering should be undergone for the preservation of Dharma, These duties enjoined by the scriptures should be performed, with faith and enthusiasm, according to God's beheat; regarding them as supremely important, wholly recouncing the desire for all kinds of enjoyment of this world and the next.

(F) Renunciation of Indolence and Desiro in the Performance of Proper Works for the Maintenance of one's Family through earning of Livelihood

It is God's injunction that the family should be maintained through service to the world by performing duties laid down in the scriptures

[•] The firs Great Szerifices ore as fallows.—(1) Szerifice to gods (performance of Agusbotra, etc.); (2) ascrifice to

Together with the four types of renunciation stated above, when according to this fifth type of renunciation, all evils and all forms of desire are destroyed and there remains the one strong desire for God-Realization, it should be regarded as the mark of the person who has attained sipeness in the first stage of Wisdow.

(6) Total Renunciation of the Sense of Meum and Attachment with regard to all Worldly Objects and Activities

All worldly objects like wealth, house, clothes, etc., all relations like the wife, child, friends, etc., and all forms of enjoyment of this world and the next like honour, same, prestige, etc. being transient and perishable, and regarding them as impermanent, the sense of meum and attachment with retrad to them should be renounced. Similarly, having developed pare, exclusive Love for God alone, the embodiment of Truth, Knowledge and Bliss, all sense of meum and attachment should be renounced for all works done through the mind, speech and body, and even for the body itself. This is the sixth type of renneciation.

aien who reach the stage of this sixth form of renunciation, developing dispassion for all things of the world, attain exclusive Love for God alone, the supreme embodiment of Love. Therefore, retiring to a solitary place, they like only to hear and relate the stories of God's spotless Love, which reveal the virtues, glory and mysteries of God, and reflect on the same, and practise Bhajana, meditation and study of the scriptures. They develop an abhorrence for wasting even a moment of their valuable time in the company of men attached to the world and induleing in fun, luxury, weongdoing, backbiting, enjoyments and idle gossip. They perform all their duties reflecting on God's Form and Name, only for God's soke, and without any worldly attachment.

(7) Total Renunciation of Subtle Desires and Egoism with regard to the World.

the Body and all Actions

All objects of the world being projections of M191, are wholly transfert, and God alone, the embodiment of Truth, Knowledge and

Design Electric Man through precious of Bicques and materials and manaches with half man, the demonstration of this time of the property of th

Bliss, is equally present everywhere: this idea having been firmly established, all subtle desires for the objects of the world, including the body, and for every form of activity have to be totally renounced. In other words, there should be no thought of them left in the mind in the form of impressions. And due to total lack of identification with the body, there should be no trace of any sense of doership with tegand to actions done through the mind, speech and body. This is the seventh type of renunciation.

The thoughts of persons, who attain Supreme Dispassion† in the form of this seventh type of renunciation, set totally withdrawn from all objects of the world. If at any time any worldly thought makes its appearance, it does not leave any impression on the mind, for they always remain firmly established in God, the embodiment of Truth, Knowledge and Fliss.

Even when there is total segation of thirs, of the duing for final, of the same of uncoun and elterhement with restate all objects of the world and all forms of settirity, desire in its abula form and the feeling of downship pressu. This is why recurrently and a substitution of setting and septime has been described as the everaft type of remonation.

[†] In the person who has reached the sixth stage of iconomication sated above there may be, now and then, some slight manifestation of statedment, who his constawith objects of sajoyment increases; but in the person who has reached the seventh stage of resonations there can be no statedment, even when there is constant with objects of enjoy-

Therefore, his mind being freed from all virtues like Abigust, Truth, Non-Steeli

Continence . Abstaining from vilification . Mole Absence of pride, Artlessness, Purity, Conte

ment Budurance . Love for the company haly men, Spirit of Service, Inclination to P form sierifices. Chirity. Ansterity", Love 6 Scriptures, Mind-control, Sense-control, Humility, Straightness, Compassion, Faith, Discrimination, Dispussion, Love for seclusion, Refraining from accumulation of objects, Absence of doubt and distraction, Cessation of Desires, Personal Magnetism, Forgiveness, Fortitude, Absence of malice!, Ferrlessness. 1 Absence of egoism, Quietude. Exclusive Devotion to God, atc.

naturally make their appearance.

Thus through total absence of desire and egoism in regard to all objects, including the sod chenting of God's Names and glories,

2. This means straightness of the body and mind. sa well so of the senses.

3. Faith, so strong so in things directly perceived, in the Vedes, other scriptures and in the utterances of seints, the preceptor and God.

4. Real knowledge about what is true and what is false.

Real knowledge about what is true and what is false.
 Total absence of attachment for anything belonging to retion noto Brahmeloka.

any region upto Brahmuloka.

6. Refraining from accomulation of wealth with the

 Refraining from accumulation of wealth scuse of meum.

7. It is that power of superior souls under the influence of which even wicked, worldly-studed men generally abstain from sinful conduct and engage themselves in virtuans deeds according to their behests.

8. Disinchmento inflict may form of panishment on

o. Distriction to milet may form of punishment o one who does an injury.

body, and all actions, constant union threat's identity with God is the mark of the person who has attained ripeness in the third stage of wisdom.

Some of the virtues mentioned above appear in the first and second stages, but all the virtues make their appearance generally in the third stage. For these homage are the marks of persons who have renebed very near God-Realisttinu, and are the means of attainment of direct Knowledge of God. That is why in Chapter XIII of the GWa (verses 7 to 11) Bhagavan Sri Kista enumerated most of these virtues as Knowledge and in Chapter XVI (verses 1 to 3) mentions them as the divine qualities.

Moreover, the scriptural authorities regard these virtues as the common Dharma of humanity. All men are qualified to attain them. Therefore, depending on God all should make special efforts to develop the above virtues in their mind

Conclusion

In this article it has been said that Gol may be realized through seven types of renunciations Among them, it has been pointed out the first five types of renunciation indicate the first stage of wisdom, those upto the sixth type indicate the marks of the second stage of wisdom, and renunciations upto the seventh type indicate the marks of the third stage of windom. He who attains ripeness in the third stage of wisdom arrains response immediately realizes that, the ird.caren appear an accounting relatives God, the embodiment of Truth, Knowledge and Biles. There, after he eeases to have any connection with this transient, perishable, impermanent world. Just as the person awakened from a dream ceases to have any connection with the dream-world, even so the person awakened from the dream of ignorance ceases to have any connection with the impermanent world, the creation of Maya. Though from the point of view of the world all forms of activities are observed as taking place through the body of that person under the force of Prarabdha, and the world gains a lot by such activities, (for being freed from desires, attachment and the sense of doership, whatever the Mahatma does through his mind, speech and hody is accepted as the standard of right conduct in the world, and from the ideas of such a Mahatma scriptures are formed) yet that person who has realized God, the embodiment of Truth, Knowledge and Bliss lives wholly beyond Maya, consisting of the three Gunas. Therefore, he during illumination, activity and sleep, etc., which are the effects of the Gunas, does not abbor them, nor, when they cease, desires for them. For he views pleasure and pain, gain and loss, honour and ignominy, praise and blame, etc., as also earth, stone and gold, etc. alike. Therefore, that Mahatma does not feel delighted on obtaining an desirable object, or on the removal of what is undesirable, nor does he grieve when obtaining an undesirable object or over the loss of what is desirable. If for any reason, his body is cut with a weapon, or he is faced with any other form of extreme suffering, that man of wisdom, established exclusively in God, the embodiment of Truth, Knowledge and Bliss, is not shaken from this eter. Fire to his mird, the whole wield appears to a misage, and nothing exists bayond the one that, the emboliment of Irith, Knewlodge and flies, Whit more can we sty about him, the mental state of that scal who his terbent God, the embodiment of Tenth, De meinige und litten is, fin erality, known to bim al ene. None can suvert is through mind, intellect or the senses. Therefire, waking as soon as tornible from the sleep of ignorance, and surry leving oneself at the lect of a saint sad abline by his instructions one should earnestly take to some spiritual discipline for realizing God through the seven types of renunciation stated above. For this extremely rare gift of a human life is attained, only through the grace of God, at the end of many births. Therefore, the invaluable time alloted to this life should not be wasted in indulging in the perishable, transient, impermanent enjoyments of this world-

The Unmanifest and Manifest

Divinity

Beyond the one Eternal Existence which is untainted by Maya whatever meets the eye is unreal and imaginary like an object seen in a dream. This is the highest teaching of the Vedas, the Upanisads and the Vedanta philosophy. This, again, is the theory propounded by Sankara nay, this is the only doctrine that stands the test of nay, this is the truth is so sublime and esoterie reason and the same and esoterie that it is not advisable to lay it open to all and that it is not an included to tay it open to all and sundry in the natural course at once. There sundry in the second who can talk and hear of

t. He alone is entitled to speak on the subject who has realized this truth and lives up to it, and be alone is eligible for being initiated into t who is ripe for its realization and realizes it the noment it is communicated to bim. Those who o not belong to this category are neither allowd to talk of it nor to hear it talked of. Nay, his sort of teaching can even have an adverse ffect on those who have likes and dislikes, who cjoice in earthly gains and are upset by losses, he experience joy and sorrow as distinct from ach other and who have a zest for worldly aloyments and are given to the gratification of seir senses. They are led into the erroneous elief that, the world itself heing a mere dream, ns like mendacity, adultery, violence, fraudulence ed chicanery, etc. are also unreal, so that no irm can come to a man whatever be may do. rmed with this helief they give up virtuous tions which are difficult to perform and require me effort, whereas it is much easier to give p such actions and to indulge in sinful deeds. ence it is probibited in the Sastras to preach is doetrine to those who are unqualified. For e latter are unable to grasp this teaching in true spirit, and abandon virtuous actions, bile they eannot obtain illumination and are us losers in both ways. The following Hindi uplet is often quoted in this connection and is ry significant :-

मदानाप बंडाको अर्थ, वर्ज दिवे हिरहाय । द्वापी हैकी चलवा, सदत संपर्ध बावड

"Com who has not obtained enlighteners and has abandoned his legitimete datte forces lite way for heli."

That is why the Lord says in the Blassick

न पृथिभेर् प्रचवेरकामां वर्णमहिनाम् । सोषवेगमां वर्णामः विद्वान् मुन्तः समाचान् व

"A wise man established to Me should rive attention be stitled to settion, but should get them to perform all their duties, duly performing them himself."

The only difference between the actions of a wise and those of an ignorant person is that those of the former are naturally free from attachment while those of the latter are performed with attachment. The GUA says:—

> सन्ताः कर्मश्यविद्यांसी यथा कुवेन्ति मारतः । कर्वोदिनांसवासन्त्रिकीर्वकीर्वकीकसंग्रहमः ॥

कुर्योद्विद्वांश्रपासक्तविक्वीर्ड्डाकसंग्रहम् ॥ (III. 25)

"Arjuns, so the unwise sot with attachment so should the wise man, seeking maintenance of the world order, sot without attachment."

The long and short of it is that one should not talk of Brahma untainted by Maya helote unqualified persons.

It may be urged here that when there is nothing beyond the one Eternal Existence untainted by Maya the existence of the universe as also of its Creator is out of the ouestion. And if this is the case, what will happen to the scriptures that treat of these subjects and the creation as it appears to us? Our reply to this is that, to take a familiar instance, the sky is devoid of form but sometimes a strip of cloud makes its appearance therein. Now, such strips of cloud spring up in the sky; appear in the sky as well as melt away in the sky; but all these changes make no difference in the substance of the sky. The part of the sky which is covered by elouds, however, assumes a distinctive shape and is the seat of phenomena like rain, etc.

Similarly, that aspect of the one Eternal. Pure and Infinite Existence which appears to be acreened by Maya is known as Qualified or Personal God. In fact, this Qualified or Personal God is not something different from the Impersonal Divinity, although He is regarded as differ... because of His contact with Him as such. This

ing in this Qualified aspect of Consciousness clouds in a fraction of the sky is an effect Maya (illusion). Maya is only another may for the Sakti or power of the Creater. The power of God imheres in Him in the same way.

as the burning power subsists in fire. This i also known by the name of Prakrti (Nature and Ajfiana (Ignorance). Now, what is this Maya and how does it come into being? This is a different topic sail will lead us into digression. We would therefore refrain from discussing this question and revert to our original topic. From the foregoing exposition it should have been clear that the formless, all-pervading, infinite Consciousness, which has been likened to the sky, is termed 25 Suddha Brabma (Divinity untainted by Mara ! In fact, the analogy of the sky, too, is not appropriate and conveys only a partial idea of Brahma. For the sky has got a limit and even though it is formless, it is endowed with an attribute, viz., sound; whereas Suddha Brahma is limitless (infinite), maqualified, absolute and one. Hence It has been styled as Indescribbile (#1844) and that is why this profound truth can be preached only to those qualified persons who can assimilate it. So much about Sudths Drahms. Now, that aspect of Brahma which (like the part of the sky which is covered by clouds) appears at differentiated expresents the Presonal Coll who is qualified by Maya and is the Creator God who is qualified by Maya and is the Creator of the universe. And the whole universe subsists in a fraction of that God:-

110

विष्टम्याइमिदं कुल्नमेकारीन स्थिती अगर् ॥ 1 Gud. X. 42 1 This naturally leads us to a discussion of the Embodied or manifest Divinity known by the name of Avatara or Incarnation. Whenever He finds it necessary, this Personal God harnesses His Maya and manifests Himself in a form suitable for His mission. He is incarnated sometimes in the human form, sometimes in the form of a boar, sometimes in the form of a man-lion, sometimes in the form of a fish or tortoise and sometimes in the form of a swan or a horse, according to the exigencies of the situation, and blesses those with whom He comes in contact with His much covered vision. But He is never born in this world like ordinary creatures. The Lord has stated the occasion and motive of His incarnation in the following couplets of Stimed Bhazaradeus -बहा बहा कि धर्मेला स्टानिसंबनि भारत।

भरपुत्वात्रमधर्मेन्य तद्दान्यानं स्थास्यद्दम् ॥ परिश्रासास साध्यो विवासास स एकताम । वर्मसंस्थापनार्थात संसद्धीत वृते युगे व Enumer & standonyenes y on a first 17552.

At the moment I find no such learning of the who were come forward and any lith to be allowed himself forth for the deliverance of sections men, Vistons men can be had in too number, but we find some who has come down to the earth to these two the vistons would not one of who may proclaim like fit Kranner.

सर्वेत्रमेत् वीत्राय मामेत्रं शार्गं गर। भौ मा सर्वेत्रोग्यो मेल्लीययामि मा पाणः ह

"Marrendering all daties to Me, seek refer in Me alone, I shall absolve you of all size, grieve pol."

There is nobody in this world at present who can undertake to absolve suyone from sins through sheer dependence on him.

A few days ago a certain geotheman approached me, saying that sins had multiplied in the world and asked me whether the time had not yet come for the Lord to body Himself forth and, if the time had with the had arrived, why did the not incarnate Himself! I pleaded ignorance in this matter. As a matter of fact, the not claim to know anything and everything. The Lord alone knows why the tarties. Of course, if anyone asks me whether I shall be pleased in the event of the Lord incarnating Himself! I should say I shall be only too glad if the Lord bodies Himself forth; for in that case even I can obtain Himself forth; for in that case even I can obtain this vision. Il anyone innocently asks me whether in my opinion the time for the Lord incarnating Himself has come, I can say from surmise that the time has probably not yet arrived. For, had the time come, the Lord would undoubtedly have bodied Himself orth. Things are not yet so had as they should be in the Kall Age. Atrocities have not yet grown 30 rampant, and righteoususess and righteous men have not yet unfered so much as they did during the time of other incarnations. During the time of other incarnations. During the time of Bhagavan for Rama alone, for instance, so many sages and seers were killed by demons that heaps of their hones had been piled up here and there.

Q.—Were not the ancient Esis powerful enough to kill the demons? If they were, why did not they kill the demons?

Ant.-The Rsis did possess the power of killing the Raksasas, but they were not willing to expend the spiritual energy which they had acquired and stored up through lifelong practice of religious austerities (more). When the sage Viswamitra approached King Dasaratha and begged him to handover Rama and Laksmana to him, he said to him. "Even though I can kill the Raksasas myself. I shall thereby be exhausting the store of spiritual energy that I have accumulated through the practice of austere penances, which I am loth to do. On their death at the hands of Srf Rama and Laksmana the performance of my religious rites will be secured neainst sacrilegious encroachments, and the store of my spiritual energy remain intact. Sri Rama and Laksmapa can easily make short work Rama and Laksmana to be ordinary boys, and of parental affection said to Viswamitrs, Your Holiness, I am prepared to accompany you myself and can kill any Raksasas excepting Ravapa, of ourse; I heseech you therefore to let Rama and aksmana alone and take me with you." Seeing the Imperor under the cintehes of infatuation, the sige asistha who recognized the real greatness of $1 ama intervened and pleaded with the mperor thus:-"Your Majesty need not be afraid: they

e not ordinary boys and no harm can come to

em. You may therefore gladly send them with sage." This narrative will show that the res of yore were powerful, no doubt, but they I not want to exercise their power which y had necumulated through austere penagers. The Kali Age has not yet advanced so far as to essitate the Lord's incarnating Himself, Moreover, Lord does not body Himself forth so easily on ry occasion. In the first instance, He deputes His edited representatives, known as Karala Purujas. esting them with His own authority, just as the prietor of a firm sends his trusted agent to after his husiness, liut when be feels that the utation of a representative would not serve the red end and that things would not be set sight ess he sees in person, be himself proceeds to that ces in the same way, when the Lord leels it necessary to body Himself forth even after He has deputed a representative. He appears personally in our midst. The privileged class known as Karaka Purusas includes those God-attained souls who after easting off their mortal frame are excorted to the higher regions by celestial beings and ultimately resch the region called Satyaloka, according to the Process mentioned in the following couplet of Science Bearands (1811).

अभिरयोतिरदः शुद्धः चण्यासा उत्तरायणम् । तत्र प्रयाता गण्छन्ति सद्य सद्भविदो अनाः इ

(THE PL)

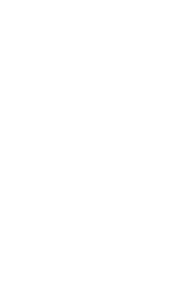

Such hiessed beings as are destined for the Satyaloka are received in advance by the attendants (wit) of the Lord who are also known by the name of warse ver (superhuman or angelic beings). who take them to the highest abode of the Lord with great honour. That abode or region, I nown as Parama Dhama, does not perish at the time of universal destruction (was) and is reflectly immune from effiction and sorrow One who finds his way into this region once is never teborn in this murtal world with the bonds of Karma of action. Probably it is this region which is designated 45 Valkuntha by the devotees of Srl Visnu, as Golola by the devotees of Sri Krana and as Sileta by the devoters of Sri Rama. The boly persons who End their admittance into this place remain there in an ecatatic state urtil final dissolution (meres) and are ultimately merced in Literally or pure L'aistence (Ex et). Of these eminopated souls if anyone comes into this world again at the bidding of the Lord who is the Creator of this universe, or of his own free will, simply with a view to work for the welfare of the universe, he is known as a Karaka Parusa (anthorized agent or representative) Believing souls can be redeemed merely by seeing them, touching them and thinking of them, Sages like Srl Vasistha, Srl Vedavyasa and so on belonged to this type of exalted heings. Redemption of mankind is the only motive of their incarnation in this world. We find that the representatives of a ruler sometimes visit the state gaol on some special occasion with the royal commission D release the prisoners confined there and return of their own free will, after carrying out the behests of their rufer. Prisoners as well as state officers visit the gaol, the difference being that whereas prisoners have to go there under compulsion in order to serve the sentence awarded to them for their crimes, the officials go there of their nwn free will and out of compassion, in order to release the prisoners in hondage. Similarly, the Karaka Purusas, too, make their apearance in the world simply in order to liberate the souls that are bound by the shackles of Karma. The only difference hetween an Avatara and a Karaka Purusa is that the former was nevera Jiva (a soul in bondage) whereas a Karska Purnsa was a Jiva helore and attained liberation by gradual stages through his own efforts coupled with Divine Stages and Avathra or even a Karaka Purups is not to be found anywhere in this world at the present day; of course, Jivanmukta saints can be found. Mukti (Liberation) is of two kinds: Sadyomukti (direct nr immediate liberation) and Kramamukti (liberation by gradual stages). Those who are absolutely freed from ignorance in this very life and are merged in the one eternal, true, blissful and intelligent Principle, the whole stock of whose actions has been consumed by the fire of wisdom and in whose eyes nothing remains except the one infinite and endless Divine Existence are called Itvanmuktas (those who are liberated while living) and are said to have attained what is known as Sadyomukti, while those who reach the highest abode of God through different Lokas or regions are known as Kramamukta. This Kramamukti, again, is of four kinds vie. Samiora, Sarūpya, Salokya and Sayujya, Samipya means living in close proximity with the Lord: Sarûpya means being endowed with a form similar to that of the Lord; Salokya means residing in the same Loka with the Lord and Sayuiya means oneness with or merging in the Lord. Those who have the attitude of a servant or wife towards the Lord and treat Him as their master or husband are blessed with Samipyamukti; those who look upon Him as a friend and treat Him as such ase blessed with Sarupyamukti; those again, who love Him as a child are blessed with Salokyamnkti and those who think of Him as an enemy or worship Him with devotion mixed with Inana (knowledge) are blessed with Savnivamukti underlying this hehaviour. By weeping piteously for Sita and Laksmana he taught the world the lesson of supreme love and tenderness of heart. The Lord has described His nature in the Bhatawadgith as follows:—

86

ये यथा सौ प्रपत्तन्ते तांतपैव भजान्यहम्।

"Arjuna, however men approach Me, even so do I seak them,"

It was in consonance with this principle that Srl Rama accosted even inanimate objects such as trees, boughs and leaves and so on and enquired of them the whereabouts of Sita and thus proved that just as Sita who was at that time in the clutches of Ravana was loudly repeating His name 'in the ecstasy of love, even so was He loudly repeating her name with a heart full of love. Similarly, by wailing for Laksmana Srt Rama proved that His heart was as sore for Lalsmana as the latter's could be for Him. From these incidents we should learn that the Lord is prepared to reciprocate our feelings and attitude towards Him. Not to speak of the Lord, even sages and scers can manifest outward signs of joy and sorrow in their worldly behaviour.

So far we have talked of Jivanmultas and those who have very nearly approached the stage of liberation. Resides these, there are pions Yorks who betake themselves to the Lord with an ulterior motife and who are led by various gods, as mentioned in the following complet of the paradise, and, having enjoyed the fruit of their the lunar effulgence b noble actions there, return to the mortal werld-

धूमो रात्रिसाया कृष्णः वष्मासा दक्षिणावनम्। तत्र बान्द्रममं ज्योतिषांनी प्राप्य निवर्गते ।

(FUL 25)

In former times there were Vocis who hid acquired the eightfold accomplishments (m or at least some of them. The knowled this science has now very nearly disappear As a matter of fact, mere acquisition of the Siddhis is not conducive of the highest for (Ginan), One can derive worldly enfoyments an amenities of life from such Siddhis but not loksa or liberation. That is why the Shittel we recognized these Siddhis as mere stumbling ocks in the path of liberation and instrumental ccuring earthly pleasures alone. The Yogis who life Siddhis generally do not go beyond them, cas the other class of Youls who trend the paid eration acquire Mokes which to the highest plishment. Hence they cank higher than

-What are the eight Suidhin hon ulred and what is their utility ? .- The eight Siddhie are Asima, One Laghims, Fragel, Prikamys, Hars bese are attained by full wind the eigh York, and their utility is no follows simil consists in making woods body as minute as an atom (any)as Sri Hanuman did while entering the portals of Lanka.

- (2) Garima consists in increasing the weight of one's body to abnormal limits as Lord Sri Krpa did during the encounter of Arjuna with Karpa, when He is said to have brought the charted along with the horses to the level of the earth under pressure of Hiš body as a device to dodge the deadly dart burled by Karpa against Arjuna, for whom He was acting as a charioteer.
- (3) Mabima consists in dwelling the sise of one's body at will as Lord Vamana did while trying to divest the demon king Bali of his kingdom.
 - (4) Laghima consists in making the body exceedingly light.
- (5) Prapti consists in securing the object of one's desire as the ange Bharadwaja did at the time of entertaining Bharata who was going to bring his elder brother back to Arodbya.
 - (6) Prakamya means infallibility of desire-
 - (7) Isitva consists in acquiring the power of creating the universe, similar to that rossessed by God.
 - (8) Valitya consists in winning over anyone through one's magnetic infinence.

possessing these powers are not to be found attempted by present day. Persons having acquired miner acceptable (which can be acquired by the praise absolute trathfulness, can be found even row.

Let a fact that whatever except the comes out to be a practiced absolute trathfulness, can be found even row.

Practices absolute trathfulness absolute trathfulness are a fact that whatever except the comes out to be small practices absolute trathfulness.

came to be true. These incidents prove that every wind that comes from the lips of a truthful man invariably comes out to be true. Of course, should such a truthful person ever tell a deliberate lie, that would not come true. Yudhişthira, for example, deliberately stated the fact of Aswatthama's death in a doubtful way, hence the latter did not die. But if one always speaks the truth, there can be no doubt about his words coming true.

We can also find such men in this age as have brought their mind and senses almost completely under control, who are never overcome by lust, who are never tempted to taste the daintiest dishes with which they may he served and who never gives way to anger and sorrow even in the presence of strong causes. But I have not yet had occasion to see a noble soul whose very sight, touch, speech or thought alone may redeem creatures. For instance, the very sight and utterances of the sage Narada redeemed millions of creatures, the teachings of Sri Sukadeva saved millions the very thought of Jivanmukta Acharyas succeeded in liberating several of their disciples and the sight, touch and teachings of $11 Chaitanya Mahaprabbu delivered thousands. Of course I can say this much that one can acquire such efficacy if he likes, as to redeem others by one's very sight, touch, speech and thought.

The Philosophy of Worship

The scriptures as well as the experience of , ls prove that the worshippers of both the Manilest and Unmanilest aspects of God can a salvation. Worshippers of the Manifest aspect also hehold His personal Form, whereas those w. worship His Unmanifest aspect are not able visualize Him, as they do not care to do so. Worship of the Manifest aspect of God comes to fruition speedily when it is accompanied by a Knowledge of His comprehensive nature. In other words, the worshipper should realize that the God whom he worships is omnipresent and omnipotent. A votary of Sive or Vispu, for instance, should not conceive his Deity to he present in the Image only and nowhere else. Such a narrow conception of God partakes of the Tamas element and has been deprecated in the GVI (vide Chapter XVIII. 22). This does not mess that one should not practise idol-worship, or that one who conceives his God as existing in the Image only and naively worships Him as such without comprehending His true nature should desist from hat worship. To engage in worshipolany kind wha peyer is better than no worship at all. Of course orship of this latter type, proceeding as it does m a narrow conception of God, hears fruit after a time. The only disadvantage it has is that it fruit after a long time, which is due to the fact the worshipper helittles his own God by ving Him as confined to a particular lange only.

० वर्षः इत्यापदेशमिन् धार्वे साध्यदित्वम् । नारावर्वराते च वधानमञ्ज्ञान् ॥

If a worshipper of fire who kindles fire for the of performing a sacrifice believes that fire is ed to that place alone and does not recognize resence elsewhere, he thereby minimizes its stance inasmuch as he circumscribes that which esent everywhere within narrow limits. On the r hand, he who comprehends the real nature of nows that it is present everywhere, though in a it form, which accounts for its invisibility; that perceived the moment it is kindled and it can sindled by ordinary effort. Had it been nonent elsewhere, how could it he produced there and everywhere? Just as fire, though the sacrificial pit present everywhere in a latent form. arly. God as well is equally present everywhere is unmanifest form and is visualized by the tee by dint of his love. It is the Unmanifest h becomes manifest in a particular place, and nanifest is present everywhere in an Unmanifest the two are really one, or, in other words, they he two aspects of one and the same entity. One worships the Manifest aspect of God while znizing this fundamental unity underlying the aspects is able to attain his goal speedily. As a er of fact. God cannot be likened to fire. The ogy of fire has been adopted only by way of tration; for fire is not omnipresent to the same nt as God. Five omnipresent substances cannot tist. Barth, water, fire, air, etc. subsist in their fespective forms: the main characteristic of earth odour, while that of fire is colour and so on. Go on the other hand, is omnipresent and the Suprem cause of all causes, and therefore and sists everywhere An effect can never be comprehensive, the cause alone is comprehensive. Praktii (Primordial Matter) is the cause of the universe, while

God is the cause of Praktii itself. Hence it is called the Supreme Cause (NOTEST). Prakțti which is inconscient can be the cause of the inconscient universe; it cannot be the cause of God who is a conscious Principle He alone is th Supreme cause of everything; He alone pervades sentient and insentient beings alike at all times.

He does not perish even when all else perishes. He is eternal and without a hegianing. The Unmanifest aspect of God is characterized all-existence (62), all-knowledge (Asm), infinite नित्त) and a compact mass of biliss (कानकार) er undergoes change, that which is immuta which is always uniform. Vijūana signit means that which never ceases to be m, pure coosciousoess and illumination. Anan s that which has no limit, no magnitude can neither be weighed nor measured, does not admit of extremes, which is the respective forms: the main characteristic of carth odour, while that of fire is colour and so on. Go on the other hand, is omnipresent and the Suprem. cause of all causes, and therefore subsists everywhere.

An effect can never be comprehensive, the cause alone is comprehensive, Praktti (Primordial Matter) is the cause of the universe, while God is the cause of Praktti itself. Hence it is called the Supreme Cause (accura). Praketl which is inconscient can be the cause of the inconscient universe; it cannot be the cause of God who is a conscious Principle lie alone is the Supreme cause of everything: He alone pervades senticut and insentient beings alike at all times. He does not perish even when all else perishes . He is eternal and wintout a neglining.

The Unmanifest aspect of God is characterized s all-existence (112), all-knowledge (fews), infinite men) and a compact mass of bliss (marra). means that which never cetter to be and er undergoes change, that which is lumutable which is always uniform. Vijana signifies om, pure consciousness and illustration. Ananta es that which has no limit, no misounde. can neither be weighed not meanired. does not admit of extremes, which is the * # # Ely #10 anifest forms of the Lord which are innumerablee manifests Himself in the same form in which devotee likes to see Him. The Lord is not dependent in the matter of assuming a particular rm: it is His loving devotee who is responsible r His manifestation. Ariuna, for example, Pressed a desire to behold His Universal form the first instance, then His celestial form idowed with four arms, and last of all His uman form with two arms only. The Blessed ord, in order to fulfil the desire of His beloved votce, appeared before him in all these forms occessively within a short time and also divulged bim the secret of His unmanifest aspect. In ils way the devotee can visualize Him in batever form he may be worshipping.

Hence it is not necessary to change the mo dworship. In whatever form we worthip lin, whether in that of Rama, Krapa, Vinn, 10x, Nrisinh, (Man-lion), Sakti, Gapeda or any ther form, the object of worship is the sell-same look. Nor is it necessary to make any alteration 1 the form of prayer. The only thing which quires to he changed is our conception of God, it is narrow. A devotee should always rememer that the God whom he worships pervades he whole universe, consisting of moving and notionless beings, in His numanifiest form: that ie is combicient and the overseer of all that is happening. He is all-wise, all-pervading, lab-virtuous, all-powerful, the witness of all, all-livituous, all-powerful, the witness of all, all-livituous, all-powerful, the witness of all, all-with anything else. His compactness analogous to that of stone or ice. These e penetrated by other substances; but God e be penetrated by anything else. The Self ("I ns is so subtle and compact that it canno penetrated by anything foreign. The body, mind, the intellect and so on can be entered in but the Self cannot. God in His nuiversal a unmanifest aspect is likewise impenetrable.

His consciousness, too, is of a singular type. Everything that exists in our body is inconscient, and the principle that knows them alone is conscious. That which is knowable is inconscient, objective: it cannot know the Sell. Hands and fect, for instance, know not the Selfthe Self, however, knows them. It is the Self that knows everything; knowledge is its very essence. That knowledge itself is God who is omnipresent. Every inch of space is occupied by Him. There is no nook or corner which is devoid of Him. That is why the Scuti describes Him as and stranged any Brahma (God) is Truth Absolute, Knowledge Absolute, and Infinite.

Attracted by the love of His devotces and with a view to redeeming them, the self-same with a manifests Itself as an embodied Being Braums and empodied Being and appears before them. It is something beyond he range of human intellect to describe the 198

परित्राणाय साधूनां विनाशाय च दुष्कृताम् । धर्मसंस्थापनार्याय संभवामि खरी युरो ॥

(Gua, IV 7-8)

"Arjana, whenever there is decline of righteoneness, and unrighteoneness is in the ascendant, then I body Myself forth.

"For the protection of the virtuous, for the destruction of evil-doers, and for establishing Dharma (righteensness) on a firm footing, I am born from age to age."

In this way the Lord who is imperishable and immutable, is born in this world of His own free will, attracted by the love of His levotees and with a view to redeeming the world. He is an embodiment of love: every activity of His is inspired by love and compassion. He delivers those whom He slavs. Even death at His hands is a token of His all-embracing love. But the ignorant world which does not realize the true significance of His mysterious incaroations and activities, entertaios all sorts of doubts about Him. The Lord says :-

जम्म कर्म य मे दिग्यमेवं यो धेलि सत्त्वतः । स्पत्रवा देई प्रवर्तन्म मैति मामेति सोक्ष्रेत ॥

(Otta, IV. 9)

"Arjana, My birth and activities are divine. He who knows this in reality does not take birth again on leaving his body, but attains Ma."

God Almighty who is truth, knowledge and bliss personified, is nuborn and imperishable. the ultimate goal and the supreme asylum of all beings; it is only with a view to the rehabilitaexistence, all-intelligence and Bliss personified It is He who assumes different forms and plays different soles as a mere sport in conformity with the desires of His devotees and with a view to redeeming them. God is never invisible to such souls who have understood His true nature, not does He ever lose sight of them. The Lord Himself has said in the Magazadeus ;-

यो मां वापति सर्वत्र सर्वं व मवि परपति ।

तसाई व मगर्यामि स थ में न मणस्यति ॥

"He who sees Me (the Universal Soil) "Me was see me (see universal bour, present in all beings, and see all beings present to all occupe, and sees all usings existing in Me, I am never out of sight of existing to the ever out of eight of Me."

There is no material difference between e Manifest and Unmanifest aspects of God, It the Unmanifest that becomes manifest. The

भजोऽपि सञ्जन्यवारमा सूनानामीकरोऽपि सन् । प्रकृति स्वामधिष्टाय संभवास्यारममायवा ॥

Though unborn and immortal, and also the Lord of all beings, I manufest Myself through My own Yogamaya (divine potency), keep. ng My Nature (Prakrti) under control." ne may ask, why does He take a body? er to this question is furnished by the uself in the following words:-दा यदा हि धर्मेल म्लानिभैवति मारसः ।

पुरवानमधर्मस्य सदारमानं स्त्रात्महस् ॥

interest or desire; they are free from all tinge of sin and all impurities. Hence they are called pure. No one can emulate His activities; even gods like Brahma and Indra are infatuated by His actions. He brings within the region of possibility even that which cannot be conceived by the world at large, that which is impossible. He sometimes accomplishes even that which is improbable. He transcends even Hyanmuktas (those who have been liberated from the teammets of hirth and death even during their life-time) and Karaka Purusas (representatives of God incarnated in the world like God Himself). Hence He is characterized as transcendent. His incarnations are pure in every respect. He manifests Himself by way of sport. He assumes a personal form which is an embodiment of love. Love constitutes His glorious form; hence those alone who are of a loving nature can recognize Him. Those fortunate beings who, having realized this truth, worship Him with love are blessed with a sight of the loving countenance of Him who is all-love. Hence we should surrender our all-body, mind, intellect, nay, our very soul -at His lotus-like feet and remain absorbed in His thought day and night. We should always remember His loving command and assurance-"Therefore, the your mind on Me, and establish your reason in Me alone; thereafter you will abide to Me. There is no doubt about 12.110

tion of the Divine Law and the deliverance the world that He takes a personal form throug so benevolent, so loving and such a reclaimer of the fallen as God. He alone who realizes this and vinded love, fares in this world free from earlightened soul never returns to this mottal world, this "take of teach."

He alone is truly blessed who has come to realize the divine (firm) nature of His incarnations and activities. The word 'Divya' la Sanskrit is variously tendered as 'transparent' (some), 'illuminating' (some), 'transcendental' malles), 'pure' (Rige) and so on. All these virtues na be predicated of the incarnation and activities the Lord. Stories of His activities gils tency in the world and impress every beart ry scread their lustre throughout the universe the hearts of even those who remember and them get purified and become transparent rrystal. Hence the activities of the Lord ermed as transparent (arres). The more te broideast the more effective they are elling the darkness of Isnorance, Where ploits of the Lord are recounted duly estmosphere Rets illumined by the roys of ge, end the darkness of sine and affice. appear. Hence it is that they are collect ing. The activities of the Lord, advin, ectated by any selfish motive or self.

on this point and would rather remain silent. This, however, does not mean that he does not really know God. For the Sruti says:—

नाई मन्ये सुबेदेति श्री न बेदेति थेइ च । यो नस्ट्रोइ तदेद नो न बेदेति थेद च ॥ यस्यामतं तस्य मर्ते मस्य न भेद सः । अविज्ञातं विज्ञानतां विज्ञातमविज्ञानतास्य॥

(Kenopanisad, IL 2.3)

"I do not believe that I know God fully nor that I do not know Him, since I know Him. Whoever of ns knows Him also knows that neither do I know nor do I know Him not.

"God has been thought out by him who takes Him as unthought out, whereas he who takes Him as thought out does not know Him. He is unknown to those who presume to know Him and is known to those who deep His knowledge."

Hence the position of an enlightened soul has been characterized as something indescribable (whirten), hence it is that both kinds of statements as indicated above are found in the Vedus, and it is for this very reason that enlightened souls do not admit their having attained Divline Knowledge Instead of offering their own remarks on the question, they simply refer the questioner to the verdict given on this point by the Vedus and other scriptures. They do not at the same time deay their boving attained spiritual wisdom.

It is hardly advisable even on the part of

Rarity of Divine Knowledge

It is not possible for an enlightened soul to tell in right earnest even those who look upon him with reverence that he is enlightened, for such an admission on the part of an enlightened soul would hetray his ignorance. As a matter of fact, one who has got full faith in him would never ask him whether he is enlightened or not. One who ask such a question should be regarded as facking io faith; nay, such a question would surely briog harm to the questioner. For, should the enlightened soul declare that he is not enlightened or if he admits that he is enlightened, the faith of the questioner would he shaken in either case. Really speaking, no enlightened sool can make either of these assertions. For, if he says he is not enlightened, he will be guilty of making a false statement; and, if he says he is, he would be admitting plurality and thus betraying his lack of wisdom. He would therefore reluse to make any statement whatsoer 204 place himself in the mental state which is held up to him as the ideal to be attained. Suppose some one has got the necessary amount of faith and credulity but nevertheless he does not reach the mental state he is expected to reach. It may be ureed in such cases that the blame does not lie with the asnisant. Ouite so: but at least this much is essential for the aspirant that he should have exclusive faith in one God, the one of whom he has heard from his Guru, and make up his mind to attain Him at all costs and not to rest content till he has done so. Just as one who is apprised of the existence of a treasure trove in his house through one who knows of it, is impatient to dig it out and if some outsiders happen to be there, he sincerely wishes them cone and is anxious to take the earliest Opportunity to obtain possession of the hidden treasure. similarly, a true aspirant is impatient to get rid of faults like attachment, ignorance, etc., which binder his spicitual progress, and is anxious to be brought face to face with God, who is his aupreme wealth, at the carliest moment. The more it is delayed the more impatient and restless he graws till he cannot brook any further delay. If an enlichtened soul admits before such an aspirant even in unequivocal terms that he is enlightened, no harm can come to the aspirant. But, if he does so before an aspirant of an inferior type or before one who does not fore religious beads and spiritual leaders of mankind, baving an exemplary conduct to make such disavowal inasmuch as it may lead their followers to despair of God-realization as something impossible of achievement. Suppose some one who is held in great esteem by the people today declares that he has not been able to realize God and that he himself bankers after that consummation, his followers will conclude that God-realization is something too high for them to attempt or hope to attalu, or they may be lead to believe that the assertion of the leader is either deliberate misstatement of facts or at best is intended to disguise the truth. Both these supposttions may lower the feader in their estimation and weaken their faith in him. Hence silence is the only advisable course in such cases. A careful consideration of all these facts proves that ad enlightened person can neither call bimsell wise or not wise. Notwithstanding all this, should such an enlightened soul, while administering spiritual knowledge to an aspirant to wisdom, essume himself to be wise in accordance with the latter's conception of himself and even call himsell such Just in order to elucidate the point. to birm can secrue from such a behaviour on his part Even such an assertion on his part is from the point of view of the aspirant only and he ma the loto confidence in such muttere only out who has implicit filth in him and is only our war, are empirical states in him and is supremely trivilous, any, who can estimilate the truth as seen as it is to तेशे निवासियकानी क्षेत्रक्षेत्रं बदास्यहम् ॥ 1 Gua. IX 22 1 "Those devotees, however, who knowing no one else constantly think of Ma. and worship Me in a disinterested way, to those aver united in thought with Me, I bring fall security and personally attend to their needs."

अपूर्वा अन्य का स्थाप करा विश्व प्रति ।

Even in our worldly affairs we find that : who solely depends on another is looked er in every way by the latter, just as a child so g as it is entirely dependent on its mother tared for and enarded egainst all dangers by : mother. So long as the child does not uttain stority and assert its independence, it is solely pendent on its parents; and so long as it pends on its parents the whole responsibility respect of it rests with the parents. Even so crything can be accomplished by solely depend-7 on God. Of course, the act of austender to be performed by the aspirant. Once be a surrendered himself to the Lord the latter sumes the whole responsibility in respect of m. Hence everyone who aspires after his delinet malfres must set a fine to Cod to err in his worldly dealings on account of intense mental exertion. But on reaching the fourth stage of God-realization one is not likely to commit such errors: one who has reached that stage efficiently discharges all his legitimate duties in the natural course as an automaton. without any conscious effort. The Lord has well said in the Gita .-

"He whose undertakings are all free from desire and thoughts of the world, and whose actions are burnt up by the fire of wisdom, him even the wise call a sage.". Even in the fifth stage of 'illumination' one is likely to err in his worldly dealings. with this difference that whereas the mood of the practicant in the third plane is acquired, that of the practicant in this plane is spontaneous. The third stage is followed by 'realization', which is only another name of liberation (gft). The followers of certain faiths and creeds such as fainism, etc. believe in salvation after death only; but our Vedanta admits the possibility of attaining salvation even during one's life-time. Saving knowledge or enlightenment can he acquired even before death. The distinct personality of one who has attained this state as well as the actions proceeding therefrom exist only in the eyes of verdict of intellect, reached through analytical reasoning, declaring the world to be merrir conceptual or ideal. There is a stage in the life of a practicant when such a thing happens. The practicant describes such a mood by saying that the world is a mere idea according to the verdict of his reason. Latter on, when the mind also accepts the verdict of reason, the practicant begins to look upon the world as a mere idea-But even now the practicant only conceives the world to he ideal; he does not realite it as such. Subsequently, when, as a result of continued mental practice, he actually begins to perceive the world as conceptual, the world appears to him sometimes as a shadow, while at other times it ceases to appear even as a shadow. Inst as one, who due to defective vision, erceives threadlike streaks of golden light in he sky where there are none is cognizent of e fact that there is no such object in the y and that the streaks only appear without y corresponding reality, even so it makes no ference to such a practicant whether the eld appears to him as a mere shadow or s not appear at all. At no time and in no e does the world appear to him as real. h. a stage in the life of a sprietleint has n designated as entfere fefte, (the actual stage experience L This is known as the third e of 'wisdom'; but even in this store the eirer or experiencer of such a stigs persists. -colount who has reached this stage is not longer be called a Jiva after enlightenment. It on the other hand, we upply the epithet wise to the Pure Ego, the statement would he equally preposterous, as the Pure Ego was never unwise. Hence it cannot he definitely sated as to who is wise.

The concept of an enlightened soul exists in the mind of a person who has not yet , reached the stage of enlightenment; in eyes at the Pure Ego none else exists. enlightened soul has no objective vision : how, then, can the world exist for him? Only those who are yet far from enlightenment imagine that the soul inhabiting a particular hody has merged into the Universal spirit; that the portion of the Universal Ego which has the mind superimposed on it, along with the mind, is termed as the enlightened soul. Who in reality receives the epithet 'enlightened' mobody can say with the help of his speech, for in the eyes of an enlightened Soul enlightenment itself does not exist. The terms 'enlightened' and 'unenlightened' exist only for the edification of the world and the concept of enlightenment also resides in the mind of anenlightened souls only. Similar is the value of attempts made at defining the term Constitu (one who has transcended the range of the three Gnuss or attributes). As a matter of fact, how can any distinguishing traits (034) exist in one who has transcended the three Gonas Such distinguishing others. There is us individual ego left to identify itself with them. It may be asked here as to how activity is possible in an organism without the presence of a conscious agent or doer. In reply to this it is stated that the Universal Ruo (धनवित्रत) is present there all the same; the Ego which identified itself with a part has now expanded itself and embraced the whole-merged itself into the pure Ego And the motive power for activity is supplied by this pure Ego without any obstruction or bindrance It may be further objected that the Universil or Pure Ego is present in dead bodies and inert matter as well: why, then, is there no netivity in the latter? Our reply to this is that want of the inner sense or faculty (sente) is responsible for the absence of activity in dead bidies and inmimate objects. Should a Yogl be able to multiply his Chitta (mind) and introduce it into n dead body or inanimate object, activity can be infused into such a body or object as well.

Now, if one asks who receives enlighterment (477), we find no answer to this question if the body is said to be illumined, the statement would not be compatible with reason; for it is not possible for a physical body to get splitfully illumined. If the Jiva (Individual Ego) be called enlightened, the atatement would be equally inco out; for Ego can no

The very fact of the mind being free from attachment and aversion (user), delight and sucrow (view) and such other pairs of opposites proves that there is no ego identifying itself with the mind. Had the Universal Ego ben tied with the mind, it would have been possible for the latter to manifest evil propensities like attachment and aversion and so on. But the Universal Ego is never tied with the mind. All these distinguishing staits, too, persist only so long as the world continues to make its impression upon our mind, and these are ideal traits to be imbibled by the practicant. Hence it is that they find mention in the Sateras.

The real position of a Gunatita can neither he understood nor described by anyone else: it can only be felt by those who have attained that position. Should anyone apply the tests to himself with a view to satisfying himself whether he answers such tests or not he should be understood as devoid of wisdom. The very fact that he is in search of distinguishing traits proves that he is tied to the body, that he still maintains his distinctiveness from Brahma, otherwise there can be no separate investigator nor can be maintain a distinct position. Again, if he is keen on discovering such traits when should be seek for them in a particular body alone? What prevents him from seeking for them in rocks and trees? The fact that he traite inhete in the mind and every function of the mind is of the nature of the three Gupas. The fact is that recourse is taken to the method of marking out the distinctive nature of the functions of the mind of a Gupatita in order to understand what is meant by the term Science Respondent characterizes a Gupatita than:—

"Arjaus, he who feels no aversion to light { which is born of Sativa} or activity { which is born of Eativa} or scitrity { which is born of Eativa} or support which is born of Tames], when they are present and does not long for them when they are absent."

The ford has further discussed the characteristics of a Grapatita in the succeeding verses, viz. verses 23, 14 and 25 also. In the verse reproduced above the word light' (ward) should be taken to mean transparency of mind and the cognitive senses, activity (will should be construed to mean voluntary effort (Nr), and 'stupor' (Nr) should be interpreted as the tendency to sleep, lethargy or (was in the tendency to sleep, lethargy or (was in the construed of the continuation of the co

